Tecumseh Blacked Out As Ice Storm Strikes

Power and Communication Systems Crippled; Damage In Thousands

"It was the worst ice storm in my 45-years of experience with the local power company," was the way S. Henry Smith, manager of Consumers Power Company here, summed up the sleet storm of New Year's Day that isolated Tecumseh from even near-by points by telephone and for nearly 24 hours disrupted electrical service to the point that a majority of homes were without light or heat.

"There was just one thing in our favor," Mr. Smith said, "and that was that we did not get the high wind that was forecast by the Weather Man. "Had the predicted 45-mile gale hit this section it would have torn down trees and wires to such an extent that repairs might have taken weeks to accomplish."

The storm started New Year's Eve with a fog-like mist that seemed at first to be of no consequence. However, the mist turned into a light rain that froze as it fell and by New Year's morning highways, trees and wires were coated and all out-of-doors appeared to be an icy wonderland. Throughout New Years' Day the mist continued and about 6 o'clock in the eveing many trees could no longer carry their icy burden and limbs began to crash, tearing down electrical and telephone wires.

First trees in Tecumseh to crash were in the Kilbuck section at about 6:10 in the evening. Local Consumers repair crews attempted to keep lines leading from the main sub-station near the Products plant in operation but fuses blew out almost as quickly as they were replaced. There were loud explosions as the fuses let go and flashes of electricity sighted the sky like lightning. About 8 o'clock it was believed that temporary repairs had been made in the Kilbuck section but it took only 15 more minutes of the icy weather to completely darken the community as limbs and wires continued to tumble.

It was then that Mr. Smith appealed to the division offices of Consumers at Jackson for assistance and crews were rushed here from Owosso, Lansing, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Hastings and Pontiac, in all some 68 men. The first of these outside repairmen arrived about 3 o'clock Friday morning.

As a result of the snapping of wires many homes with oil burners or stokers were without heat, persons dependant upon electricity for cooking found that neighbors and restaurants were their only source of warm food, and owners of well-stocked refrigerators and deep freeze lockers had added worries.

"The fellow with a hand-fed furnace and a kerosene stove or a camp stove in his kitchen was very popular on Friday," one resident observed. "One of my neighbors kidded me for a long time about my old-fashioned furnace, but I notice that he was glad I had it," another resident confided. Others, with furnace heat and electric stoves cooked their meals in the furnace or in a fireplace.

Mr. Smith said that Tecumseh hospital was without electrical service for only a short time, and likewise the downtown area was lighted as quickly as it could be sectionalized from other parts of the town. Friday morning, new lines were run to the waterworks station which, throughout the night, had been operating on auxiliary pumps with gasoline engines.

Consumers repairmen worked throughout Thursday night and all day Friday and about 4:30 in the afteroon power was restored to the south and west sections of the village. An hour or two later other areas were restored. There were a few isolated cases, it was said, that were without power for a few hours longer.

"The storm was far worse than the one that hit this section in March of 1939," Mr. Smith said, and it seems, from reports that I have received, that Tecumseh and the local area were hardest hit." Of course, most of Lenawee county was affected, and in the vicinity of Erie there was terrific ice damage.

Mr. Smith said today that he believes that most of the damage done here has been repaired, at least temporarily. As quickly as weather conditions will permit, permanent repairs needed will be made.

There still remains a vast amount of work to be done in rural areas served by Consumers, but for the most part main lines are in operation. Some individual customers, however, are still waiting for service. There are many poles down and these must be replaced. Wire stretched by the ice weight also must be tightened or replaced.

Ernest Green, manager of the Michigan Associated Telephone Co., estimated that 300 telephones in Tecumseh were out of order on Friday and Saturday as a result of the storm. For a time, he said, Tecumseh was without a single toll circuit to other towns and cities. Rural lines, he said, are in a badly damaged condition and for the most part are out of service for the present time. On Tuesday it still was impossible to call Clinton, Britton, or Tipton and the only way that Adrian could be reached was via Detroit in emergency. Yesterday, Tecumseh had three toll lines in Detroit, one to Ann Arbor and one to Dundee. It was hoped that the Adrian service might be restored this week end.

Michigan Associated also rushed crews to Tecumseh to aid in repairs, these men coming from Imlay City, Hart, Sturgis, Grand Ledge and Coldwater.

Mr. Green said that he hoped to have local repairs completed by the end of the week, unless there is more inclement weather.

Motor traffic on the highways was slowed to a snail's pace as a result of the storm and many folk away from home over the holiday found themselves marooned until the week end. Tons and tons of sand and chloride were used by the county highway department to keep trunk lines in a passable condition, and snow plows were kept in constant operation.

Reports from police and sheriff's departments show that there was not a single fatal accident during the storm.

"We, here in Tecumseh, were fortunate, too," Mr. Smith said. "There were many hot, high tension lines down in the streets, spitting fire and shooting flames, but no one was injured."

Thanks Given And Returned

VILLAGE SAYS CONSUMERS DID GRAND JOB; POWER COMPANY IS GRATEFUL, TOO

Tecumseh made a rapid electrical recovery from the sleet storm of New Year's Day only because Consumers Power Company rushed some 16 crews of 68 men to the Village to augment the local repair division in doing a job that last Friday morning appeared to be almost hopeless. As a result of their efforts, most of the Village had electrical current on Friday night and, barring further destruction by the elements, Consumers hopes to have permanent repairs completed here this week.

For this speedy work residents of the Village are saying "Thank You" to the Consumers Company but the feeling of gratitude is not all one-sided.

S. Henry Smith, local manager, said that Consumers is grateful, too, to residents who offered rooms and other accommodations to the men who were rushed here and who, after long hours of work, were tired and needed sleep. Many residents called Mr. Smith and offered to care for the linemen and in not one instance, the manager said, was the company refused accommodations when private homes were called and rooms solicited.

"I'd like to say thank you, too," Mr. Smith said, "for the excellent reception accorded our men. Many of them were a long way from home and they did work hard to put Tecumseh back to a more normal condition. Our company is very grateful."

Crews of workmen were in Tecumseh from Owosso, Lansing, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Hastings and Pontiac.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

The Farm Bureau will meet Monday evening, January 12, with Mr. and Mrs. W L. Becker.

School's Driving Course Gets Under Way

The art of driving an automobile —something about safety, the car's operation and what makes it "tick", and what to do under certain conditions on the highway—all of these things and many more will be taught in a special course now being offered in the Tecumseh Public Schools under the direction of David Dick, it was announced today by W. L. Berkhof, superintendent.

The new course is sponsored by the American Automobile Association, the State Safety Council, the Michigan Department of Public Instruction and the local board of education, in cooperation with Butler Motor Sales, local Ford dealers, who are furnishing the dual-control car to be used in the teaching of the course and which is pictured above.

"The actual instruction in the course started this week," Mr. Berkhof said, "and it will continue throughout the year. There are 36 class periods of study and 36 class periods in the car, during which time eight hours must be spent behind the wheel by each student. One-half credit unit is given for the course, and the students who complete the course successfully are eligible for a Michigan automobile operator's license."

The class here is limited to 16 persons and is already filled. The school is particularly anxious to instruct students who find it necessary to drive to and from school, many of them living in the country. To qualify a student must be at least 14 years of age. Either boys or girls are eligible.

Mr. Dick recently returned from Bay City where for a week he attended a school of instuction for those who will teach the course throughout Michigan.

Mr. Berkhof said that the state department of education is very interested in the program and believes that it is of vital importance that young drivers be well versed in the rules of safety and car operation when they get behind the wheel.

Night School Begins Monday

DOZEN COURSES WILL BE OFFERED IN PROGRAM SPONSORED BY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Night school classes in the Adult Education Department of Tecumseh Public Schools will get under way on Monday evening, January 12, at 7 o'clock, W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, announced today. The first meeting will be given over to class selection and organization.

No classes will be offered unless there are at least eight enrolled and a fee of $2 per course will be charged. Classes will meet each Monday evening at 7 and 8:30.

Suggested courses to be offered are:

Fun in the gymnasium, household mechanics, typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, literature appreciation, effective English, French, agriculture, speech, antiques and mathematics.

Considerable interest has been shown in a course dealing with today's national problems. If there is sufficient interest, it is expected that the motion picture approach will be used in teaching this subject. After a picture on a particular subject has been shown, discussion will follow with the points brought out in the movie being used as a partial basis for discussion. Because of the complex national and international situation today, it is believed that such a course will be very attractive to local adults.

It is hoped that a series of meetings on home and family relations soon may be held, perhaps in March or April.

Persons interested in any of the proposed courses are urged to attend Monday's meeeing at the high school that they may register for as many classes as they desire.

Hospital Buys New X-Ray Unit

MACHINE IS FIVE TIMES AS LARGE AS ONE NOW IN OPERATION HERE

Purchase of a new X-ray machine for Tecumseh Hospital was approved by the Village Council Monday evening, at the request of E. M. Campbell, president of the hospital board. The new machine, which is to be installed this week, will cost $4,773.

The new X-ray is approximately five times as large as the one now in use, Mr. Campbell said. It will enable the hospital to offer some X-ray therapy and also to take pictures of all parts of the body. The old machine, he said, would in the future be used as a fluroscope.

Under charter regulations, capital expenditures at the hospital in sums over $25 must be approved by the council. However, Mr. Campbell told the Council that there are sufficient funds in the hospital account to more than meet the X-ray machine expense.

Proctor Pace was issued a one-year license to operate a taxicab here, and the licenses of D. B. Barrow and H. W. Knox for a similar purpose were rescinded.

Current bills were audited and ordered paid and reports of committees and department heads were read and placed on file.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Tecumseh Garden Club met at the home of Mrs C. D. Branigin last week Tuesday afternoon for the annual Christmas tea. Mrs. Burtsel Claus gave a reading of the Christmas Story. Mrs. Hannah Ford and Mrs. L. W. Larsen presided at the urns. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Neil Pearson and Mrs. Charle Kempf.

The girls, winners of the local honors, are Marian Pennington of Tecumseh, Rosemary Gilmore of Britton, and Argyro Caristianos of Clinton.

The three girls were chosen for the honors by the members of the high school senior classes of the three schools and the selections were in turn confirmed by the schools' faculties. Awards are based on general good citizenship, dependability, service and patriotism. The winner of the state contest will be sent to Washington, D. C. to participate in the competition for national honors.

396 Births, 88 Deaths In Tecumseh In 1947

Births far exceeded death in the Village of Tecumseh during the year 1947, according to records in the office of Wade L. Jones, clerk.

During the 12 months of the old year, there were 396 births in the Village, a vast majority of that number in Tecumseh Hospital. During the same period, the records show that there were only 88 deaths.

Parking Meters Are Now In Use

ONE-HOUR PARKING FOR FIVE CENTS NOW IS THE LAW IN BUSINESS AREA

Parking meters, some 85 of them in the business district of Tecumseh, are now in operation and the recently enacted ordinance governing the parking of cars in the downtown section is now in effect, John C. Truesdale, village president, said today.

The new meter ordinance provides not only for the "metered" parking of cars, but parallel parking as well. The meters, of the one-hour type, permit the parking of cars for 12 minutes for one cent, 24 minutes for two cents and so on up to five cents per hour. The machines will not permit the deposit of more than five cents at any one time.

According to village officials, the installation of the meters is being received with mixed opinions, but a majority of the folk seem to favor their operation.

"I heard one rural resident on Monday morning say that he was very much pleased to think that he could find a spot to park his car near a grocery store. It was the first time in weeks, he said, that such parking had been possible. He was happy to pay his nickel," one member of the Council said.

But regardless of public opinion, metered parking became next to mandatory here when the Michigan Department of Public Safety insisted that the diagonal parking of cars on M-50-52, Tecumseh's main streets, be discontinued. With parallel parking the village held that some action should be taken to keep cars "on the move" if all shoppers were to be accommodated. The meter system finally was adopted.

The meters have been placed for about a week but it was not until last Friday and Saturday that police began to urge their use. In the week that the meters were on the posts but not in use the village collected some $45 in "donations" by parking motorists who were not certain about the enforcement of the law and, to be on the safe side, made a deposit anyway.

All of the meter money is turned over to the village clerk and is counted in his office. A new counting machine, that separates the nickels from the pennies and wraps them, has been purchased by the village. It probably will be necessary for police to empty the meters two or three times weekly.

The new ordinance provides $1 penalty for those who overpark their metered time. However, the $1 must be paid within 48 hours after the violation occurs to the village clerk. Otherwise, a warrant is issued and the violator must be taken into court for the imposition of sentence.

Blood Bank To Visit Tecumseh

200 DONORS OF BLOOD NEEDED; HOSPITAL AUXILIARY APPEALS FOR ASSISTANCE

A minimum of 200 volunteer blood donors in Tecumseh and vicinity is being recruited this week by the Tecumseh Hospital Auxiliary for participation in the local civilian blood donor collection to be held here January 15-16, at the Methodist Church parlors.

All donated blood, used by local hospitals for the sick and injured, will be processed into plasma by laboratories of the Michigan Department of Health. Plasma will be distributed through Tecumseh Hospital for the treatment of burns, accidents, and post-childbirth and post-surgical shock.

All Tecumseh men and women between the ages of 18 and 50 who are in good health are being urged to register immediately to obtain appointments at the time most convenient to them.

Mrs. G. A. Rathbun, chairman of the civilian blood donor committee, pointed out today that the civilian clinic to be held here is "a logical outgrowth" of the Red Cross experience in collecting 13,350,000 pints of civilian blood for plasma during the war.

"It is in keeping with the humanitarian ideals by which the Red Cross lives and flourishes for the knowledge that saved so many, the knowledge tha saved so many thousands of lives during the war," the chairman pointed out. "The most modern medical knowledge, learned in the hard school of war necessity, is now available through the use of plasma to civilians, many of whom contributed pint after pint of blood to the war effort."

Mrs. Rathbun said the donors at the clinic here will spend less than one-half hour at the clinic and will suffer no pain nor harmful after-effects.

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce placed its endorsement on the Auxiliary's blood bank program and urged residents to cooperate to the fullest extent.

"I have contacted the chairman of the retail committee, Leon E. Mix, and industrial committee, LeRoy Titley, and both of these men were whole-hearted in their support of the movement," Ronald

"NO PLACE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE"

The avowed purpose of socialism is to equitably distribute a nation's wealth. What it actually does is to spread the poverty. And, in the process, it does an extremely effective job of destroying incentive, opportunity, and ambition, as well as wealth.

An illuminating example of that is found in a recent editorial in the Portland Oregonian. Some time ago the Oregonian's circulation manager carried on a correspondence with a printer in Dorset, England, and sent him a number of the paper's big Sunday issues. Now, the printer writes, he and his family have decided to emigrate to Oregon. They plan to come in January, even though he has no assurance of finding a job and will be confronted by a severe housing shortage when he reaches his new home. His reason for making so long and difficult a move is stated in this paragraph: "England today is no place for young people such as mine, who are ambitions. The days of private enterprise over here are numbered. Frustration and inertia have come in with a rush, and everyone emulates Mr. Micawber, just 'waiting for something to turn up.' It is a sorry picture, and not all due to the war. We shall be glad to pull out."

That simple declaration goes straight to the heart of Britain's decay, and cuts deeper than reams of statistics and volumes of economic theory. Socialism means the triumph of the bureaucrat. It means that all the energies and resources of the nation become the property of the politicians in power. It means that the poor, no less than the rich, are getting poorer. Worst of all, it means that the individual spirit and drive which created an empire on which the sun never set is rapidly being throttled by death.

So the printer from Dorset is bringing his family to a nation where free enterprise still exists, and opportunity is open to all. Other English men and women are emigrating by the thousands to Canada and elsewhere. They love the soil of England still, but they cannot bear to watch the disintegration of the qualities that made her great.

The duty of the American people is to maintain a nation and a political system which will not tolerate the political forces that are destroying England.

Lansing— Governor Kim Sigler's appointment of Joseph W. Sanford, Warden of the United States Penitentiary at Atlanta for the past nine years, to be Michigan commissioner of corrections at a pledged salary of $12,000 a year is regarded at the State Capitol as a "ten-strike" for the Sigler theory of centralized authority and responsibility.

Sanford is to take over the job February 1. He succeeds a five-man commission, members of which donated their services as civic duty. The commission was replaced by an appointive commissioner, subject to the will of the Governor and the State Senate.

It is the Governor's belief that direction of governmental bureaus and departments through boards and commissions has the tendency of taking government away from the people. He would like to see the governor given authority to appoint or fire the directors of bureaus and departments and to have these appointments subject to confirmation by a branch of the state legislature, the State Senate.

That the Governor has acted wisely in his first test — that of getting a competent man to run the state's correction and penal system — appears to be conceded by everyone. Mr. Sanford's experience in managing the federal prison at Atlanta is regarded as ample qualification for the Michigan responsibilities. Governor Sigler refers to this experience as "your long and distinguished career in penology."

In a directive to Mr. Sanford, Governor Sigler presented his credo. Here are some highlights:

"First of all, the prisons and reformatory must be operated in accordance with as high standards of honesty as can be achieved." No favoritism to prisoners. Need for "good morale" and its counter part, "granting undue privileges and other forms of favoritism to preferred prisoners, especially those with political or other influence."

"Accepted principles of sound business management" should be applied to operation of the prison industries. "Emphasis must always be placed on proper diversification of industries to prevent unfair competition with free industry and to provide the widest possible variety of practical vocational training for the prisoners."

"The department has an obligation to lessen the burden on the taxpayer by employing prisoners in productive enterprises."

Austin H. MacCormick, national penologist, was engaged by the Governor to serve as a consultant for the reorganization. Mr. MacCormick's recommendations played an important part in the Governor's decision to appoint Mr. Sanford to the new post. They included the following:

That the commissioner's salary be increased from $10,000 to $12,000; that the commissioner and directors be appointed to terms of four to six years, preferably the latter, in order to assure greater security in tenure; that a "youth division" be created to "devise, organize and supervise programs for the more effective training, and treatment of youthful offenders, particularly the 17-21 age group"; that the state establish a reception and medical center where newly convicted offenders would go prior to their prison commitment.

If the Sanford appointment, directives and recommendations are any test of the Sigler principle for centralized authority, judgment to date may be summed up about as follows: "So far, so good."

Thad's Feet Hurt

After a long, hard day's work on the farm, Thad's idea of how to spend an evening is to take off his shoes, and relax with a mellow glass of beer.

But his missus has other ideas. After being in the house all day, she's all for walking to the village, if it's only for a soda. Likes to see people, catch the latest gossip. But Thad says, no, his feet hurt! Began to cause unpleasantness in Thad's home.

Then Bill Webster comes up with an idea. If Thad takes the missus to Andy's Garden Tavern, Thad can relax with his glass of beer, and the missus can also chat with all the neighbors there. Each gets his (or her) own way.

Worked, too! In fact, now the missus likes an occasional temperate glass of beer herself. And Thad finds it's pleasanter to enjoy his beer with good companions, rather than alone. In fact, his feet stopped hurting too!

Expect Sigler Will Run Again

MIXTURE OF POLITICS AND INFLATION MAY PROVE EXPLOSIVE IN ELECTION YEAR

By Gene Alleman
(Special To The Herald)

Lansing—As viewed at the state capitol, the 1948 Michigan parade of events and personalities should be especially interesting.

Here are some highlight impressions and observations, as we see them:

The new year will bring a campaign year. That means politics. And politics plus more inflation may prove to be an explosive and confusing combination.

Governor Kim Sigler, despite his hilfious remark about the "crummiest job in the country", is expected to toss his hat, cowboy-style, into the political ring for renomination and re-election. And so will Senator Homer Ferguson. Republican leaders are a bit cocky. The community property tax law, benefiting big taxpayers, should help to sweeten the kitty for party contributions.

Democrats profess to be broke and are feuding and fussing. Leadership has waned considerably since Murray D. "Pat" Van Wagoner left the highway department. It has never been quite the same!

The state legislature will meet in special session next March. State budgets are on an annual basis now. Budget Director John Perkins is influencing many decisions of Governor Sigler with respect to proposed reforms.

Inflation again will provide the key to much of the legislature's actions. State Treasurer D. Hale Brake still persists that new taxes are inevitable if Michigan is to set its house to order under the crippling sales tax diversion amendment. As 1948 brings the biennial election of state senators and state representatives, new taxes have less than an even chance of being enacted. The administration strategy may be to concentrate upon a constitutional convention as the quickest method of eliminating the bothersome sales tax amendment.

January will bring the much awaited report of Michigan highway inventory. A similar study in California led to a whopping big bond issue. Road builders warn of impending collapse of the state's road system "unless". Inflation has boosted road building costs. More money is needed, it is said.

Sportsmen are still wondering what Governor Sigler had in mind when he referred to the conservation department as a kingdom unto itself, beyond control of the governor's office, and hence an illustration of why the governor is a mere "glorified clerk". Fears that the governor might attempt to appoint the department's director, whom he does not like, prompted a statement that the governor did not have this department in mind; he merely used it as an example.

Reorganization of the department's administrative set-up, however, may take some of the pressure off P. J. Hoffmaster, top man.

Issues of the November election are likely to include these: Shall Michigan get an entirely new constitution through a state convention? Shall Michigan repeal the controversial sales tax amendment? As we see it, opposition to a constitutional convention will be formidable. Reasons: People who do not want a state income tax; teachers who favor the sales tax diversion amendment; road builders and oil companies who joined hands to put over the amendment barring diversion of highway-user taxes.

Harris, secretary, said today. "The blood bank is an important fuction locally and may mean the saving of many lives. Those of us who can afford to give blood to this cause will be meeting a civic duty," Mr. Harris declared.

Clubs and organizations may make group registrations for the clinic, and the registrations can be made by telephoning 368. In all cases, the chairman said, the Auxiliary will notify the donor of the appointment time and will give any further information necessary.

Nonmedical and nontechnical personnel at the clinic will be provided by members of the Auxiliary. Clinic sessions are to be held from 3:00 to 4:30 and 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, January 15 9:30 to 11:00 am. and 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Friday, January 16. Those giving blood are cautioned to refrain from eating all fats or fatty foods for four hours preceding their clinic appointments and to eat lightly if a meal is taken immediately before the appointment. After the blood is taken, donors are served appropriate food by volunteers.

To be acceptable as a registrant, donors must weigh at least 115 pounds and must have no acute illnesses nor histories of recent serious illnesses or operations. Only those who can safely give a pint of blood are accepted by the physician and nurse attached to the mobile bleeding unit which handles the collections of blood.

Plasma is not sold. It is made available to local patients who need it. The only fee is that allowed to be charged by the hospital for plasma's administration costs. If commercial plasma were to be used the cost would be $35 a unit, it was said.

A few selections were sung by the group.

Dial Phones Seen In Future

CHANGE IN LOCAL SYSTEM SOME YEARS AWAY; NEW PHONE DIRECTORY

Dial telephones for Tecumseh are foreseen by the Michigan Associated Telephone Company in the not-too-distant future, perhaps soon after 1950, H. R. Christianson, vice-president and general manager of the company revealed last week when, in a conference with officers of the Chamber of Commerce, he revealed some of Associated's plans for this village in the years to come.

Mr. Christianson, and R. C. Putman, commercial superintendent, both of Muskegon, W. G. Treloar, district manager, of Coldwater, and Ernest Green, local manager, met with Chamber officers to discuss proposed changes in the Tecumseh telephone directory. The new book will be off the presses in the Spring.

The Associated company had proposed to list all subscribers in the new directory alphabetically regardless of where they lived. The local phone book combines Blissfield, Dundee, Erie, Ida, Maybee, Saline, Temperance and Tecumseh. Such a listing would mean that all of the "Smiths" in the eight communities would be listed alphabetically under the "S" division instead of under town listings as is now done. The Chamber here protested to such a plan on the grounds that it would be confusing and difficult to use.

Mr. Christianson declared that his company desired to issue a book both usable and satisfactory to its exchange subscribers and he agreed that the proposed company policy in this area would be abandoned and that the new book would continue to list subscribers under the several towns as had previous books.

However, there will be two changes in the new directory. All advertising on the cover and on the several pages throughout the book will be discontinued, and all black-face listings of business firms will be missing. The only advertising permitted in the new book will be in the so-called "yellow pages" at the back of the directory.

Officers Are Installed By Nomads Of Avrudaka

The Nomads of Avrudaka held an installation service Friday evening following the regular meeting. Lorne Kennedy was transferred from Detroit to El Misti Santha.

Some 50 guests attended the installation. The imperial deputy, Margaret Kempf, as the installing officer, was assisted by first marshal, Henry Kempf, second marshal, Alta Thompson, and installing Saman, Catherine Wilson. Officers installed were: Rani, Jean Hall; Rajah, Alfred Beckman; Princess, Ruth Vincent; Rindita, Virginia Gieske; Treasurer, Lela Wood; Scribe, Margaret Swift; Purohita, by proxy; Rishi, Ellen Ireland; second Warder, Esther Beckman; first Warder, Rella Kring; Director of Work, Silas Kring, sr.; Saman, by proxy.

The newly installed Rani was presented with the gavel and the installing officers retired. The Rani presented pins to the retiring Rani, Margaret Kempf, and Rajah Clayton Greenwald, from the Santha. The Rani and Rajah addressed the group and guests were introduced. Margaret Kempf presented a silk flag to the Santha and gave all her officers gifts and rhyming "Thanks". The Santha officers also gave the Rani and Rajah gifts. Refreshments were served. Guests attended from Adrian, Ypsilanti and Tecumseh.

St. Peter's Parish To Hold Annual Meeting

The regular meeting of the members of St. Peter's Episcopal church for the annual election of officers and other business matters will be held in the parish house next Monday evening. Beginning with a potluck supper at 6:45 p.m., the members of the church will open the business session at 8 o'clock. Four vestrymen are to be elected to fill vacancies caused by the retirement of Lester Rogers, Perry Satterthwaite, Glenn Driscoll and Fred Hadley. Each year four retiring vestrymen become ineligible for reelection until one year has passed. George McCombs, treasurer of the church, will give the annual financial report and present the budget for 1948 to be adopted. The Rev. Allan L. Ramsay, rector, will give a report on the state of the parish and parish organizations will give brief reports on the work done in 1947. Delegates to the 115th Diocesan Convention will be elected to represent St. Peter's at the meeting in Detroit on January 28, 29.

GUESTS AT CHURCH

Members of the Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges from three counties will be guests at the morning service at the Baptist church Sunday, January 18.

Sunrise Service Founder Guest of Service Clubs

Dr. Albert W. Luce, founder of the Easter Sunrise Service in the Garden of the Gods at Colorado Springs, Colorado, a cousin of Mr. Ellsworth Collins, presented travelogues at the Exchange and Rotary Service clubs at their meetings at Brees House this week. "America the Beautiful" and wild birds and animals, and "Nature's Art Gallery" of Bryce Canyon were shown in striking technicolored movies, which Dr. Luce had "shot" last August. Dr. Luce spent his boyhood days in Detroit, but has lived in Colorado Springs for the past 31 years where he has been a minister of the Central Christian church. He is the author of "Wandering in Wonderland," "Colorful Colorado," and "God in Nature." The latter is used as a text book in the summer conferences of his church in this country, Canada and in many foreign countries where his church is represented on the missionary field.

Colored movies are his hobby, and he spent part of Tuesday, taking some shots of the magic wonderland of Tecumseh's "treasures of snow." So impressed has he been with what he calls "Michigan, my Michigan" that he stated he intends to come back at the autumn season to hunt with his movies the marvels of Michigan scenery, so colorfully displayed at any season of the year, but especially when nature raises its curtain upon its annual autumn show. Eastman used one of Dr. Luce's colorful snow sets over Pikes Peak, which was reproduced in their April issue '47 magazine which is sent to all Eastman dealers in the world. Dr. Luce is presenting his movies in many states as well as in Detroit, Tecumseh and other parts of Michigan. He stated at the Rotary meeting Tuesday night that Michigan's blue skies, which he saw in two tints during last Tuesday's glorious winter, with the contrasting wizardy of the snow crystals equalled anything he has ever seen in "America the Beautiful."

PRAYER FOR THE NEW YEAR
By A. S. G. Clarke

Bless Thou this year, O Lord!
Make rich its days With Health and work and prayer and praise,
And helpful ministry To needy folk. Speak Thy soft word In cloudy Days;
Nor let us think ourselves forgot When common lot
Of sorrow hems us round.
Let generous impulse shame the niggard dole that dwarfs the soul.
May no one fail his share of work through selfish thought;
Each day fulfill Thy holy will in yielded lives,
And still the tumult of desires debased.
May faith, and hope, and love increase.
Bless Thou this year, O Lord.

MICHIGAN'S COMPENSATION ACT CHANGED

If You Work, You'll Be Interested

This is the second of a series of articles outlining the changes in the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act's administration, which became effective January 1, 1948.

Nearly 2,000,000 Michigan workers who have jobs in or are laid off from "covered" employing establishments in Michigan are affected by the provisions of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act, and its administration, according to James F. Moore, executive director, MUCC.

Widespread changes in the Act have been designed to speed proper payment of benefit checks to people who are entitled to them. The original intent of the law, when it was passed in 1936 was to aid the unemployed worker sustain his purchasing power during periods of unemployment which occurred through no fault of his own.

Meetings with employers and workers' representatives have been held throughout the state for several weeks. State officials and other MUCC officials have been training the agency's employees, tirelessly, to ready them for the changeover. Literature has been prepared for the workers, for union stewards and business agents, and for workers themselves, by the Agency.

As a result, Moore pointed out, the Agency finds itself faced with questions which have resolved themselves into a pattern, something as follows:

Am I eligible for benefits under the new law?

What do I have to do to get the benefits? How much do I get? Where do I get them? How long will I get them? How soon? How can I be disqualified? How can I appeal from a disqualification or unfair determination?

Here are the answers to some of these questions. The Commission has incorporated them into a booklet for stewards and business agents.

1. "Who can get benefits?"

The first requirement in all cases is that the worker must have been employed for a period, in "covered" or insured employment. This includes employers who hire 8 or more workers for a period of 20 calendar weeks in any one year. There are a few exceptions to this rule, but not many.

He must also fulfill the five following requirements:

a. He must file a claim, in person at the nearest office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

b. He must have earned at least $3.01 in each of 14 weeks (with an insured employer) during his "base period" a term for the 52 weeks immediately preceding the week in which he filed his new claim.

c. He must be able to work and available for work.

d. He must be seeking work. This means he must be making a reasonably diligent effort to find work on his own initiative. This includes making calls at employers' establishments, reading want ads in the papers, etc.

e. He must register for work with the Michigan State Employment Service, a division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. In any case of doubt, he may get instructions at any local Commission office, as to what he should do.

2. "When to Report?"

This is another question which has plagued workers and Commission employees alike. Traditionally, for the past 10 years, following layoffs, the claimants were required to report to the Commission offices within 48 hours after the layoff. Traditionally, also, it was their plan to report before the offices opened tht first day after the layoff, and the offices were invariably jammed on Mondays following Friday layoffs.

Later in the week, there was sometimes no load at all. A new reporting system has been devised to equalize this load through the week, without imperiling the claimants' right. This system is based upon the last digit of the claimant's Social Security Number. If that digit is Zero or 1, he reports on Monday; if it is 2 or 3, on Tuesday; 4 or 5, on Wednesday; 6 or 7, on Thursday; 8 or 9, on Friday.

The claim is dated as of the date of the layoff, and the claimant's rights are not jeopardized in any way, nor is his check held up because he registers later in the week. Sometimes, in small offices, this system may be modified in some degree, particularly if the claimant can show that he would suffer undue hardship because of it. It has worked well in the larger cities in mass layoffs, and is now being adapted to statewide use.

On itinerant points, of course, where the office is open only one day a week, the claimant is required to report on the first day the office is open, after his last day of work.

In all circumstances the claimand must report at the Commission's employment office nearest his home.

3. "What to bring?"

This is simple . . . for the applicant, only three items being required.

a. First, in all cases is his Social Security Card.

b. His identification card . . . with its metal plate attached. helps in locating his records and to file a new claim, if he has this card. It also speeds payment of the check, when it is forthcoming.

c. Unemployment Compensation Notice to Workers. This is known as UC Form 711. It is to be given to the employee sometime during the employment period. This card contains the employer's name and address, and MUCC number, which are essential for the speedy processing of claims. He may get it when he is hired, or when he is laid off, or at some period in between. The purpose of this requirement is to make available at one, information where the employer keeps his wage information. This will be needed when the Commission requests wage information on the claimant.

Other questions will be answered in a later article.

Urge People To Cut Food Waste

CAREFUL BUYING WILL NOT ONLY SAVE DOLLARS BUT CONSERVE NEEDED FOODS

"Wilt not, waste not!" is the golden rule not only for vegetable care, but for extending the Michigan vegetable budget and extending the supply of our garden stuffs to the hungry nations of the world, Mrs. Alice Smith, nutritionist, Michigan Department of Health said today.

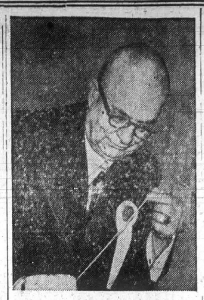
Attention to purchasing, storage, and preparation and service of garden foods can spread the vegetable budget over virtually its pre-war level of vitamins and minerals, and the use of more fresh and frozen vegetables here can make possible more canned vegetables to feed the children of the Philippiness, Europe and China, she said.

Buy a good quality of vegetable. Fresh, frozen or canned vegetables differ little in food values per serving, but they do differ greatly in the amount of waste one pays for. The cost of frozen vegetables compares favorably with the cost of fresh vegetables when a housekeeper's arithmetic takes into consideration the fact that she buys no waste but only edible portions in the frozen goods, and the time she saves because the vegetables are all cleaned ready to cook, and the fact that frozen vegetables cook in half time required by fresh vegetables. Do not thaw frozen vegetables before putting them over the fire. The use of either fresh or frozen vegetables saves canned vegetables for shipment overseas.

Buy the freshest vegetables you can find and use them as soon as possible after purchase. They lose food values as they wilt. You buy the most for your money when you buy leafy, green or yellow vegetables. Leaf lettuce has more food value than head lettuce; green celery, than bleached celery; green cabbage, than old cabbage; yellow corn, than white corn; and yellow turnips, than white turnips. Good buys among the winter favorites are carrots, squash and sweet potatoes, rutabagas, pumpkin and spinach. Green peppers have good food values; so does the green on the outside of cucumbers.

Remember that the potato is a vegetable rather than a cereal such as macaroni, spaghetti or noodles, and has food values like those of vegetables.

All fresh vegetables should be stored where it is cold. Salad vegetables and cooking greens should be washed and covered before refrigeration. Frozen vegetables must be stored at the proper low temperature.



THAT OLD JOB . . . Henry J. Kaiser, industrialist, turned the clock back 50 years when he revisited a Utica, N. Y., department store where he once worked as a bundle-wrapper for the munificent sum of $1.50 a week.

Almost all vegetables supply some vitamin A, vitamin C and the group of B vitamins. Tomatoes are the best source of vitamin C, with turnip greens, green pepper, broccoli, mustard greens, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and cabbage following in that order. There is as much B-1 in a baked potato as there is in a serving of roast meat or chicken, except pork or liver.

Calcium, phosphorus and iron are found in greatest quantities in potatoes and leafy vegetables. A serving of beet greens has the same amount of iron as a serving of lean meat. A medium sized potato has the same amount of iron as a medium sized egg.

Most people cook most vegetables too long. Three to five minutes is enough for shredded cabbage. Cook vegetables in a covered pan in as little water as possible and in as short a time as possible. Do not boil violently. Do not use soda in cooking vegetables. Use the cooking water in soups or gravies or serve it on the vegetable. Bake vegetables with their skins on whenever possible.

When your vegetable looks good and tastes good, then it is good for you, and you're getting the most for your money, Mrs. Smith advised. When you eat fresh or frozen vegetables you save the canned vegetables for the Philippines, Europe and China.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 6th day of January, 1948, and I hereby certify that I am not an officer or director of this bank.

Fred C. Hanna, Notary Public.

My commission expires October 24, 1949.

HOWDY FOLKS: Mr. Henpeck (hesitatingly): "Sir, I-I think it's just about time I got a raise."

Boss: "Why, we just put a raise in your envelope Saturday."

Henpeck: "Why doesn't my wife tell me these things?"

It is pointed out by a Chicago newspaper, that the Government prints and distributes the speeches made by Congressmen without the slightest profit. It might also be added they are read the same way.

"There is a right-of-way across this field, isn't there?"

Farmhand: "Sometimes yes, and sometimes no. It all depends on our bull."

We're not just "shooting the bull" when we tell you that to keep your car in top running condition — better let us check the motor, keep it filled with high grade gas and oil — and service it completely for you. Drive in today.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER EIGHT | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, JANUARY 15, 1948 | FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Parking Code To Be Enforced

"NO LENIENCY WILL BE SHOWN TO MOTORISTS AFTER MONDAY, JAN. 19TH

Excuses will be replaced by $1 fines beginning on Monday, January 19, when Tecumseh's new parking meter ordinance goes into full force. While the meter ordinance is now the law, police have been very lenient this week with drivers who have "forgotten" or who have "overlooked" the need for inserting pennies or nickels in the meters when they park. But, beginning next Monday, officers warned, "all excuses are out" and the motorist who forgets will either pay his $1 fine or be taken into justice court.

The 85 parking meters in the downtown area are in force from 9 a.m., to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 9 a.m., to 9 p.m., on Saturday. They are NOT in force on Sundays or holidays. Twelve minute parking is allowed for each penny inserted, or one hour parking for five cents. The meters accept no more than five cents and consequently one-hour parking is the limit.

The ordinance provides that persons receiving over-time tickets may pay $1 to the Village Clerk within 48 hours after the offense and be freed of the charge. Otherwise, a justice court summons is issued and the violator is taken into court.

"Motorists have been very good about observing the new meter ordinance," Wade L. Jones, clerk said today. "There are a few who forgot or who would like to find out for themselves if the police are on the job. Last Monday the officers issued 14 over-time tickets, and as the drivers came to our office we warned them to be more careful. Most of them forgot. However, next week, beginning Monday, excuses will be out and when tickets are issued the motorists, under the ordinance, must pay."

Police say that rural residents have expressed favor for the meters. They say that more parking space is available than heretofore, and that they don't mind paying a few pennies for the privilege of parking near the store where they shop.

Town Hall To Hear Slosson

RADIO COMMENTATOR, U. OF M. INSTRUCTOR TO ADDRESS MEETING, TUESDAY

A large crowd is expected to hear Dr. Preston W. Slosson, radio commentator and professor of history at the University of Michigan, when he addresses the second meeting of Tecumseh Town Hall, next Tuesday evening, January 20, at the high school auditorium. The meeting, which is free to the public, will begin at 8 o'clock.

"Communism vs Capitalism," will be the interesting subject discussed by the commentator, who is well qualified for the subject. His radio broadcasts were carefully followed, and he had many interesting listeners in the Tecumseh area.

The Town Hall programs are sponsored by civic and social groups in Tecumseh through financial contribution and therefore there is no admission charged. At the first Town Hall meeting here in November, at which Dr. Ferris G. Hodge was the speaker, nearly 400 persons attended.

FURNACE GETS TOO HOT; FIRE LOSS SET AT $1,000

Fire, believed to have started from an overheated furnace, did damage estimated at $1,000 at the George Blanchard residence, two miles southeast of Tecumseh on the Holloway road, at 1 a.m., Monday. Mr. Blanchard recently purchased the property from the Ford Motor Co., and it was formerly known as the McLain farm.

Blanchard had moved in part of his family's household goods and was asleep in an upstairs room when the fire broke out. A hole was burned in the living room floor and walls were damaged by smoke and water. The local department answered the alarm.

RURAL CARRIERS MEET

Members of the Lenawee County Rural Letter Carriers Association and their families were guests Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Aebersold for their regular monthly meeting. The potluck supper was followed by a social time.

St. Peter's Church Elects Vestrymen

At the annual parish meeting held Monday evening the members of St. Peter's Episcopal church elected four men to the Vestry for a three-year term. Those given office are Charles O. Butler, Bernhard Everlove, Lawrence W. Larsen and L. E. Laidlaw. Reports of parish organizations were read and George McCombs, treasurer of the church, gave the financial report.

The first meeting of the Vestry for 1948 will be held this (Thursday) evening for election of officers and appointing of committees by the Rev. Allan Ramsay, rector of the church.

Phone Lines In Operation

TELEPHONE AND POWER COMPANIES RECOVERING FROM NEW YEAR'S ICE STORM

Although some rural side roads are still in an icy condition, Tecumseh and its trading area are slowly but surely recovering from the New Year's Day sleet storm that for a few hours cut this village off from phone communication with even near-by towns and for about 24 hours darkened its homes and streets.

S. Henry Smith, manager of Consumers Power Co., here, said today that all electrical lines both in and outside Tecumseh served by his company now are in operation.

"We have fairly well recovered from the storm, which by far was the worst experienced locally in the past 50 years," Mr. Smith said. "Of course, we still have some rebuilding to do and some poles to reset or replace, but so far as I know now all of our customers have service."

Ernest Green, manager of the Michigan Associated Telephone Co., said today that all toll lines out of Tecumseh are now functioning, except a line to Holloway. In that section some major repairs remain to be done.

"We are all cleaned up with temporary repairs," Mr. Green said. "Of course, we too, like the power company, now have some permanent repairs to make. We got our subscribers back in service through temporary repairs in some instances, and now we will make the permanent repairs. We have some poles to reset and there is some line slack that must be taken out."

The storm hit here New Year's eve and on New Year's Night trees and limbs began to fall tearing down telephone and electrical lines. About 300 phones were out of order in Tecumseh and power circuits were wrecked so badly that it took about 24 hours to make repairs. Many homes were without electrical service for nearly a day and in rural areas the time was longer.

Consumers and Associated companies rushed repairmen here from a dozen other cities to speed up local reconstruction, the cost of which ran far into the thousands.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. RALLY AT ROLLIN, JANUARY 23

The W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Perry Hayden. Mrs. John Brown, president, led in devotions after which "America" was sung by the group. During the business session Mrs. S. W. Boyce was elected vice president to fill a vacancy. Mrs. Boyce read a letter from Mrs. Maude Glaser announcing the county W. C. T. U. rally to be held in the Rollin Friends church January 23. The schedule includes the morning session at 10 a.m., a potluck dinner at noon, the afternoon meeting at 1 p.m. and the evening meeting at 7:30 p.m. An offering was taken for the flower mission, and the Capper bill was read and discussed. One new member was taken into the organization. The group will meet with Mrs. Margaret Kidman February 10.

PLAN FAMILY NIGHT

Family night will be observed at the Baptist church Wednesday evening, January 21, with a potluck supper at 6:30. Miss Lano Roff of Adrian College will show her collection of colored slide pictures at 8 o'clock. These pictures include scenes of Hawaii, where she visited for several months, and Alaska, her home. Amateur photographers will be especially interested in viewing these slides.

A Glimpse at Products Big Expansion

Photo above gives the casual observer some idea of the size of the new addition to Tecumseh Products Company, into which machinery is now being moved and placed in operation. The new building is located between Plants No. 1 and No. 2 of Products, and was constructed at a cost of about $300,000. The enlargement was necessary to afford space for increased production as the company prepares to do $50,000,000 worth of business this year, with a pay-roll of about $7,500,000.

Two weeks ago, Products announced that the new addition was not sufficiently large to accommodate all of its new machinery and immediately a new $100,000 building program was launched.

Night School Classes Begin

FORTY ARE ENROLLED IN ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES; SCHEDULES ARE SET

Forty persons were enrolled in the Tecumseh Public School's Adult Education Program which got under way on Monday evening at the high school under the direction of Neville Hart. In all probability, Mr. Hart said, the enrollment will be much larger, as several who were not present at the Monday meeting have expressed an interest in the courses.

Shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, effective English and women's recreation are among the courses decided upon at the Monday session. These classes are still open for additional registrations, Mr. Hart declared. Interest in household mechanics was noted at the meeting but there were not enough registered to warrant class organization.

It is expected that a discussion course dealing with today's national affairs also will be offered. Persons interested in this course should enroll on Monday, January 19, at 8 p.m., at the high school, Mr. Hart said.

The length of the classes in the school have been shortened from one hour and a half to one hour, to facilitate scheduling. Following is the class schedule now established:

Shorthand 7 to 8 p.m., in room 18, Mondays; English, 7 to 8, room 10, Mondays; typewriting, 8 to 9 Mondays, room 8; recreation, 8 to 9, Wednesday, gymnasium; bookkeeping, 9 to 10, Mondays, room 18.

New Ford Truck Showing Scheduled For Jan. 16th

The first public showing in Tecumseh of the new 1948 model Ford trucks will take place tomorrow at Butler Motor Sales, local dealers.

With the streamlined new trucks—the first post-war products of the Ford company — as the main attraction, Charles O. Butler, of the sales company, said that the public would be welcome to visit the show rooms for an inspection.

"We feel that this is the most important new truck showing in the Ford history," Mr. Butler said. "We are entering the greatest truck market of all time with the widest range of models and capacities Ford has ever produced. And, what is more, we expect to receive trucks during the coming months in quantities increased sufficiently to permit us to meet the heavy demand."

The new trucks have been redesigned from one end to the other and practically assure "living room comfort" for drivers.

Ralph Comfort At Capital Meet

LOCAL MANUFACTURER IS AMONG SMALL BUSINESS GROUP IN WASHINGTON

Several hundred members of the National Small Business Men's Association made history when they met in Washington on January 14 to participate in the first Small Business Day in the history of our republic.

Making the trip to the capitol from this area is Ralph G. Comfort, of the Comfort Brick & Tile Company, Tecumseh.

DeWitt Emery, president of the group, stated that the meeting in Washington was unique in the sense that it was not for the purpose of securing any special privileges or consideration of any kind. He said:

"This is not in any sense a high pressure move. We have no intention or desire to coerce anyone. Our purpose is simply to demonstrate by our presence that we are greatly interested in national affairs and want to help the members of Congress in every way possible in doing what is best for our country as a whole."

Emery pointed out that the group gathered in Washington came from all but a few of the 48 states and represented more than 85 different types of business.

In outlining the historical day, Emery said that each member making the trip had a special meeting with his Congressman and Senators to present a special program based on resolutions passed They presented them with a program based on resolutions passed at the annual meeting of the National Small Business Men's

Tecumseh Represented At Morenci F. F. A. Meet

The Tecumseh F. F. A. attended a county leadership conference in Morenci last Thursday. From the nine schools represented, some 230 members were present. Group meetings were held in the morning with the agricultural teachers explaining the functions of the offices of the F. F. A. D. G. Locke, ag teacher at Tecumseh high school, was chairman of the conference and told the group that the F. F. A. is 240 thousand strong with over 6500 chapters in the United States, Puerto Rico and Hawaii. Mr. Locke also said 12,000 members attended the national convention at Kansas City and that the organization has grown in the last 20 years, from a small beginning to one of the largest organizations for young boys.

The afternoon was taken up with reports from the group meetings. Herman Dick explained the public speaking contest to be held on March 2 at Adrian high school, Bill Brown told of the parliamentary procedure contest and John Furgason explained the Demonstration contest, both to be held on March 2. E. Finkbeiner, regional vice president, gave a report on the state F. F. A. program. New county officers were elected after which the meeting was closed. The next county meeting will be March 2 at Adrian high school.

TECUMSEH TAKES 38-25 DRUBBING FROM BLISSFIELD QUINTET, FRIDAY

By Pat Wilson

Tecumseh high school made a poor start for he New Year, at least as far as basketball is concerned, by taking a 38 to 25 drubbing from the Blissfield Sugarboys, here last Friday evening. Tecumseh showed more fight and spirit, however, in this game than in any other game thus far.

In the first quarter, Blissfield jumped into a 7-4 lead and did not relinquish it during the entire game. Neither team seemd to be able to get much of a foothold, and during this quarter it was thought that the game might turn out to be a close battle, but this was not the case.

During the second quarter, Tecumseh was completely outclassed by the clever Blissfield quintet. The Indian quintet attempted to get a break on the tall Sugarboys, who had a faster squad which seemed to go up and down the floor with remarkable speed. In the second quarter Tecumseh was outscored 12-2 and the score at the half was 19-6.

In the third quarter Blissfield jumped into a commanding lead of 29 to 12. The game then became a fight between the Indians constantly on the defensive. Dur-Sugarboys on the offensive. During this quarter, Blissfield began to click on their side shots and showed that they had talent as sharpshooters, as well as being good defensive players.

In the fourth quarter, Tecumseh finally came to life. A rally was started, but just when it began to seem tha Tecumseh might put up a little fight, their attack bogged down, and the game ended 38-25.

Blissfield showed a consistent, well balanced team which played a good brand of ball. The center for the Sugarboys, Dick Rodiseler, played a stellar and consistent game and was high point man for the visitors by scoring 14 points. Buehrer was next with 12. For Tecumseh, Norb O'Hara led the scoring with seven points, while Dick Colson and Melvy Murphy were right behind him with six and five respectively.

In the reserve game, Tecumseh won by a thrilling 29-27 score in the closing minutes of play. The game was played by two such equally matched teams that neither was ahead by more than four points at any time. David Green was high point man for the Indians with nine points, while Ford did the honors for the Sugar boys with eight.

The Tecumseh Junior High team won a one-sided game from the Sugarboys by the score of 38-10. Dick Whelan was high point man for Tecumseh with 12 points. Jim Breitenwischer stood next with ten.

Tecumseh's next league game is with the league-leading Hudson Tigers at Hudson, on Friday, January 16.

PERRY HAYDEN SPEAKS TO ROTARY ABOUT FORD

Need For Blood Is Urgent Here

SIXTY HAVE PLEDGED TO GIVE AS "BANK" ARRIVES TODAY IN TECUMSEH

With the blood bank in Tecumseh and other hospitals in Lenawee county running low, Mrs. G. Arthur Rathbun, chairman of the blood donors committee here, urged today that more people volunteer to give a pint of their blood for emergency use as the Michigan Health Department's traveling bank prepared to set up in the parlors of the Methodist church here for a two-day period.

"We should have not less than 100 donors in Tecumseh," Mrs. Rathbun said. "To date we have 60 or 61 who have volunteered to give a pint of blood for the bank. I feel certain that there are many folk who would gladly contribute if they realized the seriousness of the situation and the need for plasma."

The blood bank arrives here this afternoon and will be open between 3 and 4:30 p.m., and this evening from 7 to 8:30. Tomorrow, Friday, it will be open from 9 to 11 a.m., and in the afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock.

Persons who have not volunteered to give blood but who desire to do so may contact Mrs. Rathbun or Tecumseh Hospital and arrangements will be made for an appointment at the bank. The time required to make the contribution is about 30 minutes, it was said.

The state's blood bank is visiting Adrian and the larger villages of the county at this time in an effort to restock the blood banks in the several hospitals in this area. It was pointed out that plasma, which is made from blood given, is stored at all times in Tecumseh Hospital and is used in emergency cases. Many lives have been saved here, it was said, because such a plasma bank was instantly available. However, the supply is running low here, as it is in hospitals throughout the county.

Dr. H. C. Huntley, director of the Lenawee County Health Clinic, has addressed many groups in the county as the official representative of the County Medical Society which advocates the clinics. Plasma is extensively used, Dr. Huntley pointed out, in cases of accident, shock, burns and for many other purposes. Very often, doctors say, the use of plasma means the saving of a life. The blood donated by volunteers is processed in state laboratories and returned to the hospitals of the county. It is for the free use of Lenawee county people. Hospitals participating besides Tecumseh are in Morenci, Hudson, Addison and Adrian.

Tax-Cut Bill Is Explained

KNUTSON PLAN WOULD FREE 330,000 IN MICHIGAN FROM INCOME PAYMENT

More than 330,000 Michigan residents would be freed of federal income tax payments under the Republican-sponsored Knutson tax-cut bill now before Congress, according to Senator Homer Ferguson.

Their removal from the income tax rolls would be accomplished by raising exemptions and allowances for dependents from $500 to $600, and by granting an additional exemption of $600 to taxpayers who are over 65 years of age or who are blind.

These are new provisions and were not included in the tax cut bills which were vetoed last year by the President, according to Senator Ferguson. A similar provision, to increase exemptions and allowances to $750, was supported by Senator Ferguson but was defeated in the Senate last year before the tax-cut bill was submitted to the President.

About 277,000 Michigan taxpayers would be made exempt from income tax payments by the increase in allowances, Senator Ferguson said, and about 53,900 more would be affected by the additional exemption to the aged and blind.

As an example of how the proposed tax revision would work Senator Ferguson cited the case of a married man with two children who earns $2400 a year. Under present tax laws a tax of $76 is paid. With exemptions and allowances raised to $600 for four persons the entire income of $2400 would be tax free. Other incomes are proportionately reduced in their tax liability by the same provisions.

WORTH KNOWING

The vast amount of discussion given to the grain problem, particularly as it is related to the raising of meat animals, has resulted in some misunderstandings. For example, it is widely believed that practically all animals which go to market are heavy consumers of grain which could otherwise be used for human consumption.

The fact is that 50 per cent of all meat of all kinds produced in the United States is grown without the feeding of any grain at all. In the case of cattle, more than 80 per cent of the beef produced is fed no grain. These animals are raised on roughage, grass, beet pulp and a large number of other foods not suitable for human consumption. On top of that, two-thirds of the area of the United States is in grass which would be wasted if there were no animals to consume it and convert it into meat. Lastly, when grain is fed, it is mostly corn, a standard animal feed, rather than that which is consumed largely by people.

It is evident that the grain problem cannot be properly solved by such extreme measures as the proposal to reduce our meat animal population. That would have an adverse effect on our standards of nutrition — effects which would be carried on into succeeding generations. It would reduce the fertility of the soil. It would be a blow to the farmer who receives more cash income from meat than from any other crop. It would reduce the supply of the many by-products which come from meat animals — and some of them, like insulin, are vital to the public health. We can and must conserve grain in every practical way — but we must be sure that each step taken is sound and workable.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—When the car of farmer Earl Carter, of Hominy, Okla., broke down in the surburbs of Oklahoma City late one night, Carter went to look for an open garage and left his 11-year-old daughter, Caroline Sue, and his 7-year-old son, Jesse Don, to wait in the car for him. Forgetting where he had left the car, it was twenty-four hours later before he, with the help of a patrolman, located it and, playing beside the abandoned car, hungry but still faithful to instructions, were the two children.

Overweight Can Be Worse For Your Health Than For Looks

It's smart to be thin, more for the sake of your health than of your appearance, says Aiken Welch, who tells how overweight can harm, in Redbook Magazine for January:

"Studies indicate that by age fifty, one of every two women in the United States weighs from ten to fifty pounds more than she should. And married women are 28 percent heavier than single ones of the same age. Most doctors and scientific investigators agree that we—men and women—weigh too much simply because we eat too much.

"We should think twice before taking second helpings: for humanitarian reasons, to help feed Europe's starving populations, and for common-sense reasons, to live longer.

"Dr. Harry J. Johnson, Director of the Life Extension Institute, says flatly that obesity—excessive fatness—is the Number One Killer of the Twentieth Century. Recently a two-week seminar on metabolism, the New York Academy of Medicine found that the primary metabolic problem in this country is overweight. Obesity was called by one delegate 'a disease,' because it not only decreases the chances for recovery; it can actually lead to disease—for example, heart disease.

Obesity is frequently associated with hypertension, or high blood pressure. In a recent study by Doctors Robert Levy, Paul White and William Stroud, they agreed that overweight alone is a significant factor in increasing the casualty rate for diseases of the heart, blood vessels and kidneys.

Add to that gall-bladder disease, which has a high mortality among overweight persons in their middle forties.

"Another disease related to overweight is diabetes. In recent years it has increased markedly—and eight times more frequently among the fat than the lean. Many a person who has supposedly inherited the tendency to diabetes can ward off the disease by staying thin. Shortness of breath in fat people is partly due to the inability of the diaphragm to move, because it is pushed upward by the fat in the abdomen, which in turn hampers the bellows action of the lungs. Hence any disease that affects the breathing apparatus, such as pneumonia, is dangerous to the fat person. Likewise the problem of administering anesthesia in operative cases is complicated by restricted lung action.

"X-ray pictures of the spine and knees of older people frequently show advanced changes in bone structure called osteo-arthritis, which seldom bothers thin people but can cause agony for the overweight.

"The best and safest way to reduce is by dieting under a doctor's direction."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who Are We, Anyway?

Subject came up at Bill Webster's, the other day, as we were chatting over beer and pretzels. Just who are the folks who make up our town? Where'd they come from?

Well, Doc Hollister's Scotch-English ancestry; Will Dudley's folks were mining stock from Pennsylvania; Skip Powell's family were brewers back in Holland.

Guess our bloodstream's got a bit of every country of the globe—and every section of America. We've still got differences in taste and background—whether they apply to music, history, or beer. Only those differences don't matter—because we're self-respecting people, in a free, united land.

And from where I sit, that's what makes our towns and cities—our America—so strong, progressive, tolerant. Our championship of individual liberties has brought us people from all faiths, all lands—to prove that respect for one another's rights is the greatest bond humanity can know!

No Rules For Being Happy, But Doctor's 10 Questions Give Key

There is no standard formula for everybody for being happy, but if we understand certain fundamentals we can probably be happier than we are, says Dr. Martin Gumpert. Writing in Redbook Magazine for January, he gives "ten essentials for happiness:"

"I have observed that there are some characteristics of behavior which are common denominators of the happiest people. I call them 'Ten Essentials of Happiness.' Here they are, in the form of questions only you can answer.

"1. Are you able to be alone with yourself? A happy human is able to enjoy his own companionship and be alone without being lonesome.

"2. Are you doing what you want to do? It is one of your most important tasks to find out—and in time—what you want to get out of life. And then, with the help of constructive experience, study and inclination, you recognize a worth while aim, it is never too late to make a radical change.

"3. Do you have curiosity? Life is a gift of unending richness. Only by constantly altering and adapting our habits and techniques can we achieve improvements and progress.

"4. Are you healthy? Well-being is based on the intimate knowledge of one's own physical and mental requirements and capacities.

"5. Have you stopped learning? The faculty of learning is one of the most precious gifts of civilization, and it should never be given up as long as life lasts. Nobody is too old, too tired, too weak or even too unintelligent not to be able to enrich his treasure of knowledge every single day of his existence.

"6. Do you have enough money? Try to accumulate enough to buy what you really want—but don't want too much. The feeling that you can change your home, your job, your clothes, that you can eat a pound of caviar if you should want to, gives a pleasant sense of independence, makes you in a way equal to the richest man on earth.

"7. Do you like people? We need people as they need us. Only when you like others will others like you. And nothing is more important in your relationship to others than a strong, frank sense of humor.

"8. Are you in love? Constant alertness, to confirm, to repeat, to rejuvenate the adventure of love, brings more happiness than almost anything else.

"9. Are you developing your abilities? Some of us may be limited in abilities and talents. But by using and developing what we have to the limit we will lead a fuller and happier life than the lazy genius who neglects his gifts.

"10. Do you have a clear conscience? It is a great step toward inner freedom when we unburden our troubled, anxious minds."

All Kroger stores started from the one little store opened in Cincinnati in 1882. That store grew into many through pleasing the people it served.

And today any little store can grow into a big store — or into many stores — through giving better service and values. That's the American system—the American way. It was—and is—the Kroger way, too.

Yours in 48 hours —

New power for your BUICK!

Today's Power, Today's Performance, Today's Zip — for Buicks up to Ten Years Old!

MAYBE this sounds too good to be true. But it's a fact!

Even if your Buick dates back as far as 1937, you can have a hoodful of factory-fresh Fireball power—a sleek new power plant that's the same as the engines going into the latest Buick cars.

Everything about it is brand-new. A new carburetor and air cleaner help make every drop of fuel give up all its power. A new distributor, complete with vacuum and centrifugal advance, puts new snap in your getaway and new pep in all driving. A whole new wiring harness prevents electrical loss. And tucked in the flywheel housing is a new smoothie of a clutch that'll make driving more fun than ever.

Yes, it's all new, with the latest Buick engine features you read about—like precision cylinder boring, Oil-Miser rings, Stratoflow cooling and so on.

You can get a new engine like this because engine production is not held back by the shortage of sheet steel which limits complete-car production.

So we're able to put one of these honeys into your car and make it young again—give it new power and performance that will get you set for thousands and thousands more carefree miles.

How much does it cost? Not nearly what you'd expect—often less than a comprehensive overhaul. And it's a mighty good investment because it makes your car worth so much more when it comes time to turn it in.

Nice proposition, isn't it? Surely worth talking over. Won't you come in and let us give you all the details?

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

Lansing—"Hang your clothes on a hickory limb," said an indulgent mama to her daughter who sought permission to go in swimming. "But don't go near the water!"

This paradoxial reply, both agreement and disagreement, saying yes and still saying no, reminds us of an interesting situation today at the state capital.

One year ago Kim Sigler, Michigan's young governor, took office. He had inherited a financial mess of no mean size. Voters had thumped approval of a constitutional amendment which deprived the state treasury of a big share of sales tax revenues, including 44.7 per cent of the previous year's collections which must be allocated to the public schools.

A continuing inflation in prices has resulted in a constant rise of sales tax receipts. Year after year the state financial experts were caught with unanticipated surpluses. Newspaper readers who skim the headlines and fail to get into the detail had arrived at a conclusion that Lansing was literally rolling in wealth. They had a tolerant attitude toward government, either federal or state, being reconciled to a belief that it never would be as efficient as private business and hence would always contain a percentage of waste.

Admonished by State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and others in his official family of the "truth of the consequences," Governor Sigler finally came out with an appeal to the state legislature to put a repeal ballot on the spring election. The legislators parried. The repeal move was defeated. Finally, in the closing days of the general sessions, legislators voted to put the repeal ballot to the voter at the November general election in 1948.

So far, so good. At least, the logic of the state's financial plight was in a position of full consistency. The State of Michigan faced bankruptcy unless it was removed from the strait-jacket of a disastrous constitutional amendment, or unless it could discover a new and added source of taxation. The emphasis for 1948, an election year, was naturally upon the first. Let's repeal his obnoxious impossible amendment. Let's revise the state constitution.

Then came a new issue for 1948: Lack of responsibility in the power of the governor. The state executive was little less than a "glorified clerk". A remark was made about "the crummiest job in the country."

Governor Sigler's new thesis was that Michigan was plagued by a multiplicity of invisible government — "boards, bureaus, agencies and commissions" — all of them beyond the control of the governor.

What would he do about it? Ask the legislature to abolish "about a dozen" of these state bureaus!

If the Michigan Education Association wanted to obtain new ammunition for its campaign to defeat repeal of the sales tax amendment, we can think of none better than this. The governor's new position, as we see it, confirms the suspicions of many voters that Lansing has too much money for its own good, that the State of Michigan could get along nicely with a lot less if someone would only streamline things and cut out inefficiency. The words sound familiar.

KID 'X' . . . This nine-year-old arrived in U. S. with $1.50—all in pennies—to seek his fortune. He is a refugee, calls himself Johnny Fagan, does not know his name, nationality or who his parents were.

REV. ESCOLME SPEAKS

Twenty-eight members and two guests of the Tecumseh Exchange Club met at Brees House Monday evening for their regular dinner meeting. Rev. Edward Escolme, guest speaker, told of his trip last summer to the eastern states and gave an interesting description of the Cathedral of the Pines.

"I'm Going to Shop At the Nation-Wide"

Every week we see new customers, strange faces in our store . . . joining with our regular family of buyers.

We've talked with some of these new customers and they tell us that they like our "one-stop-service" . . . meats, groceries and produce all in one big store.

They also tell us that they like the pleasant way our clerk's treat them, and that they are satisfiedwith our money-saving prices.

If these things appeal to you, why don't you stop in with your food order?

Mobile Phones Speed Service

CONSUMERS POWER PLANS TO INSTALL THEM IN ALL REPAIR TRUCKS

Jackson, Mich., January 11—Consumers Power Company announced today that it is filing an application for authority from the Federal Communications Commission to establish the largest single privatt mobile telephone system in the world.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company, which would furnish the equipment for the system, has submitted a proposal based on the power companys' requirements, for 52 radio transmitting and receiving stations and 767 mobile units.

D. E. Kern, vice president and general manager of Consumers, said the company planned to install mobile telephone equipment in electric and gas construction trucks and service cars.

"This will speed up repairs in storms and other emergencies," he said. "It also will enable us to respond to all kinds of trouble calls with minimum delay."

If authorized, the system will be built during a two-year period beginning next Spring. It will cover all of the power company's territory and will be operated over radio frequencies assigned by the FCC. The service will be provided for the exclusive use of the power company, a Bell spokesman said.

Applications for construction permits for the stations of the mobile systems will be submitted to the FCC a few at a time, beginning this month and continuing as equipment becomes available and as work progresses.

Each vehicle will be equipped with a loud-speaker for verbal signalling from the land station near which it is operating, a telephone handset with which to carry on conversations, a radio receiving unit, and a 30-watt transmitter.

Similar, but more powerful equipment will be located in the land stations, where Consumers company dispatchers will relay messages.

While Consumers Power will hold the license for the system Michigan Bell will supply the equipment on a rental basis. All technical work, including installation and maintenance of the system, will be handled by licensed Telephone Company personnel.

DAUGHTERS ELECT

At a special meeting of the Daughters of St. Peter's Friday evening at the parish house officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Lynn Hubbard; first vice president, Mrs. John McCann; second vice president, Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw; secretary, Mrs. Lester Rogers; treasurer, Mrs. Floyd Guy. There will be no meeting January 20 to give the members an opportunity to attend Town Hall.

TO CONFER DEGREES

Wednesday evening, January 21, the third and fourth degrees will be conferred on candidates by the Tecumseh Grange team at the Raisinville hall. Last Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the Grange fourth degrees were conferred on nine candidates.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

The Royal Neighbors will install the newly elected officers Monday evening, January 26. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner at Morris's restaurant at 7 o'clock. All planning to attend make reservations before January 21 with Mrs. Tillie Tuckey.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Judy Johnson celebrated her birthday Thursday afternoon by treating Girl Scout troop No. 6 to ice cream and cake at their regular meeting. Mrs. Harold Clark is leader of the troop.

S. S. MEETING

The Junior department of the Baptist Sunday school will meet at the church Friday at 7:30 for an evening of games and refreshments. Each one attending should bring a friend.

NOT FOR HIM!

CHILD'S MEADOWS, Calif.—C. W. Wilson had made a habit of putting salted peanuts into the fork of a tree for a friendly squirrel. The other day, his supply of peanuts ran out and he substituted some chocolate-covered peanuts. The squirrel grabbed some eagerly—then his head jerked up, he spat vigorously, kicked the remaining chocolate tidbits out of the tree and sped away, scolding terrifically.

A REMINDER

"If you broke a dish a day for six years," sighed the husband, "how much money would the loss represent?"

"About six dollars less than you sunk in the copper mine in Honolulu," replied the patient wife.

We Like to Sell "Advertised" Brands

There is really a great enjoyment in selling our customers "advertised" brands of merchandise because we know that they will be back for more, every time.

That is why you'll find on our shelves the brands of food that are popularly advertised. We know, and our customers know, that they must be good if they are to maintain their reputation.

We've found, over many, many years of experience, that it is the satisfied customers who come back. And, we're happy to say, that we are now serving the second and third generations in many families.

Good Cooks Always Insist On Good Stock

Are you a good cook? Mary Stinson says "Yes, if you cook with stock." Writing in McCall's for January, she tells how to make the stock and use it:

"Meat stock is the liquid the really good cook makes from beef bones, chicken feet and vegetables and uses in place of water to enrich all dishes such as stews, gravies, pot roasts, meat pies, etc.

"How to make meat stock: Put beef bones and chicken feet skinned into a heavy kettle. Pour on 4 quarts of cold water. Add an onion, carrot, sprig of parsley, celery tops (if you have them). Cover tightly. Bring to a boil slowly. When it bubbles, add ½ cup cold water. Do this a couple of times to bring scum to surface which you skim off, thoroughly, and throw away. Then turn heat down low and let stock simmer, covered, at least 3 or 4 hours.

"Remove bones immediately because stock allowed to cool with the bones in it will turn sour. Strain stock into pint and quart jars and store in the refrigerator. The fat that comes to the surface will seal it and help to preserve the stock for many days.

"If you do not use up your stock within a week, reheat it to the boiling point to keep it from going sour. Always heat stock to boiling point before using it—no matter what dish you are making."

VISITORS CORDIALLY WELCOME

We do not find God by seeking Him. Does this sound strange? It's true. It is God who finds us. God comes to us in our seeking.

It is true that we can meet God by saying a prayer at night or in meeting a beloved friend. But the chances are that we won't. God can be worshiped in the privacy of our home or on a walk through the winter woods. But honesty makes us admit that we often forget to worship.

Christians go to church to worship God. That is their way of seeking God. When God is sought in Church — or at home — He then comes of His own accord. Go out of your way to meet God this Sunday. He has already gone far out of His way to meet you.

MICHIGAN'S COMPENSATION ACT CHANGED

If You Work, You'll Be Interested

This is the third of a series of articles on the changes in administration of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act, effective, January 1, 1948.

The new program for administration of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act depends in part, on the new, simplified application blank which all persons filing new claims will have to fill out after January 1, according to James F. Moore, Executive Director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Fifteen questions, about half of them requiring only "yes" or "no" answers, comprise the list, in the application blank which in most cases can be made out in two or three minutes. They include, name, age, address, social security number, reason for leaving job, extra income at time of leaving, (such as vacation or severance pay) and dependents.

Among questions and answers which will busy the Commission for many weeks are the following, Moore said:

1. "When will I get my benefits, how much and for how long?"

Those three questions are standard equipment with every claim. It is planned to have checks available for the claimant, in normal times, within 10 minutes after his second visit to the local office. After the claim is filed, a form is sent to the employer, requesting wage and separation information. The employer is allowed seven days to return this information, and if it is returned in time and the employer's statement agrees with the worker's, the determination is made immediately and sent to the claimant. In 85% of the cases, the maximum is payable . . . and paid.

Should the employer's statement not be forthcoming within the specified time, the determination (whether and in what amount and for what length of time the claim should be paid) will be made on the basis of the claimant's certified statement.

As to the "How Much" phase of the question, it averages about two-thirds of the weekly pay (up to $30.01 a week) and the number of weeks is two-thirds of the number of credit weeks, also up to 30 weeks, Moore said. Claimants who have earned $30.01 for 30 weeks are entitled to $20 for 20 weeks. The claimant's allowance for dependent children is $2 a week per child up to four, except in the case of lowest income workers, when it may be less. Minimum benefits go to the worker who earns as little as $8.01 for each of 14 weeks.

No worker may receive more than twenty benefit checks on any benefit year (52 weeks following the week in which he files his claim).

Old claims (those whose benefit year has been established will be paid under the old formula until they expire, on March 31, June 30 or September 30, 1948.

2. WHAT MUST I DO TO GET A CHECK?

The mechanical procedure is simple. He must:

a. Report on his "hit" day, according to the last digit of his Social Security Number, (0 and 1 on Monday; 2-3 Tuesday; 4-5 Wednesday; 6-7 Thursday; 8-9 Friday), as explained in an earlier article.

b. He must serve his waiting week. This is regarded as the week in which he files his claim, if he earns less than his primary weekly benefit rate.

c. He must report all earnings during the calendar week for which benefits are claimed.

d. He must be registered with the Employment Service for a job, he must be able and willing to work, and available for work; he must be seeking work (calling on employers and reading the want ads); must refuse no suitable work.

e. He must not be a claimant for benefits in any other state or under federal law such as the Railroad Retirement Act, Servicemen's Readjustment Allowances, etc.

f. He must sign the face of the check certifying to all eligibility conditions.

3. "What About Part Time Work?"

This question posed a problem in the old days, by presenting a complicated procedure of determination. Now it is utterly simple, Moore pointed out.

If the claimant earns less than half of his primary benefit rate (before dependancy allowances are added) he will receive his full benefit check. If he earns more than half, but less than the entire amount, he will receive half the full amount. There will be no more payments for partial, part-total weeks or compensable days after January 1, 1948.

4. "What is an Additional Claim?"

Should a worker have a benefit year with unexhausted benefit rights, but has interrupted his claim for any reason, he can file an "Additional Claim" and reopen the claim. This is handled in a manner similar to that of the new claim. The claimant should come in on his regular "hit" day.

5. "What is a NAME PLATE?"

This will be a new question, Moore pointed out.

Attached to the claimant's identification card is a metal plate, bearing his name, address, social security number and claim number. This must be presented at all appearances in the Claims Office, because the check itself will be printed from this metallic plate. Possibility of error is reduced with this safeguard.

6. "How Can I Trust a Monetary Determination?"

Should the determination be unsatisfactory, a claimant may request a redetermination from the local office. After taking a detailed statement of wages, by calendar weeks, supported by wage slips, pay check stubs or envelopes, the local office will re-examine the entire claim and make a redetermination. Usual reasons for denial of a claim on the basis of wage credits are: insufficient earnings, claimant worked with employer not covered by the Act, or in employment not covered by the Act (exempted by type of work, as agriculture, government, domestic service, etc.)

If the claimant is still dissatisfied he may appeal through channels explained later.

Hot Water Requirements Of All Homes Increased

Installation of automatic laundry machines and greater use of electric dishwashers, bathtubs and showerbaths has stepped up demand for hot water.

The matter of providing for an adequate supply and dependable supply of hot water should have due consideration in making plans for a new house or remodeling the old one. The following summary of hot water requirements should be considered, points out the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau.

Automatic laundry machines require from 20 to 30 gallons of hot water in a period of from one-half to one hour.

Many automatic dishwashers require hot water at a rate of from 1½ to 2 gallons per minute, or 10 gallons per load.

Minimum requirements of water at 140 degrees for ordinary tasks are: Tub bath, 15 gallons; shower bath, 3 gallons per minute; laundry washing machine, non-automatic, 12 gallons; rinse, 6 gallons, and dishes, manually, 3 gallons.

Thus the selection of a heater with adequate capacity is vital to the proper and efficient operation of labor-saving water-consuming appliances. Most manufacturers of automatic washers report that in a very high percentage of cases, customer dissatisfaction may be traced to an inadequate supply of hot water.

Public Spending Methods Change In Relationship

Figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference board on annual expenditures of government—federal, state and local—over the last 3½ decades indicate that significant shifts have occurred in the normal peacetime spending relationships between these three public bodies.

Before the war period, combined state and local expenditures occupied the dominant position in overall government spending as a normal peacetime pattern. In the 28 years from 1913 through 1940, this relationship was true in all but six years. Three of those six years were in the World War I period when the public purse, as was true of every war, was opened without limit for victory. The other three years were during the '30s when New Deal spending was at its height.

But the situation has been reversed today. The federal government now dominates the overall government spending picture. True, federal expenditures have been reduced greatly from the peak wartime outlays. Compared with prewar years, however, the cost of the federal government is now so large that the new relationship in expenditures is likely to be a continuing one.

Cause of Mental Diseases

Schizophrenia, which accounts for about 20 per cent of all patients admitted to our mental hospitals, and manic-depressive psychosis, 10 per cent of first admissions, are sometimes referred to as functional psychoses. There is another group of mental diseases called the organic psychoses because they are known to have a definite organic basis. Among these are psychosis with cerebral arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries of the brain) and senile dementia, both of which come with old age and are due to the breakdown of the human machine. These two types of mental disorders account for almost 22 per cent of the patients admitted to hospitals, and there are strong indications that they will make up even a larger percentage of chronic cases in the future.

Nearly Five Million Autos

The automobile industry expects to build 4,700,000 vehicles, including a new record of 1,100,000 trucks, this year, says Automobile Manufacturers' association. Largest output in the industry's history was 5,360,000 in 1929. Last year's output of 3,090,000 vehicles in the United States was two-thirds of the 1941 total, but replacement parts production to keep old cars running exceeded all past levels with a wholesale value of 1.75 billion dollars. Passenger cars and trucks in use last year numbered 33,946,000, about 437,000 below the 1941 peak, although truck registrations reached a new high of 5,726,000. Motor vehicle scrappage from 1942 through 1946 was at the rate of 920,000 a year, as new cars continued in short supply.

Foot Mat Rings Bell

An Ohio mushroom grower has invented an automatic contrivance that wipes your shoes for you. When you step in front of the door it will clean the soles of your shoes, turn on the porch light and ring the door bell. The door mat is installed flush with the porch floor. It goes into operation when pressure is applied to the grill work. The pressure, which can be regulated to wipe even Fido's feet after his outdoor romp, starts a quarter horse power motor which sets in motion the wipers protruding above the grill. Dirt wiped from shoes sifts down through the grating into a receptacle connected with the sewer. A heating unit and thermostat keep the gadget free of ice and snow during the winter.

BOY, 15, HAS $24,000 IN CAR

SHREVEPORT, La.—Noticing four "extremely young people" in a car with a New York license, near Minden, La., police stopped the car and found a suitcase crammed with bills which ranged in denominations from $10 to $100 totaling $24,000. The driver of the car was Morton E. Rosenblum, 15, and beside him was Joan Melson, 15, both of Brooklyn. Two youthful hitchhikers were in the back seat. The boy explained that he had bought the car for $2,000 in Brooklyn and that the money-filled suitcase belonged to him. He would no explain how and where he had gotten the $24,000.

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER NINE — TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, JANUARY 22, 1948 — FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Police Issue Dog Warning

THREE PERSONS HAVE BEEN BITTEN IN PAST WEEK, ACCORDING TO OFFICERS

"Dogs on the loose" in Tecumseh, from this time on, are flirting with the pound or the undertaker, and their owners may be in for trouble, too, unless greater care is exercised by the canines, according to Leo Smith, chief of police.

Chief Smith said today that in the past week or 10 days three persons had been bitten by dogs and the department had been called upon to act in an effort to lessen the danger. He said that one woman might have been seriously hurt had it not been for the fact that she was wearing a heavy coat when she was attacked. Two others suffered arm injuries.

The police officer warned that there is an ordinance in Tecumseh which prohibits at any time dogs running loose in the streets or off the owner's property. For a time, he said, the ordinance was well respected but of late it seems that the number of canines running loose is growing larger.

"We have taken 80 dogs to Adrian to be disposed of by the county dog warden, in the past year," the officer said. "If dogs continue to run at large here, we have no other alternative under the law than to impound them and if the owner does not call within a reasonable time to send the dogs to Adrian, too."

It seems that many persons from Detroit and Toledo are finding it difficult to keep dogs in their small apartments and for that reason they are "dumping" them in the smaller towns, Smith said. He declared that a few days ago he saw a car with a foreign license plate halt in Brownville and "dump" six dogs from the back seat. How many other dogs have been freed here, no one knows.

The officer said that almost every day complaints are coming to police from residents regarding stray dogs on their property, and he warned that unless prompt action is taken by owners the police would have to act in accordance with the ordinance.

Hammel Favors U.M.T. Program

ADDRESSES PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETING AT HIGH SCHOOL HERE

Addressing the Parent-Teacher Association at the high school auditorium here, Thursday evening Dr. H. H. Hammel declared that he was thoroughly convinced of the need for Universal Military Training as a war preventative measure as well as a necessary defensive action. A veteran of World Wars I and II, Dr. Hammel told his audience that the greatest objections to military training come from people who are not familiar with the proposal and are not aware of its necessity. The U. M. T. program, he said, would be beneficial in that it would save precious time in case of attack and would benefit the individual in everyday life. He explained that the reason it is not being pushed harder is because those most aware of the necessity are in an awkward position to publicize it.

Dr. Hammel stressed the point that trainees of the program would not be a part of the army, navy or marines and could be used as a part of these services only in the event of war.

Miss Sally Brown at the piano accompanied Louis Vargo who played two saxophone solos. Dr. H. W. Porter of Jackson will be the speaker at the February 12 meeting. His topic will be "Cancer Control and Cancer Detection."

Funeral Services Today For Mrs. Gertrude Towers

Mrs. Gertrude Towers, 90, died Tuesday morning at 12:30 a.m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Bigelow of Macon.

Surviving are her daughter, one son, Harvey E. Towers of Macon, one brother, Charles L. Burdick of Ojai, California, two grandsons and five great-grandsons.

Funeral services will be conducted today (Thursday) at 2:30 p.m. in the Green Funeral Home with the Rev. Edward Escolme officiating. Burial will be in Middlebury, Wisconsin.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET

The Tecumseh Music Club will meet Tuesday, January 27, at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth Collins with Mrs. Nina Heath as the assisting hostess. Mrs. Collins will present a Schumann program.

Annual Pest Hunt Planned By F. F. A.

At the regular meeting of the Tecumseh F. F. A. last Wednesday evening it was decided to buy a centrifugal pump for the sheep dipping tank and arrangements were made to repair the tank for the benefit of the farmers who wish to dip sheep at a faster rate.

The annual pest hunt will be held from January 19 to February 19 with an even greater goal; that of saving valuable grain. Each year sparrows, rats, mice and other harmful pests destroy millions of dollars worth of feed and the group will attempt to reduce this amount of damage by killing these pests. Points will be allowed for each pest killed and the group has divided into two teams. At the end of the period the losers will treat the winners.

Radio Service Attracts 225

REBEKAHS AND ODDFELLOWS ATTEND PROGRAM AT BAPTIST CHURCH HERE, SUNDAY

Some 225 persons were in attendance at the regular Sunday service and radio broadcast of the Baptist church last Sunday morning. Oddfellow and Rebekah guests came from Adrian, Blissfield, Britton, Jasper, Onsted, Ogden Center, Tecumseh and Wyandotte. Vocal numbers rendered by the 12-man chorus of the Wyandotte lodge throughout the service included "Going Home," "Song of Peace," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." The Rev. B. O. Babcock, grand chaplain of the state Oddfellow's delivered the sermon.

Following the service 85 lodge members attended a potluck dinner at the Tecumseh Grange Hall. The Wyandotte chorus sang several numbers and W. George Bain, grand conductor, of Wyandotte addressed the group. Lowell S. Patterson, grand master, was unable to attend because of illness in his family.

Harold Treby Speaks To The Rotary Club

Some interesting experiences while serving as a major in the medical corps of the United States Army during World War 11 were recalled by Harold Treby for members of the Tecumseh Rotary Club when he spoke to that group following dinner at Brees House, Tuesday evening. Mr. Treby was the guest of LeRoy H. Titley, a member of the club.

Interesting experiences in France, in Africa, Sicily and Italy and later in other sections of Europe including Germany were touched upon by the Army officer during the 30-minute talk. He praised the efficiency of the American soldier and also spoke highly of the British who, he declared, never shirked a dangerous responsibility.

Mr. Treby, a member of the firm of the Cameron Drug Co., here, showed many souvenirs he collected during his service in Europe.

Roderick S. Bumpus Dies At Home Here

Products Cagers Win From Blissfield, 27-26

The Tecumseh Products basketball team won its eighth game this season by defeating the Blissfield American Legion quintet, Monday evening, in the local high school gymnasium. The final score was 27-26, with Center Johnny Pagel, and Forward Schmid each racking up six points for Tecumseh. The reserve team defeated Homer, 37-20.

On Monday evening, February 9, Lenny Ford's All-stars from Ann Arbor, which include a group of Michigan football players such as Bob Mann and Gene Derricote, will play the Products team. Because this game will be an oustanding attraction it will be limited to Tecumseh Products employees.

During February games will be played each Monday night in the high school gymnasium. The schedule includes Frost Gear of Jackson, The Hillsdale Hi-Speed's, and other outstanding quintets from this area. The public is invited to these games, with the exception of the 9th. There is no admission charge.

Fire Destroys Home, Furniture; What Do You Have To Share?

Although many persons have responded generously and, as a result, have almost completely refurnished Mr. and Mrs. Duane Jacobs and their family of five children with clothing, the fire that destroyed their home and furnishings, last Sunday afternoon, has left them without furniture, bedding and other necessities for housekeeping, it was said today.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs were living with a farmer near Wampler's Lake when fire, of unknown origin, destroyed the dwelling. They succeeded in saving a kitchen table, three chairs, their stove and washing machine. Except for the clothing they wore, nothing was left.

The Jacobs, aged about 35 years, have a boy aged 12, a girl aged 10, twin boys, aged nine, and another boy, aged five years. Mr. Jacobs, a brother-in-law of Harry Schuch, is employed at Butler Motor Sales.

"Many people have learned of the fire and of the Jacobs' loss and they have responded generously with clothing for the entire family," Mrs. C. O. Butler said today.

"We all know that with a family of five, it is difficult to re-establish a home because of the expense. The Jacobs had no insurance on the furnishings.

"They do, however, have an opportunity to move into another house near the one that was burned, but they must have furnishings—chairs, a table, linens, beds, etc., and some form of heating equipment. Already, offers of used such equipment have been made," Mrs. Butler continued.

"We believe," she said, "that many people have discarded items in storage that they would gladly contribute to this family. If they do have these things, and desire to give them to the Jacobs, if they will call at our garage, phone 280. I know that Mr. Jacobs will greatly appreciate it."

4-H CLUB TRACTOR SCHOOL UNDER WAY

The Lenawee County 4-H Tractor school, an annual affair, got under way on Monday evening with its opening meeting at the Partridge Implement Co. Fuel intake, carburation, air cleaner service and allied servicing were under discussion.

Next Monday evening the second meeting will be held at the Robson Implement Co., and the following Monday at the Hoyt E. Whelan Co. The three local implement dealers sponsor the school which continues into March.

TWO FIRE ALARMS

Fire, caused by a short circuit, resulted in the complete loss of an automobile at the corner of West Cummings and Adrian streets, Saturday morning about 2:30. The local fire department answered the call. The car, which had 50 gallon of fuel oil in the trunk, was owned by Ivan Wraight.

The fire department answered a call Monday at 1:15 p.m. to the Bailey Motor Sales office west of town. An overheated stove caused slight damage.

Presbyterian Church Installs New Officers

On Sunday, January 19, the Presbyterian church installed the new members of the church's board, elected last Wednesday at the annual congregational meeting.

Robert H. Hannah and C. Ray Puffer having been first ordained to the office of eldership, were with C. Wilbur Boyce installed on the church session. L. D. Tallman another elder who had been re-elected with Mr. Boyce, was unable to be present. Immediately following, the recognition of trustees for 1948 took place with Kenneth D. Hall coming to the board with Clair Dickinson and Theodore Ehinger who were resuming their positions after re-election.

On Sunday, January 25, the pastor, Rev. Donald Wilson, will be in Holloway where he will conduct the communion service at the Raisin Presbyterian church. James Letcher, student minister of that church will be in the pulpit in Mr. Wilson's absence. Members of the men's Study Class are reminded that the class will resume on Sunday February first.

54 PINTS OF BLOOD ARE GIVEN TO BANK

The Michigan Department of Health's blood bank, here last week Thursday and Friday, received 54 pints of blood, it was announced today by Mrs. G. Arthur Rathbun, chairman of the event. The blood will be returned to Tecumseh and other county hospitals in the form of plasma, to be used in emergency cases.

Mrs. Rathbun said that 71 persons signed up to give blood here but many of them were rejected by the doctors because of colds, high blood pressure and other reasons.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN ADRIAN

The mid-winter Lenawee county Baptist church Association meeting will be held Friday at the Adrian Baptist church. The morning session will begin at 10 o'clock followed by a potluck dinner at noon. In the evening there will be a banquet and the program will be especially suited for young people.

Slosson Talks At Town Hall

"CAPITALISM vs COMMUNISM" INTERESTINGLY DISCUSSED; 100 AT MEETING

Declaring that he is not afraid of communism but that he does fear Russian imperialism, Dr. Preston W. Slosson, radio commentator of national fame and a professor of history at the University of Michigan, addressed the second meeting of Town Hall here Tuesday evening at the high school. About 100 persons were in attendance. Dr. Slosson used as his subject, "Communism vs Capitalism."

The Russian policy of refusing to cooperate with other powers of the world may lead to a collision with some other nation and eventually another war, Dr. Slosson told his listeners. He blamed mistrust for refusal to cooperate, citing the treatment the country received at the hands of France, Germany and Japan following other wars.

The United States must lead the way toward peace and prosperity if peace is to come to the world, the professor thinks. Both the United States and Russia, he declared, are on the threshhold of leadership.

Developing his subject, "Capitalism vs Communism," Dr. Slosson spoke as an historian, reciting the background of both isms. He made no effort to point out either the good or bad points, in an attempt to treat his subject without bias.

Capitalism, he said, is based upon the payment of money, freedom of contract, the sale of goods or labor anywhere, credit and banking and industrialism.

Communism is an off-shoot of socialism, with share labor and gain as a fundamental. He went back into history as far as 1848 to bring his listeners a complete background of his subject. He spoke of Marx and Engels, of the formation and the split of socialistic parties and recalled the fight between Trotsky and Stalin.

Russia, Dr. Slosson declared, is not entirely communistic and neither is the United States entirely capitalistic. To prove his point he cited government operation of the Panama Canal Zone, TVA, etc.

Following his 45-minute address, the meeting was opened to questions from the floor and Dr. Slosson answered some 45 to 50 inquiries from his interested audience.

March of Dimes Gets Under Way

CAMPAIGN LOCALLY IS UNDER THE DIRECTION OF WM. DAMON; ENDS JAN. 30

Tecumseh's participation in the tenth annual March of Dimes campaign for funds to fight the dread infantile paralysis is being directed by William Damon. The campaign started January 15 and continues through January 30.

Founded by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has become recognized throughout the nation for its work in relieving suffering. Half of the money collected in Lenawee county will be sent to national headquarters where it is channeled into research projects aimed at finding a cure and a preventive for the crippling disease. Iron lungs and other expensive special equipment is purchased and placed in strategically located pools for use by any polio victim. And trained doctors and nurses are kept available to be flown to any community stricken with a polio epidemic.

The remaining half of the Lenawee funds remain here in the county for relief of local suffering under the administration of the volunteer board of the county unit which is headed by Paul Ahleman of Adrian. Seven cases of polio were reported in the county during 1947. Two persons died from the disease.

The local March of Dimes fund is available at all times for paying the bills of any polio victim, regardless of race, creed or color. No longer must the families of polio victims arrange deposits before sufferers are admitted to a hospital. Polio patients are admitted immediately on the standing order of the Lenawee committee. The only thing necessary is to have the family physician notify Mr. Ahleman or Dr. H. C. Huntley, county health director.

Theater owners throughout the county are co-operating by showing special polio films and taking collections from audiences. It is a hard heart which can see pictures of those polio-ravaged children and not dig down deep for the dimes and dollars which will bring relief. Volunteer workers in many communities are donating their time because they are convinced of the great good being done through the March of Dimes.

Scores of church, civic and social organizations in the county are putting their dollars into the fight.

The Lenawee headquarters for the campaign are in Room 201, Hotel Lenawee, Adrian where final reports are made and where contributions may be sent for accrediting to any community.

The mysterious polio virus, still evading the painstaking research of the nation's leading scientists, strikes without warning and without prejudice. Contributions to the March of Dimes provide the best possible protection for you and your loved ones.

SYMPTOMS VS CAUSES

In an analysis of the President's proposals to lower prices through the reimposition of controls, the monthly letter of the National City Bank of New York recently said: "The fundamental question raised . . . is whether the country is to attack inflation by dealing with its causes or by attempting to suppress its symptoms."

It may not be popular to say so, but government itself has been and is forcing inflation. It is the greatest spender in the country—and thus creates an excess of purchasing power. It is, further, a lender and guarantor of low interest loans on a tremendous scale—which has a strong bearing on credit inflation. Finally, through heavy taxation, it restricts savings and discourages accumulations of capital—which means more and more bank credit must be used because private savings are inadequate to meet needs in many cases.

It is clear that there has been a serious misconception, both on the part of the public and of men in responsible positions, as to what the actual root causes of inflation and what are merely symptoms. The price of food or clothing or anything else you buy in a store is directly or indirectly affected by a thousand factors—and government fiscal policy, remote as that may seem, is one of the most important. Here is a place where government can make vital reforms without price control, rationing or any dubious device of totalitarian economics. It remains to be seen whether the leaders of government, in both the Executive and Legislative branches, will measure up to the task.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

From Sheepskin to Sheep

There aren't too many college graduates in our town. Good honest thinking, yes ... but most folks went from high school into farming.

No harm in that! But I admire veterans like Dick Newcomb ... who's 23, but going to college under the G.I. Bill of Rights. Intends to be a sheep farmer—but a better-informed, more scientific farmer, with more know-how!

And veterans like Dick aren't letting anything interfere. What little relaxation they allow themselves is in the form of needed exercise, or books, or conversation and an occasional glass of beer with friends.

Seems as if, just by having their education postponed, they've put a higher value on it ... and on things like temperance (that glass of beer, for instance), understanding, and good citizenship. And from where I sit, when Dick gets his sheepskin—he won't have lost much time. He'll be an even better farmer than his Dad. (Exactly what Dad wanted!)

TIPTON

The Trinity Evangelical Church of Saline was the scene of the marriage Saturday evening of Miss Zina Altenbernt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Altenbernt of Dexter and Frank John Opel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Opel of Tipton. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Engle.

The altar was decorated with large hampers of white chrysanthemums and tall cathedral candles on each side.

Preceding the wedding the church soloist sang, "The Lord's Prayer," and "O Perfect Love," accompanied on the organ. As the wedding party came down the aisle the wedding march was played. The matron of honor was Mrs. Zella Otto of Chelsea who wore a navy blue crepe dress and a corsage of yellow carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Fern Aken of Dexter who wore aqua crepe and a corsage of white carnations and Miss Norma Opel who chose grey wool street dress and also wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride chose for her wedding a powder blue crepe dress with gold accessories and a halo of blue flowers with a short veil. Her corsage was of white gardenias tied with white satin ribbon. Mr. Opel was attended by his brother Earl as best man and the ushers were Milton Opel and Virgil Rockwell.

Mrs. Altenbernt wore for her daughter's wedding a black crepe dress with black accessories and Mrs. Opel wore a powder blue dress with navy accessories and each wore a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the American Legion hall in Saline for 100 guests. The bridal table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with the tiny bridal party. Supper was served to the guests present and dancing was enjoyed later.

Mrs. Opel is employed at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor and will continue working for the present. Mr. Opel is employed by the Tecumseh Products Co.

After a week end in Detroit the couple returned to the groom's home where they will make their home for the present.

CLINTON

Mrs. Frank Tully suffered a bone fracture of her right wrist according to a recent X-ray.

S. S. Walker, Mrs. Woodrow Loughray and son and Mrs. Blanch Loughray of Roscommon spent a few days here.

Addison Cagers Here Friday

(By Pat Wilson)

Last Friday night at Hudson, the Tecumseh high school basketball team scored a moral victory over the league-leading Hudson Tigers, although the final score was 35-25 in favor of Hudson. Tecumseh's all-around playing aroused much favorable comment and the Hudson team was a disappointment.

In the first quarter Tecumseh out-scored Hudson 5-3 and the game showed the beginning of a closely-fought battle. Both teams were feeling each other out in preparation for the battle.

In the second quarter it started. While the Tecumseh defense tightened up to permit Hudson to make only a few points, Tecumseh seemed to have very little trouble getting through the Hudson defense. At the end of the half the score stood at 15-12 in favor of Tecumseh.

In the third quarter, Hudson began to play the game. Many Tecumseh shots were blocked and the entire Hudson team scored in their valiant attempt to regain the lead. As a prize for the Hudson effort, they were leading by one point, 23-22, as the bell buzzed the end of the third quarter.

The fourth quarter found Tecumseh mostly on the defensive. Tecumseh scored but three points, while Hudson put the game on ice with a basket barrage to make a final total of 35-25.

Dick Colson was high point man for the Indians with 12. Dick played his best game of the season and had very little difficulty getting away from his guard to make shots. For Hudson, John Atkinson and Jack Garr split the honors with 9 and 8 respectively. The game was well played by Tecumseh and the Indians showed a great deal of fight and spirit.

The reserve team lost a one-sided game by the score of 36-16. David Green was high point man for the Indians with 5 while Bill Deuel made 13 for the Tigers. The Tecumseh Junior high also lost by a close score of 19-18.

MISS JUNE BURNHAM WEDS WILLIAM SISSON

Miss June Burnham, of Jackson, daughter of M. A. Burnham of Ontario and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Smith, RFD 6, Jackson, and William Sisson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sisson of Tecumseh spoke their nuptial vows in the Ganson Street Baptist church, Jackson, Friday evening, January 9, before the altar decorated with baskets of white daffodils. The Rev. Howard Sugden performed the ceremony. Mrs. Howard Sugden sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper-satin gown with high rounded neckline, yoke and off-shoulder ruffle. Her full-length veil of French tulle was edged in heavy embroidery and fell from a tiara of white roses. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Marilyn Franstead, wore an aqua satin dress with matching headdress and she carried a nosegay of white and yellow mums. The Misses Louise Moore, Helen Lenhart, Kathryn Sisson and Carlene Gaunt, bridesmaids, wore peacock-blue and fuschia with matching headdresses. They carried nosegays of yellow and white mums. Kyron Smith, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and Gaylord Boven, another cousin, was the ring bearer.

James Sisson assisted his brother as best man and the ushers were Clifford Jackson, Jack Curtiss, John McLaughlin and Orville Smith.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Hotel Hayes, after which the couple left for a trip south. They are now residing east of Clinton. Out-of-town guests attended from Detroit, Tecumseh, Manchester, Napoleon, Brooklyn and Canada.

CATHEDRAL WITHIN A CATHEDRAL . . . Regardless of their food shortages and economic travail, the British people hold lovingly to the trappings of tradition. Here, a skilled artisan is working on the restoration of the famous model of St. Paul's cathedral by Sir Christopher Wren. Recently returned from its bomb shelter in the country, the model now is inside St. Paul's cathedral in London. It was viewed and approved by King Charles II in 1670.

DECLARING HIMSELF

A small boy called on his aunt, who lived on the other side of town. "Hello, Auntie Sue, nice day." After a moment of embarrassed pause, he added, "Auntie Sue, I smell something that seems like pie with raisins in it."

"Yes, Billy, I have some mince pies, but they're for company."

He pondered this and then said, hopefully, "I came to make a little bit of a visit myself."

Life without love is load, and time stands still;
What we refuse to him to death we give;
And, then, then only, when we love, we live.

How Shall We Treat The Church?

As something of such little consequence that we can ignore it altogether?

As something to be tolerated like a disagreeable mother-in-law?

As something to be supported like a poor relative?

As something that must be maintained like the army and navy?

Or shall we treat it as a living organism, an organism of which Christ is the head, and an organism through which God is working out some of His great purposes?

Just how shall we treat the church?

If You Work, You'll Be Interested

This is the fourth of a series of articles on the changes in administration of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act, effective, January 1, 1948.

Perhaps the one section of the new MUC Law, which became effective January 1, which will create the most disturbance in the local office is the section relating to disqualification of applicants. James F. Moore, Executive Director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission pointed out, in his overall discussion of the Act.

1. "When is a Claimant Disqualified?"

The answers to this question fall in three general groups.

Disqualification terms were stiffened by the legislature and call for total disqualification for the period of unemployment (instead of disqualification for a period of three to five weeks, as under old rules) whenever the claimant:

(a) Quits his job voluntarily without good cause attributable to the employer. The Law is to cover only involuntary unemployment.

(b) Has been discharged for misconduct in connection with his work or for intoxication while at work.

(c) Has failed to apply for available, suitable work; or to accept it when offered to him; or to return to customary self-employment when so directed by The Commission.

To become eligible for benefits after a worker is disqualified for the duration of his unemployment he has to take a full-time permanent job and later become unemployed through no fault of his own.

When a worker is disqualified for voluntary quit, or discharged for misconduct, all his credit weeks with the employer he leaves are automatically cancelled.

However, if the claimant left one job to take a better one, and later is unemployed through no fault of his own, he may again become eligible for benefits, in proportion to the number of credit weeks he establishes with the new employer.

When he quits the first employer he is automatically disqualified, but his credit weeks are reinstated, with the first employer, up to the maximum, as he stays on the new job. Should he earn 15 credit weeks with the new employer, he could pick up credit weeks with the previous employer, week for week, and be eligible for maximum benefits.

When a claimant refuses an offer of suitable work from the most recent employer, all credit weeks earned with that employer are automatically cancelled as of the date of refusal.

A claimant is automatically disqualified when his plant is shut down by a labor dispute in any of its departments.

He is also disqualified for any week in which he receives vacation with pay, or pay in lieu of notice (severance pay).

Women claimants are disqualified for duration of unemployment when unemployment is caused by pregnancy.

A claimant is utterly disqualified and all credit weeks are cancelled if he makes a false statement, misrepresentation or conceals important information to establish benefits. He is also required to make restitution of illegally obtained benefits.

An employer too may be penalized for making false or misleading statements or withholds information for the purpose of avoiding payment of benefits to a claimant. He may be penalized the amount of the total benefits involved.

2. What Does "Able, Available and Seeking Work" mean?

Although the MUC Act always has specified that the claimant must be able to work and available for work, a new provision set up by the legislators determines that he must also be seeking work. It means, in short, that an unemployed worker must make a reasonably diligent search for suitable work. Registration with the Michigan State Employment Service if not enough to satisfy the new law. He should also apply to employers, should peruse the want ads in the newspapers, for openings which he might be able to fill.

Able to work means that he must be able to work full-time at his job. If he is physically unable to work, through injury or illness he is not eligible for benefits under this Act.

Available means that he must be ready to take full-time work offered him by the Employment Service or an employer. Ordinarily, if he is traveling, vacationing, caring for dependents, self-employed, on leave of absence, attending school or college, as a few "instances", he would not be ready or available for work.

3. What is Suitable Work?

The terms of The Act indicate in understandable language exactly what the Legislature intended to convey, as follows:

"An offer of employment in the individual's customary occupation, under conditions of employment and remuneration substantially equivalent to those under which the individual has been customarily employed in such occupation, shall be deemed suitable work.

"In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual the commission shall consider the degrees of risk involved to his health, safety and morals, his physical fitness and prior training, his experience and prior earnings, his length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in his customary occupation, and the distance of the available work from his residence.

"Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, no work shall be deemed suitable and benefits shall not be denied under this act to any otherwise eligible individual for refusing to accept new work under any of the following conditions:

(a) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute;

(b) If the remuneration, hours, or other conditions of work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality.

(c) If as a condition of being employed the individual would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization."

4. How Do I request a Redetermination?

Claimants whose claims have been denied, or who have been disqualified or declared ineligible may within 15 days ask the Principal Claims Examiner for a redetermination upon one or more of the following grounds: (a) new facts submitted by an interested party. (b) A question of interpretation of the law; (c). A question of appropriate application of the law; or (d) An administrative error by The Commission.

The entire claim will then be scanned by the Principal Claims Examiner and after all points are surveyed he will issue a redetermination.

This change has been made to shorten the time between the protest and the final decision; actual facts concerning the claiment's eligibility or disqualification can be readily reinvestigated; useless and ill founded appeals to referees will be avoided by prompt action in the local office; any administrative errors may be speedily corrected.

5. How Can I Appeal?

In the event either claimant or employer is dissatisfied, the appeal to the referee may be taken within 15 days after the mailing date of the redetermination, through any local office of the Commission. Referees' decisions may be taken to the Appeal Board, and thence to the Circuit Court.

City Form Of Gov't Studied

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMITTEE LOOKS INTO BENEFITS FOR LOCAL RESIDENTS

A committee of the Chamber of Commerce this week began a study of benefits resulting from a possible change in Tecumseh's form of government and a report on progress will be heard when the Chamber board meets in a regular session, Friday evening.

Because Tecumseh has been growing steadily for several years, and because it is understood that there are many advantages in city form of government over village form, the Chamber board, at a meeting last week, instructed its municipal affairs committee, headed by M. G. Partridge, to look into the advisability of such a change locally. Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber, is assisting in assembling facts.

The Chamber also has held several meetings recently considering the advisability of annexing subdivisions at the limits of the village, and two or three of these projects still are under consideration.

In the past 15 years, it is estimated that Tecumseh has added nearly 1,500 persons to its population, and industrial plans for the future call for increased payrolls and further population increases. To accommodate future housing it appears to be necessary that subdivisions outside the limits will have to be developed and there are many advantages to such homeowners to be within the corporate limits, including fire protection, lighting, water, sewer, etc.

It is expected that the Chamber will have definite facts concerning these projects within two or three weeks, perhaps sooner, and that reports will be submitted to the board of directors that prompt action may be taken.

New Catholic Church, School And Rectory Are Planned Here

Purchase of a nine-acre plot on North Union street, opposite Brookside Cemetery at the southeast corner of Brown street, the site ultimately to be used for the building of an elementary school, a church and a rectory was announced today by the Rev. Father Michael Collins, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church here.

The Rev. Fr. Collins said that the purchase was approved by Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit, after a careful survey of Tecumseh had been made, the church believing that Tecumseh's steady growth and future expansion warranted such a step. He said that the church would receive the deed to the property in 10 days or two weeks and that plans then would go forward for the building program. When ground would be broken for any of the new buildings, which will be of brick and stone construction, he could not say.

Fr. Collins said that tentative plans for the new elementary school call for the construcion of a building large enough to accommodate at least 300 students. As to the size of the church or the rectory, no plans have been formulated. He pointed out that the plot purchased is sufficiently large to permit proper landscaping, and afford playgrounds and parks for the accommodation of the school children.

The present Catholic church here, St. Elizabeth's, at the corner of Chicago boulevard and Oneida street, was built by Fr. Fisher in 1913. Of cobblestone construction, it is large enough to accommodate only about 100 persons. There is no rectory in connection with this church and for the use of Fr. Collins a house recently was purchased on East Pottawatamie street.

Fr. Collins said that the parish here has grown steadily in the past few years and has completely outgrown the present church.

Until July of last year, Tecumseh was a mission church associated with Clinton and the Irish Hills. In July, Fr. Collins was named as resident pastor and Tecumseh was made a parish.

The pastor pointed out that there is not sufficient room on property owned by the church to permit any expansion. He said that the diocese had long considered the need for a school here as well as an enlarged church and confirmed the need at Summer by making Tecumseh a parish with a resident pastor.

CHILD, 6, IS HURT WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Jerry Dicks, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dicks, who reside on the Holdridge farm on the Holloway road, suffered head injuries and shock Tuesday afternoon when he was hit by a car after he had alighted from a school bus. The accident happened in front of his home. He was removed to Tecumseh hospital for treatment and later released.

The accident is said to have happened when the child ran around the rear of the bus and across the highway. The car that struck him was traveling north and the bus, which was then in motion, was going south. The driver of the car did not see the child until he darted from behind the moving bus and into the road.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL CAGE TEAM WINS FIRST GAME OF SEASON; IN 4TH PLACE

Tecumseh high school cagers went down to defeat at the hands of the Milan Reds in a game played here Tuesday evening by a score of 57 to 25. Milan grabbed an early lead and maintained it throughout the game. The Reds are leaders in the Huron League. The Indians also lost the reserve game, 48-18.

Tecumseh's next game is Friday evening, at Clinton.

(By Pat WRson)

The Tecumseh high school basketball team scored its initial league win here last Friday night by defeating Addison, 23-16. This moves Tecumseh into a tie for 4th place with Morenci and Addison.

In the first quarter Tecumseh went into the lead 5-4 and this lead was never relinquished. The game looked like a close battle during this opening quarter.

In the second quarter Tecumseh took a more substantial lead. Neither team showed much offensive strength although Tecumseh did seem to be superior. At the end of the half Tecumseh was in the lead 9-5.

During the third quarter Tecumseh again outscored the hapless panthers 7-6, to gain a lead of 16-11. And in the fourth quarter Tecumseh again turned the trick to make a final score of 23-16.

Norb O'Hara was high point man for Tecumseh with eight points, while Dick Coleon and Mel Murphy were runners-up with four apiece. Jim Price did the honors for the visitors with five. Although the team looked better against Dundee and Hudson, they were a great deal better than Addison.

The Indian reserve team also won by a commanding 37-24 score. Dave Green was high point for Tecumseh with 10, while Jerry Bowen and Lee Phibbs were a close second with nine each. Dick DeLine was the best Panther with 10, also.

The Tecumseh junior high team also won by 13-9, with Dick Whelan as high point.

School Plans Camp Program

STUDENTS ASKED TO SAVE TO MAKE TWO-WEEK OUTING IN SUMMERTIME POSSIBLE

The Tecumseh Board of Education has recognized for some time, the educational advantages of summer camps. Since a school camp here is not feasible at the present time, however, plans are being made to sponsor a school savings stamp program whereby students can save money to attend Camp North Woods for a two week period this summer through special arrangements with the directors of the camp, James McDowell and David Dick. As planned now, there will be a period for girls from June 23 to July 7 and a period for boys from August 19 to September 2. Final completion of the plans will, of course, depend upon the amount of interest which is shown.

Camp North Woods is a private camp on Douglas Lake in Cheboygan county in northern Michigan. Tecumseh pupils would have the same carefully planned program, use the same equipment and facilities as are used during the regular private camp period. The cost would be considerably less than the regular camp rate for there would be no side trips and the number of campers would be considerably larger during these two special periods. The regular camp staff would be augmented by members of the Tecumseh faculty and Tecumseh boys and girls would get the chance to participate in two weeks of camping with their own groups at low cost and yet receive all the varied camp experiences available only to boys and girls attending private camps.

Pupils interested in going to camp will be give an opportunity to plan ways of earning money and then will be issued a United States Saving Stamp Book. Each pupil will be expected to save approximately a dollar a week for twenty-five weeks. This amount will then be matched by the parent on entrance to camp in the summer. This amount, $50, will pay all expenses except transportation to and from camp.

Activities at Camp North Woods are varied enough to keep the interests of all and provide for individual differences. Swimming, sailing, canoeing, fishing, track and field events, basketball, foot ball, archery, overnight hikes, woodcraft, puppets, tennis, softball, volleyball, badminton, leathercraft, plastics, photography, campfire entertainments, woodworking, aquaplaning, water sighting, etc., provide a wide range of activity from which to choose. The camp is divided into two divisions and each has its separate sleeping quarters and dining rooms as well as individual program. Juniors are 9 to 13 and seniors are 13 up so each group participates with pupils approximately their own age.

GUILD TO MEET

St. Peter's Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Glen Williams Thursday afternoon, February 5, at 2:30 o'clock. There will be a bake sale and dues will be payable at this meeting.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The World Day of Prayer will be observed by the community at the Baptist church, Friday afternoon, February 3, from 2 to 4 p.m.

8,000 Motors Destroyed By Blaze

The most destructive fire in Tecumseh's history on Sunday morning swept the main plant of the Mastercraft Products Company here causing damage to buildings and property estimated at $350,000. The first alarm was received by Tecumseh firemen soon after 7 a.m., and a second call, at 8 a.m., brought apparatus and firemen from nearby Clinton. It was not until noon that the blaze was completely under control and the danger of it spreading to nearby store buildings and houses was over.

The two-story-and-basement brick building razed by the flames was located on South Ottawa street, just off Chicago boulevard in the downtown section. It was owned by Leon P. Williamson.

The greatest loss was to some 8,000 gasoline motors, stored on the second floor of the building and owned by the Clinton Machine Company, the manufacturers. These motors had an estimated worth of $250,000 and when the second story floor gave way they plunged to the basement under tons of debris. The Clinton company leased the second floor of the buildings for warehouse purposes. The engines were covered by insurance.

The blaze, local firemen said, was one of the most stubborn they had ever fought. The 62-year-old building completely destroyed was constructed of brick and was about 100 feet in length and 50 feet in width. It was built by C. E. Williamson, the present owner's father, and for more than 30 years C. E. Williamson and L. P. Williamson conducted a wholesale produce business there. During the war, Mr. Williamson turned the building into a manufacturing plant, doing machine work on aeronautical parts. When the war ended he continued in the machining and stamping business.

The fire is believed to have started in the furnace room of the plant at the rear of the building. When firemen first arrived great clouds of smoke were coming from the furnace room section and it was at first believed, because of fire doors separating the several rooms in the plant, that the flames could be easily controlled. However, the fire ate its way through the floors and soon it was apparent that efforts to save the structure were futile.

"I thought that the building was fireproof," Mr. Williamson said in discussing the fire. "We had fire doors everywhere, and the heavy walls of brick, we thought, could turn back any fire." Recently he had spent more than $5,000 installing a freight elevator and in rewiring the plant throughout, electrically.

Because the main plant was used principally for storage, the work of the Mastercraft Products Company will continue practically uninterrupted. Nearly all of the plant's tools and machinery had been moved several months ago into a machine shop, also of brick, located about 30 feet to the west of the main building. This structure was not destroyed and there was no damage to the equipment in this building. However, the company had its offices in the main plant, and many records, office equipment, etc., and equipment in a paint room, also in the main building, were destroyed.

Mr. Williamson said that he was satisfied that the fire started in the furnace room of the plant. He said that he was in the plant Saturday evening and that the stoker was operating perfectly and that the thermostat had been set for 85 degrees as was customary on week ends.

The fire attracted thousands of people who stood in the near-zero weather to watch firemen throw tons of water onto the burning building from three pumpers. Houses and other buildings in the vicinity were flooded with water, also, to keep them from catching afire.

Firemen and policemen guarded the ruins throughout Sunday and Sunday night and several times flames shot skyward as the debris dried out sufficiently to permit burning. Twice Tuesday firemen returned to the scene to extinguish small fires.

A GOOD DOCTOR

Dr. Paul H. Nystrom, who teaches marketing at Columbia University, and in addition heads an organization made up of some of the country's principal variety stores, offers a ten point anti-inflation program. He observes that one of the main reasons for high prices is the excessive amount of money in circulation coupled with a foreign and domestic demand which is in excess of production. As a remedy, he rules out price controls and rationing, believing that the people of this country will not in peacetime, "submit to regulation and regimentation of their purchasing and consuming activities." His suggestions for fighting inflation include individual thrift, a reduction in government spending, tariff cuts, and discouragement of wage increases and extra dividends.

On the all-important subject of European aid, Dr. Nystrom argues that the dollars we appropriate for other nations should be spent as far as possible in countries which have surpluses that could go for export, and said, "Every part of the world demand for consumer goods now existing in this country that can be diverted to other countries even temporarily will help our producing economy to catch up and to meet the requirements of this demand."

Dr. Nystrom's program inspired an enthusiastic editorial in the Saturday Evening Post, which said: "Contrasted with the wisdom of statesmen who in one breath declare that we haven't enough surplus to aid Europe and in the next demand that all the money appropriated be spent in this country, Dr. Nystrom's recommendation is a shot out of the oxygen tank. It looks as if they haven't invited all the right professors to Washington."

Those who blame high prices on retail stores, manufacturers or any other groups are barking up the wrong tree. We have been dealing with symptoms instead of with causes — and Dr. Nystrom's remarks go to the heart of the problem.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

Lansing—Across the street from the towering General Motors building in Detroit is a billboard. It reads like this:

"Chrysler and GM (General Motors) can reduce car prices $150 and still make 8% profit. Now they make 20%."

Who is saying this with such emphatic finality?

The employees of these Detroit automobile plants through their collective bargaining agency, the United Automobile Workers' C. I. O. union!

Here is a 1948 symptom of the old, old conflict between capital and labor, between management and employees, over the profits of their combined efforts.

The two viewpoints are far apart. Automotive management has a healthy respect for the efficiency of modern machinery. It borders at times upon worship itself. We recall how one automobile plant manager said publicly that he could take any Michigan farm boy and in 30 days' time train him to operate the average machine in an automobile plant.

Employees' distrust is being agitated constantly by their union leaders who point to corporation record of steady profits.

General Motors produced 45.6 per cent of all automobile business in 1946; it was responsible for 35 per cent of all reconversion after V-J-Day. Its invested capital is $1,4400,000,000. Its average annual profits over a period of 11 years were $173,236,252. For 1942-44 the average annual net was $161,000,000. Between 1946 and 1944 inclusive, GM earned an average of 16.3 per cent on its invested capital.

Little wonder then that a labor official is quoted by John Gunther in his "Inside U.S.A." as saying: "GM is the most brilliantly operated company in the world."

Uppermost in the thinking of many automobile company executives is an apprehension over the future of "the American system of free enterprise." This is another way of referring to competitive capitalism whereby free men have an opportunity of getting ahead by risking dollars for profit.

We recall a dinner in Detroit's Fort Shelby hotel following a test run of GM's "Train of Tomorrow," Lansing to Detroit. Top officials of GM plants were there. They were an intelligent, agressive, democratic lot; rugged individualists all; two-fisted men who believed sincerely in hard work and good living. Their language was forceful; no "buts" and "ifs". Here was competition itself; you either delivered the goods or you were supplanted tomorrow by someone who did!

The American system of free enterprise achieved better standards of living for American citizens because it increased wages of the worker and, at the same time, lowered prices for consumers. Post-war inflation has reversed this historic trend.

Therein lies the dilema of the hour. Constant boosts of both wages and prices will lead inevitably to economic disaster.

Security Bonds Fight Inflation

NATION ASKED TO RETURN TO WAR-TIME SAVINGS TO REDUCE HIGH PRICES

By Gene Alleman
(Special To The Herald)

Lansing—"American security is YOUR security!"

That's the theme of a sure way to beat inflation. It's also the best protection known against a severe shock of deflation.

The other day we received an urgent invitation from the United States Treasury department. A conference to be held in Chicago. Newspapers were being called upon for a resumption of war-time patriotic service. The stakes were high: Survival of the American system of free enterprise itself.

What was it all about? Well, here's the story.

The cost of modern war is tremendous. It skyrocketed our national debt to 279 billions at the close of World War II. Today, it is 257 billions." The interest load alone is 5 billions each year, $9,000 every minute of the day and night, every day in the year.

Rising price of foodstuffs and clothing has prompted many bondholders — those families in the low income earning group — to turn in their bonds for cash.

During the war these families couldn't buy radios, washing machines, and other things for their homes. Credit was restricted by government. You couldn't buy diamond rings on credit. You had to pay cash.

And so Americans bought war bonds and, after the war, savings bonds. We waited until the post-war day when this bright new merchandise would be available. And, if you have been in department stores recently, you will agree that we Americans have been spending our money pretty freely. Christmas sales were the highest yet, and retail inventories are fairly low.

And yet, despite our rush to buy goods, we — the American people — hold a nestegg of 46 billion dollars in Uncle Sam's bonds. That's a lot of money. It is the best bulwalk available to cushion us against the shock of depression.

And so the Treasury Department, in cooperation with retailer and industrial leaders and farmers, is going to ask us to return to war-time saving as a way to lick the inflation. Instead of buying things we could get along without, we are asked to invest in Security Bonds of the United States government. Yes, that's the new name for them.

The Security bond campaign is to open February 15 in Michigan. It will close June 15.

A recent public opinion survey disclosed that 18 per cent of industrial wonkers were dissatisfied with the American free enterprise system, and another 22 per cent were "on the fence", neither favorable nor unfavorable.

This minority could become a majority, if the nation were to be plunged into a long depression. Dictatorships thrive when people are willing to trade freedom for food.

How can the effects of the business cycle be cushioned? First by saving money for the proverbial rainy day. Save!

That's why the new Security bond is your security.

Getting — THE MOST FOR YOUR FEED DOLLAR

Roland Mohr Says:

"We've got the kind of merchandise you can use with confidence. No matter what you come to buy at Hayden's every article is tops—whether it is a bag of salt or $1,000 worth of barn equipment."

When you look at a feed tag, you can note the different ingredients, but you can't determine the chemical and biological changes that will take place in the processes of digestion. Some minerals help each other, some vitamins help each other. There are many things that must be left to the knowledge and skill of the feed manufacturer — and these might be termed the "hidden ingredients" of a feed. Down through the years, the feeders of this area have learned to depend on Hayden's for these hidden ingredients. Make it a point the next time you are at Hayden's to inquire to just how some of the feeds are made. Learn first hand why Hayden's give you the most for your feed dollar.

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employes, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employes by an arbitration board in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947.

Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employes, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7% of all railroad switchmen, the other 93% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat

The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employes in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?

The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employes, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employes, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employes.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employes than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employes represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Are You "Hobby Happy?"

Funny thing about hobbies... When Ed Carey started making a model of the "Flying Cloud," it was only to rest his eyes from reading. But now he spends every spare moment ship modelling!

Some wives might have resented a husband suddenly shutting himself in the attic every night. But not Ed's Prudence. When she found him working late, she brought him up some beer and crackers... showed a real interest in his hobby ... until finally Ed had her helping with the rigging.

Wasn't long before they were working side by side on Ed's bench, sharing a common interest. Instead of keeping them apart, Ed's hobby brought them more together.

From where I sit, a husband's hobby can often be a wife's as well. In fact, I've got the missus interested in tying trout flies—and, along with that mellow glass of beer, it makes the evenings go by mighty pleasantly.

Consumers Co. Is Optimistic

BELIEVES BACK-LOG OF SERVICE APPLICATIONS WILL BE CAUGHT UP IN 1948

Hope that the waiting list for electrical service in the Jackson Division of Consumers Power Company will be wiped out during 1948 was expressed today by Herman H. Koelbel, division manager. The Jackson Division includes all of Jackson County and portions of Lenawee, Hillsdale, Monroe, Calhoun, Branch and Washtenaw counties.

During the war years, when construction of electric lines was restricted by government order, a large backlog of orders for service developed. After the War, material and manpower shortages slowed construction and at times new orders were being received faster than old orders could be filled. Construction began gaining on the waiting list in 1946 and increased its gains rapidly during 1947.

"We had 2,000 unfilled applications at the end of 1946," Mr. Koelbel said, "And during 1947 there were 2,100 new applications. Of this total of 4,100 applications, only approximately 800 are now unfilled, and most of these are of comparatively recent origin."

Construction of rural line extensions has progressed to the point that only 200 applications now are waiting for the construction of extensions to serve them.

"We're connecting new customers as fast as possible," Mr. Koelbel said, "And we hope that by the end of 1948 it will be possible to connect every new applicant without any extended waiting period. Because of conditions arising from the war, lots of people have had to wait months and even years. We appreciate the patience and the cooperative spirit they have shown.

With regard to rural line extensions, there must continue to be a considerable interval between the filing of the application and construction of the line, Mr. Koelbel pointed out, because of the necessity of surveying and engineering the proposed line extension, making title searches to determine ownership of the route, and obtaining the necessary easements.

Storm damage delays the construction program, he said, because construction crews must stop building new lines in order to repair those that have been damaged. It will be several weeks, according to Mr. Koelbel, before permanent repairs of all lines damaged in the recent sleet storm are completed.

"We think our construction crews have been making remarkable progress in recent months," he said. "Along with building new lines and repairing old ones they have had to rebuild and 'cut in' several distribution substations and establish several new ones, since increased use of electricity naturally requires greater substation capacity. A large amount of substation improvement and expansion work is included in our program for 1948."

THE OBJECTION

A man was buying a dog, and the shop assistant was very anxious to sell him a dachshund. But the prospective dog owner was evidently not very keen on this type of animal.

"What is it about the dachshund that you don't care for?" asked the assistant.

"They make such a draught when they come into the room. They always keep the door open so long."

THE EDITOR
TECUMSEH HERALD
TECUMSEH, MICH.

Dear Sir:

It was with a good deal of interest that I read in The Tecumseh Herald for January 22nd the account of Dr. H. H. Hammel's address before a recent meeting of the Tecumseh P.T.A., recommending universal military training.

The speaker's reputation for integrity, ability and patriotism enhance any stand the takes or any public word he utters. Because of his wide experience in two World Wars he is in a position wherein his words are weighted with personal prestige. Such a reputation seems to be thoroughly justified.

However, this same position is fraught with danger. Because a man is an authority on, for example, banking, people are apt to consider his opinion on social thought to have the same value as his opinion on economics. Obviously, this does not hold. Nor does it hold that the infantryman who fought the Germans is an authority on the functioning of the German General Staff. By the same token, a physician, be he ever so skilled in battle-field surgery, is in no better position to extol or condemn the worth of universal military training than is an Army chaplain. On such a topic both are likely to be wandering blindly into no-man's land. That may be all right except that the one or the other may also be leading someone else on the same dangerous journey.

Recognizing fully that the speaker's opinion regarding universal military training is sincere, let us examine the possible results from two approaches:

First, from the moral standpoint: There are several consequences to military training aside from the creation of a well-trained standing army, granted that a well-trained army is the result. We can't train a man's mind and his body without also shaping his character habits. If we could, there would be no need for this letter. The boys who go off to camp will come back men — in body and in mental training (if the propotents are as fortunate as they hope). But will you have a man come back? Will you have a man whose character is as disciplined as his body?

I once heard an army chaplain with 25 years' experience say that the best thing in the world for young men just out of high school is to be shipped off to a camp, "out of their old environment" where "they will be away from temptation." Don't we know boys well enough to know that unless care is taken to direct their natural quest for "manhood" (and a divine quest it is), they will take the obvious and the easiest and the gaudiest way to prove it? A change of environment won't solve the problem. These boys, despite their performance on the football field or in the turret of a B-17, are tender material. They must be guided skillfully. Their first-sergeant becomes their mother and father and big brother all rolled into one, and believe me, when he has to produce soldiers whose main job is fighting he is going to care jolly little for their drinking moderation or their sexual abstinence.

Presuming that a first-rate fighting man will result from the training as now outlined (a gratuitous assumption), what shall he gain, or what shall we gain, if "he lose his own soul." The Army does not, the Army can not, by throwing a group of boys together for a year of military training, build men's character.

With the doubtful possibility of winning the next war through sheer man-power, the risk is not so valuable as to justify throwing away our manhood, to say nothing of what may be left of Christian morality. It's time at last that we re-weighed our Christian values, for a civilization comprising a multitude of immoral "heroes" is not worth saving. I think that is becoming increasingly evident with the performance of some of our veterans today. Their performance cannot all be laid to "war nerves."

Second, from the military standpoint (and here both the speaker and I stand on thin ice), I rely on authority in the form of the statement of Dr. A. A. Bates, Vice-president, Portland Cement Co., Chicago. (from "Subcommittee Hearings on Universal Military Training," H.R. 4121, July 14,1947). According to Dr. Bates, the establishment of universal military training was for the various countries of Europe a signal for capitulation. On September 1, 1939, Poland was ready for war with 4,000,000 men under arms; France was ready with 8,000,000 men and the Maginot Line; Russia was ready with 14 or 15 million; Belgium, Holland, Denmark, and Germany with her millions. The War Department tells us that universal military training will shorten war. It did just that for Poland. By putting all her faith in the old, outworn, method of hand warfare, Poland precluded the possibility of any real defense.

"On April 9, the Nazi armies went into Denmark and Norway. Denmark fell in one day. Denmark had universal military training. Norway fell in a couple of weeks. Norway had universal military training . . . on May 10, the German armies went into Belgium and Holland. Holland fell in a couple of days. Belgium fell in five days. All of northern France fell in six days." The mass of the British army, 600,000 troops, was pushed into the sea at Dunkirk. How was the war finally won? A little group of scientists, producing radar, did what the tens of millions of compulsorily military-trained boys had been unable to do. Then in November, 1942, came the real turning point of the war. The American armada went into Africa carrying with it the vast potential of American industrial, technological and scientific strength. We do not even mention the predictable devastation of the atom bomb.

In his testimony Dr. Bates tells of the capture by his outfit of a Dr. Osenberg, who had been established by Hitler and Goering to head the German National War Council: "The first to question him, I asked, 'Why do you think you are losing the war?' Osenberg's answer was: 'Most importantly because Hitler insisted all our boys be in the Army, and he thereby completely disrupted the one great advantage Germany had — her research and her technological and her engineering supremacy.' "

I close this letter using Dr. Bates' final words at the hearing: "As a scientist, I tend to extrapolate historical data along with other data. In the Civil War, about seventy-five per cent of the soldiers engaged were foot soldiers; in World War I, about forty per cent; in World War II, about ten percent; in World War III, if I may extrapolate as a scientist, practically none . . . (The great nations of the world) have gone down in direct proportion to the extent to which they exploited military training."

For these two reasons alone, the moral risk and the military uncertainty, the advocation of compulsory military training must be seriously questioned.

Very sincerely,
Donald C. Wilson

HOW TO BE DISLIKED
Take 30 minutes of somebody's valuable time to tell something that could be told in three minutes.
If your friend looks a bit under the weather impress upon him that he might be nearly dead from some fatal disease without realizing it.
Make religion or politics your favorite topic of conversation; dont' just discuss them, argue about them.
Insist upon starting an argument when the other fellow said something merely to make conversation.
Make light of other people's accomplishments, especially those they are proud of.
Analyze your friend's mistakes when he is trying to forget them.
AND HOW TO BE LIKED
Be kind, charitable, sympathetic and understanding and practice the Golden Rule. Summing it up we quote the words of Jesus "Love your neighbor as yourself."

HOWDY FOLKS: Read in the paper last week that Bill Brown had fallen off a horse and broken his leg. Yesterday I saw Bill walking down the street — good as new. Guess he hadn't read the paper yet.

We got a real estate man in town that's the smoothest salesman in town. The other day he had a city fellow in his car showing him the town. They drove up Main Street and the salesman asks, "See that big building on your left over there?" City fellow says yes. Salesman says, "That was on your right when we drove down Main Street wasn't it?" Fellow says yes again. Then the real estate man says "that gives you an idea of how fast things change around here."

Luckiest guy in the world says he'd rather play cards with the worst kind of bad loser in town than any kind of a winner.

If You Work, You'll Be Interested

This is the fifth and last in a series of articles outlining the changes in the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act's administration which became effective January 1, 1948.

The plan to decentralize the claims-taking and claims-paying function of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, under terms of the revised law which governs the program has been explained in detail in the four articles which have preceded this one. James F. Moore, Executive Director, who, with his top staff, have spent six to six and a half days a week working out this plan, and all are of the opinion that it will have the effect of "localizing" the local office to an extent never before held possible.

It will bring the Commission employees closer to the claimants and the employers than they have ever been before, on strictly a community level.

A few of the advantages which will be changed, but were not stressed in the foregoing articles, are:

A. All records on a claim are to be kept in one office where they are readily accessible for easy and speedy reference.

B. There will be an elimination of the some 8,000,000 wage slips which heretofore have been wrung out of the employers annually and cross-indexed and filed in the Commissions' office. Only wage information needed is requested after the claimant files. This apprises the employer immediately that the claimant is seeking benefits, and is again available for work assuming that some might be available.

C. It also gives him an opportunity to protest the claim if the claimant's application is improper.

D. Every employer immediately receives a copy of each benefit check paid to a laid-off employee, and is thus afforded an immediate and a continuing check upon the progress of the claim. It may also have the effect of speeding the day when he can rehire the laid-off employee, and thus reduce his payroll tax though betterment of his "experience rating." This rating determines, through the number of benefit claims paid, the rate of tax to be paid by the employer. It varies from four percent to one percent, with the average at one and six-tenths percent.

E. Modern business machines are installed in local offices to minimize errors, the employer's name and address as well as the claimant's name and address are stamped automatically upon necessary documents, to further minimize error.

F. Employers' records shall be in shape to show earnings for each employee over at least a 30-week period preceding the filing of the claim, if the employee was working steadily and had a minimum of $8.01 per week average. It will be possible to make two check marks to indicate if the worker is entitled to maximum benefits. This will eliminate extensive and costly checking and tabulating.

G. When the claimant is separated from his job under circumstances which are disqualifying, no charge shall be made against the experience rating of the employer in whose plant such separating took place. It is recommended that employers advise the Commission if such separations are made, because without that information the claims examiner will not be able to make a proper determination.

Mr. Moore also stressed the functions of the Employment Service, a division of the Commission. The function of the Division is to find the unemployed worker a job, but it also counsels workers in their employment problems, aids handicapped workers by stressing certain placement techniques; renders special services to veterans.

Mr. Moore also asked the claimant to renew his application for work at the Employment Service office every 30 days. He must report when notified of a job opening. He must accept referral to a suitable job. He must report to the employer when referred. He must bring back a report from the employer if not hired.

Mr. Moore pointed out also that the Employment Service, as well as the Claims Division are free public services, and no fee is charged for any service rendered.

MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION
January 13, 1948

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. Touborg. Members present were Mr. Touborg, Mr. Spafford, Dr. Helzerman, Mr. Satterthwaite and Mr. Breitenwischer.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and of the Special meeting held on December 13, were read and approved.

Upon motion made by Dr. Helzerman and seconded by Mr. Spafford, the bills, as incorporated into the minutes, amounting to $8,387.24 were approved and ordered paid.

A progress report was given by the superintendent concerning the steps which had been taken in the planning for a new high school building since the time of the last meeting.

The superintendent also outlined plans which are being considered for a community camp program through which a large number of the children of the community might enjoy a limited period of camp experience during the Summer months. The program as outlined included the establishment of a regular savings program through which children might be encouraged to save a part of the cost during the year. The school, it was pointed out, would, under the plan, have only an indirect relationship with the program. The experiment might, however, it was agreed, have some implications for the future educational program of the community.

Following a discussion of the matter by the Board, it was moved by Dr. Helzerman and seconded by Mr. Spafford that the superintendent be authorized to investigate further the possibilities of the program as outlined and to cooperate with the program in case it appeared feasible. The motion was carried.

Upon motion made by Dr. Helzerman and seconded by Mr. Breitenwischer the meeting was adjourned.

R. F. Helzerman, M.D., Secretary

NATIONAL RECOGNITION TO LOCAL JERSEY BREEDERS

Columbus, Ohio—Brampton Jester Basileus 441200, a registered Jersey bull owned by Catherine B. and Curtis M. Brown, Tecumseh, Michigan, has been announced as a Superior Sire by The American Jersey Cattle Club, whose headquarters are here.

In qualifying for this distinctive honor, which indicates a sire's proven ability to transmit both high production and acceptable type to his daughters, the Cattle Club announced that he has 10 daughters tested for production. With all records computed to a 305 day twice daily milking mature basis, the daughters of this bull averaged 9302 pounds milk and 529 pounds butterfat per lactation. He also has 13 daughters classified for type with an average rating of 86.35 per cent based on the breed's score card indicating 100 per cent for a perfect animal.

The amount of butterfat produced by the daughters of this sire exceeds by more than two and one-half times the production of the average dairy cow in the United States.

Brampton Jester Basileus has been officially classified for type by The American Jersey Cattle Club earning the highest possible rating of Excellent.

This sire was bred by B. H. Bull & Son, Brampton, Ontario, Canada, and purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Brown in 1943.

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER ELEVEN | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, FEBRUARY 5, 1948 | FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Half Million To Be Spent for Houses

BUILDING OF 75 RESIDENCES IN TWO NEW SUBDIVISIONS TO BEGIN SOON

Construction of more than a half-million dollars worth of new housing in Tecumseh, the work to start within the next few weeks, was announced today by Robert H. Moore, of the R. S. Moore & Son Co., owners of lumber yards here and in Clinton, Britton and Dundee.

The project, Mr. Moore said, calls for the development of two subdivisions in the northwest section of the village, bounded by Brown and Union streets, to be known as Moore's First and Second Additions to Indian Acres.

Some 75 houses will be built in the subdivisions this year, Mr. Moore said, and there will be room on the site for approximately 25 more houses to be constructed at a later date. The dwellings will be built to FHA specifications and will contain four and six rooms and bath. They will sell in the $7,300 and $7,900 bracket.

The subdivision has FHA approval and at a session on Monday evening the village council authorized payment of the cost of furnishing water to the area.

In 1947 a national survey showed that on a per capita basis Tecumseh led all other communities in the country in home building. Mr. Moore is of the opinion that this lead can be maintained here during the coming months, due to the shortage of houses at the present time, and the proposed step-up in local industrial employment.

Discussing the building future for Tecumseh, Mr. Moore today expressed the opinion that at least 150 new houses would be built here in the coming year.

Russian Ex-Nobleman To Be Town Hall Speaker

Andrei Lobanov-Rostovsky, professor of history at the University of Michigan, will speak here on the Town Hall Series Tuesday evening, February 24, at 8:15, at the high school auditorium. His subject will be "The International Situation in the Light of Past History."

A former member of the Russian nobility, Prof. Lobanov was born in Yokohama, Japan, and was educated in Russia and France. He has been lecturing and teaching in the United States since 1930, however, and has been a naturalized citizen of this country since 1936. He joined the faculty of the University of California in 1930 and remained there until 1945 when he accepted the appointment of professor of history at the University of Michigan. Prof. Lobanov has also lectured extensively for other universities throughout the country.

During World War I, he served with both the Russian and French Armies and after the Armistice joined General Denikin in South Russia. Prior to coming to this country, he was recognized abroad as a journalist and a lecturer.

C. Of C. Favors Change In Gov't.

MAJORITY OF COUNCIL ALSO BELIEVES PRESENT VILLAGE FORM OUTMODED

Believing that Tecumseh would benefit by changing its government from village to city form, the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and four members of the village council Monday evening went on record as favoring a program looking to such a conclusion.

The meeting, between the Chamber and the village, was called at the request of the civic organization and was addressed by John Iglaeur of Ann Arbor, a representative of the Michigan Municipal League. Mr. Iglaeur explained the legal procedure necessary to bring about such a change, and told of the advantages enjoyed under city form that are not permitted under the present form of government.

Because of Tecumseh's steady growth during the past 10 years, and because it appears that the village will continue to grow and will add several thousands in population during the next few years, the Chamber feels that an improved form of government will be necessary to meet new and added responsibilities.

The Chamber board authorized Ronald E. Harris, secretary, to communicate with consulting engineers that the plan may be further studied. It is expected that a meeting with an engineer will be held here within a week or 10 days.

Watch The Hand On Park Meters

Some motorists, especially those in a hurry, and who are ignorant as to how the hands on the parking meters operate, have been complaining lately that they do not get their money's worth of time—at least not all of the time.

Here, Wade L. Jones, clerk, explains, is the reason:

If you insert a penny in a parking meter when the hands says that there still is four minutes to go before the expiration flag shows, you get only eight minutes additional time, or 12 minutes in all. That is because the meter mechanism is set up to record time in 12-minute intervals.

If, suppose, there was 30 minutes on the meter, and you inserted a penny, the hand would then register 36 minutes, so you would only get an added six minutes for your penny. That, again, is because the meter works on 12-minute divisions. If you inserted a nickel when the hand registered 30 minutes you would get one hour of parking, or 30 minutes for your nickel.

The way to avoid confusion, it was explained, is to watch the hand on the meter after the money has been deposited. Then motorists will know exactly how much parking time they have before the little red flag appears.

Mr. Jones also urged that motorists use more care in the parking of cars, having the front bumper even with the meter. If this is done driving in and out of parking spaces is much easier.

Farm Efficiency Is Rural School Topic

The second meeting of the Adult Farmers group met at the Grange Hall, Tuesday evening. The main topic for discussion was the farm efficiency factors. A discussion followed on the amount of labor needed for the various farm enterprises and the effect of good labor distribution on farm income.

It was established that there is a direct relationship between the number of productive hours put in on a farm and profit earned. The average ten hour days put in by a farmer in this area is 594.

Clinton Cagers Humble Indians

LOCAL TEAM NOW TIED FOR FOURTH PLACE; CLINTON IS NOW LCAA FAVORITE

(By Pat Wilson)

Last Friday night the Tecumseh high school cagers played Clinton at Clinton and lost a close, exciting game by the score of 35-33. Clinton, tied for first place in the L. C. A. A. were favorites because of their record of four wins and one loss. Tecumseh still stands tied for fourth place with Addison and Morenci.

The first quarter was fairly even with both teams showing offensive strength. The scoring was pretty evenly divided and the score at the end of the quarter stood at 9-9.

The second quarter was also very even. The game was tied several times. Both teams attempted to score an advantage but this was not possible, since they were so evenly matched. The half ended with the score 23-21 in favor of Clinton.

During the third quarter Tecumseh managed to outscore the Redskins 9-5 to gain a 2- point lead as the quarter ended. The fourth quarter was a climax to an exciting game. With one minute remaining Clinton scored a basket to put them in the lead 34-33. Three Tecumseh men had chances to tie up with free shots, but were all incapable of doing it. Then as the buzzer sounded ending the game there was a final foul called and Clinton sank the shot making the final score 35-33.

The Indians played good ball and showed excellent fight and spirit. Duaine Bellmore was high point man for Clinton with 13; Dick Cotson did the honors for the Indians with 11, while Norb O'Hara was a close second with nine.

Tecumseh's reserve team won a one-sided victory 41-21. Jerry Bowen was high point with 10 for Tecumseh. In the Junior High game, Tecumseh won by the score of 25-16. Dick Whelan was high point man for the Indians.

Tecumseh's next game is with Morenci here, Friday night.

SOWING DRAGON'S TEETH

The President's message on the State of the Union was, in one respect, frighteningly typical of the times. Like political leaders of countries all over the world, the President of the United States now advocates a government of virtually unlimited powers over the private citizen. The agenda includes compulsory health insurance, socialized electric power, the elimination of the free market via price control and rationing, and other vices to limit the activities of the individual. The list is long, and costly beyond comprehension.

Again it has been demonstrated that tyranny can be born of good intentions. The great tragedy is that to most people tyranny is just a word until they are confronted as individuals with the orders of political appointees from which there is no recourse and no escape. Tyranny threatens the country in proposed legislation and already exists in the activities of some public agencies that are not compelled to recognize local rights. The Tennessee Valley Authority is one illustration. As one observer points out: "TVA . . . is now a super government not subject to state or local authorities."

And TVA is the pattern for similar proposed Federal projects throughout the nation! Last summer a bill was introduced in congress for a Columbia Valley Authority. Among other things it provided the maximum size of farm units . . ." The Reclamation Bureau has been advocating a similar expropriation program in California.

Can anyone in his right mind deny that such programs bear the seeds of tyranny? A people's only hold on political freedom is rooted in economic freedom and the sanctity of private property. When these are undermined representative government inevitably founders.

COMMUNICATIONS

Tecumseh Michigan
31 January 1948

Tecumseh Herald

Dear Sir:

In your issue of 29 January on page eight, was printed a communication from the Rev. Donald C. Wilson, concerning an "address" that I gave before a recent meeting of the Tecumseh P.T.A. regarding Universal Training of our young men.

First, I wish to most sincerely thank the Rev. Mr. Wilson for the kind sentiments expressed in paragraph two.

In paragraph three the statement is made, "By the same token, a physician be he ever so skilled in battle field surgery, is in no better position to extol or condemn the worth of universal military training than is an Army chaplain. On such a topic, both are likely to be wandering blindly into no-man's land." That is taking in a great deal of territory!! In the first place, it would depend on which doctor or which chaplain was speaking! For over thirty years, I have made an intensive study of military history, military training and training of civilians for war time service. For over twenty-five years I have been an instructor of these subjects.

The office of the Surgeons General U. S. Army and the University of Michigan considered me competent to direct a Military School of Instruction at the University of Michigan for some 14 years. For these reasons, if no other, I feel that I am qualified to speak on the subject of Universal Training.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, in his first paragraph states that he "read in The Tecumseh Herald", the account of my remarks at the P.T.A. meeting. Had he attended the meeting and heard what was said, and had he entered into the interesting round table discussion, and question and answer session, that evening, he would have had a better understanding of what the proposed training plan consists. In a private conversation with Mr. Wilson in my office a few day ago, I found that he does NOT know the details of the proposed plan for Universal Training. Until I mentioned it to him he was entirely ignorant of the fact that at Fort Knox, Kentucky, there is in operation an experimental training unit, different than anything that has ever been tried before, at any time in the world's history.

Personally, I feel that our newest effort should NOT be called Universal Military Training. It should be called Universal Defense Training or just Universal Training. You ask, what is the new training idea? 29 May 1947, the following letter was received by the President of United States:

"The President,
The White House, Washington, D.C.
Dear Mr. President:

Your Advisory Commission on Universal Training has the honor of submitting to you its unanimous report and recommendations.

In your original charge to us, and in subsequent discussion with you, it was clear that your concern for the security of our country penetrates beyond the aspects of military organizations into those deeper attributes of character and physical and mental figures which must be the basis of effective service by the citizens to his country.

Universal training cannot be valuated except in its relation to, and its effect upon many other activities. Hence with your approval, we have considered international, economic, educational, medical, and religious implications. We have envisaged possible types and risks of future war; and have studied the various requirements of military strategy to avoid these risks if possible and to overcome them if necessary. We have sought and secured information, ideas, advice, and criticism from individuals and organizations of many types and interests, and have given most serious consideration to all the problems involved.

Out of these studies we have come to a clear, unanimous, and strong conviction about the course which our country should follow in respect to universal training in the forseeable future. We recommend this course as a wise and prudent investment in American security, liberty, and prosperity. The recommendations and supporting analyses are set forth in the accompanying report.

Joseph E. Davies,
Harold W. Dodds,
Truman K. Gibson, Jr.
Daniel A. Poling,
Anna M. Rosenburg,
Samuel I. Rosenman,
Edmund A. Walsh,
Charles E. Wilson,
Karl T. Compton, Chairman."

I wish every good citizen (AND BAD!) would read the report. One of the best things the American Legion has done in many years, was to publish this report. It is a 94 page booklet entitled, "Basic Report of President's Advisory Commission on Universal Training." Those who are sincere in knowing what it is all about should write to "The American Legion, National Defense Division, Indianapolis, Indiana, for a copy.

It is my personal opinion that another war is NOT inevitable. Europe needs help. Some sort of Marshall plan is necessary to protect part of Europe from the wolves that are snapping at her heels! With a little co-operation, the United Nations is a workable plan! BUT we must be able to protect our selves should the wolves attack us!

Unless Western Europe has our help financially morally and otherwise, the Eastern-Europe "Steam Roller" will take over, and if that happens, it will be a matter of time only until the holocaust will STRIKE. You cannot hope and wish and pray rattlesnakes into being decent. Future warfare (if any) will be so rapid and destructive that if we neglect our national defense as we did after World War I, we very definitely WILL NOT SURVIVE as a nation. (Reference article in Detroit Free Press, 31 January 1948!!!).

The day World War II ended, what we had learned to date was worthless as far as preparedness for, and an adequate national defense for any future conflict. Literally, it has been necessary for us to "throw out of the window" our old books and ideas on preparedness. See "basic Report" above mentioned.

Very few people realize that in the proposed universal training program, these boys will NOT be in the Army. They cannot and will not be used as soldiers. A civilian commission appointed by the President will be in charge of policies, etc. Specially selected and trained Army personnel will do the instructing.

In paragraphs 4-5-6 and 7, Mr. Wilson discusses the moral standpoint. "Basic Report" pages 72 to 75 goes into detail regarding the proposed plan. Certainly no minister of the gospel can find fault with that program. For example, just one small point: It is proposed to make it a federal offense to sell alcoholic beverages or narcotics to a trainee, assaulting a trainee, prostitution, etc., etc. Under this program a young man would not be exposed to one half the temptation that he is exposed to in Tecumseh. There is, as you will see, if you read "Basic Report," a definite character building program such as has NEVER BEFORE been attempted by any nation.

In paragraph seven of Mr. Wilson's communication he states, "Its time at last that we re-weigh our Christian values, for a civilization comprising a multitude of immoral "heroes" is not worth saving." I am of the opinon that there are hundreds of thousands of mothers, fathers, husbands and wives who will take serious exception to that remark. Why criticize all the decent, sincere, veterans due to the performance of a minority?

I have always been under the impression that the true Christian tries to lift up the sinner. I have, in civil life and in the Army, seen many who were really converted and made good citizens. Indeed I do agree that we SHOULD re-weigh our Christian values!

After all who are "the people?" Who is "the Army?" Who is "the Navy?" You and me and our sons and daughters who were in the service. Were we all immoral heroes???

From an active military service spread over 35 years, I am convinced that the morals in our Army and Navy were, and are, NO WORSE than in Tecumseh or New York! You say "nothing ever happens in Tecumseh." That's what you think! The veneral rate in the Army and Navy is no greater than in our own community. Ask your doctor! The percentage of drunkenness is not as great as here at home. In the government services the individual has as much privacy as a gold fish. He takes a drink and everyone knows it. Drinking at home, well there is plenty of it, and pretty well under cover.

In paragraph 9 Mr. Wilson states that Nazi Oseenberg said Hitler disrupted the great advantage Germany had by putting all youths in the Army, thus interrupting her research and engineering efficiency. There is some truth in that statement. And don't think that we who have been students of military history are over looking that bet! In the new plan of training, after the basic training, our boys will have this opportunity to be trained in science, engineering, etc. etc., if they are adaptable and have the intelligence. Some will be selected to attend universities, etc., etc. For details see the "Basic Plan."

Another item of great importance, this training plan would filter out all those nervously and mentally unfit for military service, and place many of them somewhere in our civilian national defense program, where they could be of some service to the country instead of a liability and a hindrance in the Army and Navy.

In paragraph ten, in the quotation of Dr. Bates' final words, there is considerable merit in what he says. If there ever IS a World War III, there will be a greater need than ever dreamed of before, for a complete mobilization of all able bodied citizens. The atomic age is here. WE WOULD NEED A LARGE TRAINED GROUP IN EVERY COMMUNITY CAPABLE OF WITHSTANDING AND DEALING WITH THE PROBLEMS OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE AND MASS DISASTER RESULTING FROM BOMBING ATTACKS. We must be trained, we need a truly Universal Training program.

Again, regarding the moral issue, if we, as fathers and mothers have done our job properly, if our children have the proper moral fibre born into them then we need not hesitate to let them take part in our national defense program. A certain minority will go wrong just as quickly here at home as in the Army and Navy.

I do not have the time or inclination to enter into a series of discussions regarding this matter. I just ask every good citizen to find out what it is all about before critizing adversely our proposed training program. Again, read "Basic Report."

It is hoped that this discussion may bear some fruit in stimulating some of our citizens into becoming interested in this subject, and I am confident, when every good citizen has a clear idea of what is planned, that this program will be supported whole-heartedly by the people of United States.

Sincerely and Respectfully,

H. H. Hammel

BRIEFLY—THE STORY OF THE BLUE CROSS PLAN

NATIONALLY—In 1929 a group of teachers in Dallas, Texas persuaded Baylor University Hospital to agree, for a small sum each school semester to provide 21 days of hospital care for anyone of them who needed such care. The experiment proved successful. Other hospitals learned about the plan and took similar action. Thus Blue Cross was born.

Meanwhile, the medical profession was investigating methods of pre-paying medical care. Studies were made at home and abroad by the Michigan State Medical Society and from this and other research conducted by the medical profession, the present voluntary pre-payment medical care plans were developed.

IN MICHIGAN—The start of Blue Cross in Michigan can be traced to a group of doctors, hospitals, and business leaders who formed what is now known as Michigan Hospital Service—Michigan Medical Service. Special legislation was adopted to enable Blue Cross to function as non-profit corporations and in early 1939 the first hospital care certificate was issued. The medical-surgical Plan—Michigan Medical Service began active operation several months later. Michigan Medical Service was one of the first professionally sponsored medical pre-payment plans in the United States and is credited with developing many of the practices in this field which today are standards for non-profit pre-payment plans across the nation.

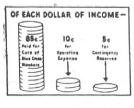
ORGANIZED AND OPERATED BY THE DOCTORS

Blue Cross Medical-Surgical Care Plan (Michigan Medical Service) like the hospital care plan, is operated by those who render the service—the doctors themselves. It was organized and developed by the Michigan State Medical Society to enable the people of this state to budget against the unexpected costs of medical-surgical care.

AND THE HOSPITALS

Blue Cross (Michigan Hospital Service) is operated in the public interest by the voluntary non-profit hospitals of Michigan. It is the only program in Michigan for the pre-payment of hospital care that is approved by the Michigan Hospital Association and the American Hospital Association.

FOR WHOLLY NON-PROFIT OPERATION AND PUBLIC SERVICE



Blue Cross is operated as a public service without profit to anyone. Blue Cross payments to hospitals and doctors for the care of its subscribers have averaged 85c of each dollar of income, about ten cents is used for operating expenses, the balance is reserved for contingencies. No bonus, dividend, or commission is paid anyone—Blue Cross is truly non-profit.

HOW YOU MAY ENROLL IN BLUE CROSS

If you work where five or more persons are employed your group is eligible for Blue Cross protection. Write today to Michigan Hospital Service, 234 State Street, Detroit 26. Our representative will be happy to call and outline in detail how easy it is for your group to enjoy the benefits of Blue Cross—America's fastest growing pre-payment plan for Hospital, Medical-Surgical Care. If you are self-employed, retired or unable to meet group requirements you may enroll through the Community Enrollment Plan during special enrollment campaigns—watch your local newspapers for campaign dates in your community.

A Report to the People of Michigan from their Doctors' and Hospitals' Own Non-Profit, Voluntary Program for the Pre-payment of Hospital, Medical-Surgical Care.

IN 1939 BLUE CROSS enrolled its first member in Michigan. Since that time the growth of this voluntary, non-profit program for the pre-payment of hospital, medical-surgical care has been spectacular. Today 1,200,000 persons share in this community plan—a cooperative effort between hospitals, doctors of medicine and the public to provide hospital, medical-surgical care to everyone without financial strain upon anyone.

Blue Cross is truly a PUBLIC TRUST, which by strict adherence to principles of non-profit operation, has returned to its members more than $70,000,000 in services for needed hospital, medical-surgical care. From the modest average of $57,000 per month paid to hospitals and doctors in early 1940, the Blue Cross Plans today are paying one-and-one-half million dollars a month for care rendered to Michigan subscribers. This record of public service is not approached by any other program of its kind in this State.

In spite of rising hospital costs Blue Cross has not deviated from its original policy of providing "Service" not cash. Thus, today Blue Cross protection is more valuable than ever before. The financial strength and actuarial soundness of the Blue Cross program is reflected in the Statement of Condition summarized below.

The more than 4200 doctors of medicine who share in the operation of Michigan Medical Service, as developed by the Michigan State Medical Society, and the 144 non-profit hospitals in Michigan, which operate Michigan Hospital Service are proud of this record of accomplishment and submit to the people of this State a report on their Blue Cross stewardship:

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Do You Have Noisy Neighbors?

A lot of the neighbors were suddenly annoyed by Jeb Crowell's hammering at night. Jeb was building himself a new front porch—and the only time that he could give to it was after sundown.

Finally we decided the best thing to do was all pitch in and help—and get the carpentry over with as soon as possible. We did. Finished the porch next evening—and Jeb gratefully treated us to ice cold beer and cider.

From where I sit, that's what being a good neighbor means. Instead of complaining about the other fellow's habits, try to understand and share his interests.

So if my practising on the flute annoys you, come on over, neighbor, with your fiddle or guitar and join me! Maybe it will end up in our knowing and appreciating one another better ... in an evening of good fellowship. And I'll promise to provide the beer that goes with evenings of good fellowship!

A Burned Finger Can Be Very Painful

Only recently a woman visited our store and inquired if we knew what she might use to relieve the pain of a grease burn. She had burned her fingers while working in her kitchen.

Of course, we recommended an ointment that gave almost instant relief. We also told her that she should keep "first aid" remedies handy in her medicine cabinet.

Injuries should be treated immediately. If however, they fail to respond to home treatment, call your doctor. He knows what should be done and we know how to fill his prescriptions, with fresh, potent drugs.

Seems they were blasting stumps in the barnyard one day, and the hog ate a box of dynamite. Well, the hog wandered too close to a mule and got kicked. Other secretaries attending the meeting were Charles Sreenan, Detroit, chairman of the committee; Harry Shearer, Detroit; Otis Cook, Lansing; Ambrose Maxwell, Bay City; Alex McFayden, Grand Rapids; and P. H. Murdick, Grand Haven, president of the state association.

SAYS ARIZONA GREAT PLACE TO SPEND WINTER

"Arizona is a great place to spend the winter," writes E. H. Oliver of Britton. Mr. Oliver arrived there December 13 of last year and is enjoying it. He writes: "I am writing this from the Land of the Sun. There has been only one day since I arrived here on the 13th of December, 1947, that we haven't seen the sun. The orange and grapefruit trees are still loaded with fruit, but they are picking and packing all the time. The farm land is very fertile where they can irrigate and they sow lots of wheat for pasture. The stock runs out all winter and the stables where they milk the cows are all open. After the milking the cows are run back into the corral and then are put in the pasture. There are some beautiful valleys, with no water, to be cultivated when water is available. This is sure a great place to spend the winter.'

Roland Mohr

Probably you've met him, and many a time enjoyed his genial wisecracks or profited by his practical suggestions. As elevator superintendent at Hayden's in charge of Hayden's feed formulae and mixing, he's admirably fitted for the job. He's an honest-to-goodness son of the soil; for generations his folks have been farmers; he has a real appreciation of farmer's problems. And in addition, HE KNOWS FEEDS — having probably done more consistent studying than 95% of the men engaged in this work. Bring your feeding problems to Roland Mohr for a worthwhile solution.

ROLAND MOHR SAYS:

"Old Ben Franklin once remarked: 'The worst wheel of the cart makes the most noise;' and maybe some of you folks who come to Hayden's for advice as well as feed think that hits the nail right on the head when it comes to my talking.

"But in rubbing elbows with farmers every day, I reach some conclusions that I pass on to you for whatever they're worth. For instance, take the hog outlook; you keep thinking about the next corn crop and how it will affect things.

"Well just remember this, that we never had two bad seasons in succession, and you can bank on a normal crop in '48. And with a normal crop, just watch some folks scramble to get back in the hog business, for corn will be cheap and hogs high.

"If you haven't many sows to farrow this spring, you should have some to farrow in late June. Or buy some bred sows if you can — and get them in first class condition with Hayden's Sow and Pig Balancer. Hasten to Hayden's. Let's talk things over."

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

WHY DOES TECUMSEH NEED HUNDREDS OF NEW HOUSES?

Less Than 30% of Products Workers Live in Tecumseh

Less than one-third of the Tecumseh Products Company's employees—now one of the largest single employers of labor in all Lenawee county—reside in this village, a survey of the time cards at the local plant revealed today.

The Products company, on Monday of this week, had 2,404 persons on its payroll which this year will exceed $7,500,000.

Of that number, only 716, or less than thirty per cent, live in Tecumseh, the time cards showed.

From Adrian come 341 persons daily who are employed here, 155 from Britton, 153 from Dundee, 129 from Blissfield, 122 from Clinton and 94 from Petersburg. Other employees are scattered over a wide radius within daily or week-end driving distance.

"I didn't realize that so few of our employees actually lived in Tecumseh until we made the check-up," Ray W. Herrick, president of Products, said today.

"I have contended for a long time that Tecumseh needs more housing; two, three or four hundred houses immediately, and I believe that when these figures have been digested it can readily be seen why housing is necessary," Mr. Herrick continued.

"If 700 more of our employees, or roughly half of our total employees, resided here it would mean that between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 more in payroll would remain in Tecumseh. Think how business would benefit; think how everybody would benefit, including our own employees who dislike to drive long distances to and from their work every day," Herrick continued.

Rumors recently were heard as far away as Adrian that Products had laid off some 800 men. Such a rumor, Mr. Herrick said, was without foundation. It all started he said, when some 67 men were temporarily laid off because of a production line change. They were out of work only a day or two and now, instead of laying off men, Products is again hiring men.

"We expect to step up our production and our payroll by about 100 in the next few weeks," the Products president said.

Robert H. Moore of the R. S. Moore & Son Co., lumber dealers here, announced plans last week for the building of 75 houses here this Spring and summer. There are other rumors to the effect that as many more houses will be built here during the same period.

"Certainly we need houses in Tecumseh and we need them badly," Herrick said. "It's wrong that more than two-thirds of our total employment should reside outside the village. In my opinion, at least one half or two thirds of our employment should live here, and I hope that building will progress efficiently so that such a figure will be possible in 1949. Every day men come to me and ask how soon new housing will be available for them in Tecumseh. I sincerely believe that if 300 houses were available here tomorrow morning all of them would be occupied in 30 days.

The list of the towns and the number of employees from each town who work at Products factory follows:

Another $150,000 Addition

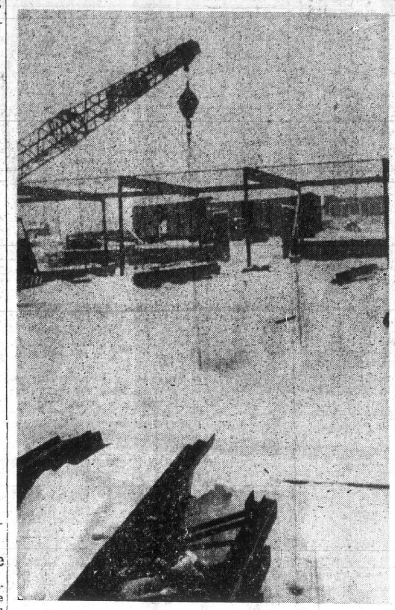

Photo shows a section of the new $150,000 addition at the Tecumseh Products Company's plant here, which will be completed in March and increase the total floor space of the factory to 420,000 square feet. This is the second addition to the plant within a year, the company having occupied an addition about January 1 that cost some $350,000. When the new addition is completed and production is started there, some 100 more employees will be added to the payroll which now numbers 2404.

'T' Day Program Planned By C. C.

PLANS CALL FOR CLOSING OF STORES, INSPECTION OF PRODUCTS, AND BANQUET

A "T" Day Celebration, one of the biggest civic affairs in Tecumseh's history, has been announced for Friday, February 27, by Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Plans call for all-day, all-out support of a program being launched by the Chamber, which includs an inspection of the Tecumseh Products Company's factory in operation, and, in the evening, a civic banquet, to be attended by some 350 persons.

The purpose of the celebration, Mr. Harris said, briefly, is this:

1. To acquaint residents of the magnitude of the Products plant, now one of the largest employers of labor in all-Lenawee county.

2. To awaken Tecumseh to the need for more housing if the community is to get a greater share of the benefits of the $7,500,000 annual payroll at the plant.

3. The need for still more houses if Tecumseh is to expand with Products as it continues its steady growth. Products now employes 2,404 persons. In 60 days this number will be increased by at least 100.

4. To launch a program for the building of low-cost, well-constructed houses within the reach of the average worker. At present only 716 of the 2,404 employed at Products reside here. The Chamber believes that at least one-half of Products employees should call Tecumseh their home.

5. To acquaint residents of the immediate need for increased public school facilities. Present school buildings are taxed beyond capacity and classes are meeting in the public library and St. Peter's parish house. Soon, it was said, more space must be found to accommodate increased enrollments.

6. Show plans and means of financing the building of the proposed houses.

"Tecumseh faces a great challenge, one that comes to a community of its size only once in a lifetime, and, in my judgment, the meeting that the Chamber board and committees have planned for the 27th is one that should not be missed by a single resident who is interested in his home town," was the way Mr. Harris summed up the announcement.

"As I see it," Harris said, "Tecumseh is on the threshold of the biggest advancement in its history. Decisions must be made and problems decided. The entire community, the Chamber believes, should help to make these decisions. It is important, therefore, that every Chamber member, and others who are not members, be in attendance at the meeting."

Harris said that plans call for "open house" at the Products plant all day on Friday. Guided parties will be shown through the factory between 9:30 a.m., and 3:30 p.m. Those who do not have transportation to the plant will be furnished cars.

"We want Tecumseh folk to know just what kind of a factory they have here, and how it is growing," Harris said. "We believe that once they realize its size, and some of the community's growing pains, they, too, will better grasp some of the community problems."

In the evening, at the banquet, the speakers will include Ray W. Herrick, president of Products. It is expected that he will tell something of his company's future plans, and explain, from a manufacturer's viewpoint, some of the things needed in the community if it is to keep pace with the growth of industry. Robert H. Moore, of the R. S. Moore & Son Co., local builder, also will be on hand to submit housing project proposals.

The program calls for the closing of the stores here on Friday afternoon, February 27, to permit business men and their employees to visit the Products plant. The public schools also will be closed during the afternoon.

A committee has been named to take charge of the celebration as follows: Ned Baldwin and M. G. Partridge, co-chairmen; R. H. Moore, E. A. Collins, Clarence Gilman, Paul Wolf, LeRoy Titley, S. H. Smith, Charles Mensing, John Zeigler and Ernest Green.

Tickets for the banquet, which will be limited to 350, will go on sale within a week.

$150,000 Addition To Products

BUILDING WILL BE READY IN MARCH; WILL ADD 100 MORE TO THE PAYROLL

Another addition to the Tecumseh Products Company, increasing the factory floor space by some 36,000 square feet and costing approximately $150,000 will be completed in March, Ray W. Herrick, president of Products, said today.

The brick and steel construction, connecting the old Products plant with the Philco building, purchased the first of the year, is costing about $100,000 to build. Machinery in the plant will cost $50,000. The space will be used to build air conditioning units, a new product with the company.

Mr. Herrick said that when the new plant is opened about 100 men will be added to the payroll. This week, Mr. Herrick announced that 2,404 persons were employed by Products.

Soon after the first of the year Products occupied an addition connecting Plants No. 1 and No. 2, which was constructed at a cost of about $350,000. The factory now has some 430,000 square feet of floor space and is one of the largest single employers of labor in all of Lenawee county, with a payroll for 1948 estimated at $7,500,000. The company's sales this year are expected to reach $50,000,000.

With fewer than 30 per cent of its employees residing in Tecumseh, the company's steady growth is taxing the village's housing capacity despite the fact that more than 300 new houses have been built here in the past few years. Building plans for 1948 call for the construction of 150 or more new houses this year, but it was pointed out that even this number will not near meet the demand for living quarters.

The Chamber of Commerce is at the present time studying a housing program which, if it can be worked out, will further boost the building program for the village during the coming months.

TWO PARTY CAUCUSES FRIDAY AND TUESDAY

The Peoples Party will hold its caucus on Friday evening, February 13, at the Council Building, and the Progressive Party will caucus next Tuesday evening, February 17, at the same place, it was announced.

The fact that two caucuses will be held means that there will be two tickets in the field when local voters go to the polls in March to choose a village president and three members of the council; a clerk, treasurer and village assessor.

Surgeons O.K. Local Hospital

INSTITUTION PRAISED WITH OTHERS IN REPORT ISSUED BY AMERICAN COLLEGE

For the way in which hospitals are recovering from the effects of the greatest war in history, which ended less than two and a half years ago, their administrators, trustees, medical staffs, and all their personnel deserve the highest praise, declares Dr. Irvin Abell, chairman of the board of regents of the American College of Surgeons, in announcing that 3,143 hospitals in the United States and Canada qualified for approval following the thirtieth annual survey completed December 31, the results of which are published in the December issue of the College Bulletin just issued.

Tecumseh Hospital is on the provisional approved list of the hospital announced. Hospitals so approved have accepted the requirements of the College of Surgeons and are endeavoring to put them into effect, but for lack of time or other acceptable reasons have not been able to do so in every detail, the announcement said. Bixby hospital, Adrian, also is on the provisional list.

Dr. Abell added: "It is a satisfaction to state that, in general, the service rendered by our hospitals today, despite the high costs, shortages of personnel, and other difficulties which persist, is worthy of warm commendation. Numerically, the new Approved List shows only a small increase of 25 hospitals over last year, which is partly because of the omission of some 75 United States Army hos-

VAN'S PASTRY SHOP TO REOPEN, FRIDAY

New Hi School Site Is Chosen

PROPOSED $400,000 BUILDING WILL BE ON MAUMEE STREET; PLANS RUSHED

The board of education, in session Monday evening with representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, reaffirmed its decision to locate Tecumseh's new proposed $400,000 high school on North Maumee street, adjoining the Recreation Center on the east, and instructed W. L. Berkhof, superintendent, to proceed with plans for the building and its financing.

The board's action came after Wilford Clapp of the Department of Public Instruction, Lansing, had visited Tecumseh last week and canvassed several sites considered for the new construction. Mr. Clapp favored a site off West Brown street and outside the village for the building because of its size, about 20 acres. However, because he believed that the Maumee street site would be nearer to the center of population as Tecumseh grows, he agreed that the building should be located there even though only 10 acres are available.

Mr. Berkhof said that an engineering firm would proceed immediately with the plans for the proposed two-story building and it is hoped that all legal machinery and red tape can be cleared away so that construction of the building may be started in late summer. If foundations can be laid, it was pointed out, the building can then proceed through the winter months and be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1949.

In all probability the proposed building proposal will be submitted to an election in April. Present plans call for the financing of the construction through the establishment of a sinking fund and bond issue which will not exceed 10 mills for a five year period. Three years ago the district authorized a sinking fund issue as a nest egg for construction and this now contains some $45,000. Some $32,000 will be added in the next two years.

A meeting to acquaint voters with the proposed building and financing plans will be held here within a few weeks, as soon as details of the program have been assembled. Condemnation proceedings to gain possession of the proposed site are now under way in the courts.

Meeting with the board of education at its meeting on Monday were Robert H. Moore, John R. Thompson, M. G. Partridge and Ronald E. Harris from the Chamber of Commerce.

There was little other business to come before the board at its Monday meeting. It authorized the holding of an immunization clinic at the schools on March 2, under the direction of the Lenawee County Health Department. Immunization shots will be given for diphtheria and small pox. Letters to parents advising them of the program will be sent out shortly.

W. L. Berkhof will attend a meeting of the National School Superintendents in Atlantic City, February 22-26.

Products Band Makes Hit At Rotary Club Dinner

The Tecumseh Products Company's orchestra, making its first public appearance at a civic function, was well received Tuesday evening when it furnished music for the Rotary Club's Ladies Night dinner-program at the high school. The orchestra, under the direction of William Damon, appeared through the courtesy of Products and its president, Ray W. Herrick. Although a new organization, it promises to fill a long-felt need for such a group in the community, and, judging from its Tuesday reception, in all-Lenawee county.

Miss Alberta Worden, Alaskan traveler and adventuress, was the guest speaker. Miss Worden spent some two years in Alaska and she showed scores of stereoptican pictures in color. Her talk was very interesting and the pictures were beautiful.

John R. Zeigler, president, presided and welcomed the Rotary Anns, and C. O. Butler, vice-president, presented the speaker. The invocation was by the Rev. B. O. Bashore and group singing was directed by R. H. Moore with Mrs. Glenn Driscoll at the piano. Some 134 members, wives and guests were in attendance.

STORES AND IDEOLOGIES

It isn't often commented upon, but retail stores here and in the Soviet Union are an excellent example of essential differences between free enterprise and government enterprise.

In Russia, for instance, there are various "classes" of stores. A few modern shops carry good stocks and go in for attractive displays and high standards of service. But these stores, under present policy in the workers' paradise, are open to only a relatively few top level people—important officials, high-ranking officers, artists whose work is in favor with the ruling clique, foreigners with diplomatic status, etc. The stores which the masses of the people can patronize are dreary and dirty, and carry only the barest of necessities and few of those. The worker has to deal in the black market to keep alive. There isn't, of course, any competition between stores—the state owns and runs them all, and the customer is always wrong.

By comparison, America has the finest retail system in the world. Every store is in direct competition with many others. Chains and independents, department stores and supermarkets, specialty shop and mailorder houses, are all out for the business. The customer is king, and every possible device is used to attract him—courteous service, lower price, interesting advertising, colorful displays, and so on. Anybody can buy wherever he pleases, and if he doesn't like one store he is free to take his money down the street. The average Russian just wouldn't believe the truth about American retailing—just as, living in his totalitarian darkness, he wouldn't believe what free enterprise achieves for all the people.

COMMUNICATIONS

Tecumseh Herald

To the Editor:

The writer commends Dr. Hammel and Rev. Wilson on bringing the matter of Universal Military Training to the attention of Tecumseh Herald readers.

It is generally agreed amongst students of this subject that the program proposed by our government leaders and military-minded drum beaters, is sugar-coated and unrealistic and is the result of a "fear of Russia" campaign, promoted by certain international and national organizations who are not interested in the preservation of the American way of life.

On the other hand we are concerned about those who would oppose Universal Military Training because of the effect of war on human character or the failure of compulsory military training to prevent wars, without at least suggesting some way to meet the realities that we Americans face, at home and abroad in a world not yet developed, to conduct it's affairs according to the principles taught by Christ.

Why cannot we accept the fact that war is still a possibility, that most of a man's life is spent in the pursuit of peace and happiness, that good health, sound mind, an active spirit, are essential to successful peacetime or wartime activity; that 40 per cent of our young men at the age of 18 were found unfit for military training, indicating that the same thing may be true as far as peacetime living is concerned. (Look at youth delinquency, growth of institutions for defectives, lack of sufficient skilled help to meet the demands of our industrial society, the struggle for security without responsibility, etc.) Allowing that about 16 per cent of the children born will develop defects through causes beyond human control, why not start an American way of preparing boys and girls for life when they are turned over to the community in our public school system. Educate them in good health in order that 84 per cent instead of 60 per cent will be fit to defend their country in case of war, develop and train sound minds through proper use of hands and natural abilities, teach them responsibilities to their home, parents, fellowmen, community, church and school, etc. Let the doctors who are afraid of socialized medicine serve this type of a program in the same spirit they now serve their country in the armed forces, realizing that we are not only in danger of losing a possible war, but losing man's greatest desire, "peace and happiness."

For those who wonder where the money is coming from to do this job, use some of the money that now is used for preparing and waging wars. Good things you pay for in advance, bad things, like war, you pay for in the future and for every dollar you pay in advance there will be three dollars you will not to have to pay in the future.

Let's fight for peace that we will be fit to fight a war, so those who would wage war, dare not!

Sincerely yours,
George A. Schumm

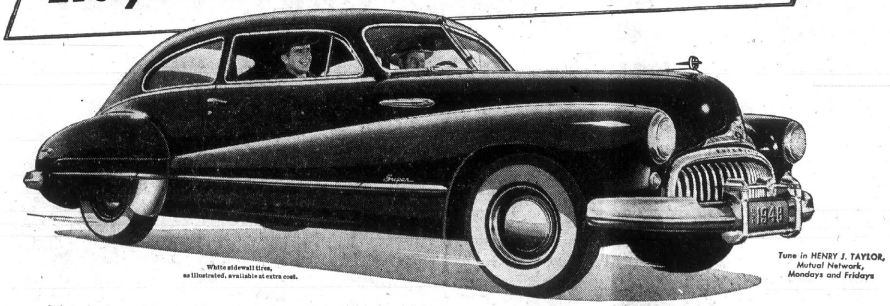
Everyone knows where this one's going



White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

No, it hasn't always been easy, here of late, to be absolutely sure just which way automobile design was heading.

So it's a refreshing thing, people tell us, to see one car that quite clearly knows where it's going — and shows it inside and out.

You can't mistake this poised and ready fashion plate for anything but a Buick — you're sure from a glance that you'll find it steady as a battle cruiser and full of ginger as one of Grandma's cookies.

A broad bonnet promises plenty-power—and you get it with such velvety new smoothness that you need to check the battery-charge needle to make sure the engine's running.

You size it up as comfortable. The road's verdict is that it's the most tireless car on the market, what with four coil springs, pillowy low-pressure tires and a wholly new attack on car vibration keeping you fresh through the longest day.

You find quiet here — quiet that encourages conversation — quiet from Sound-Sorber top lining that invites conversation in normal tones.

And if it's a Dynaflow Roadmaster you're handling, here you can sample driving ease that is near magic in its simplicity.

You set a lever, press the gas treadle — and simply steer. The power plant does all the rest — swoops you up from standstill to full pace, accelerates, climbs, slows to a stop, starts up again — all without any gearshifting, either manual or automatic!

So it's pretty plain where this one's heading — it's going even higher in the regard of the motoring public.

Why not see your Buick dealer now and get your order in?

No gears ever shift in DYNAFLOW DRIVE*

In Buick's new Dynaflow Drive, sliding gear transmissions and complex gear-changers are made unnecessary. You simply set a selector lever and step on the gas. The power plant does the rest, adjusting itself to varying driving conditions with utter smoothness. You start up — accelerate — climb hills — cruise — stop — start up again — all without touching the selector lever.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models.

(Special to The Herald)

Lansing — Farmers have long known that you can't have prosperity on the farm without having prosperity in the city.

We are inter-dependent upon each other in an economic way.

We're all in the same boat together.

One of the greatest economic mistakes we have made is the fallacious belief as evidenced from time to time, that we can isolate one group against the other, that what happens to one group does not effect the others. This kind of economic isolationism has prompted some people, with best sincere intentions, to declare that we should ignore Europe and the rest of the world. "Mind our own business, and let other nations mind theirs."

Whether we have a Marshall plan and whether we spend billions or no billions for aid of Western Europe is not the theme of this column. We're going to leave that to you and to Congress.

Part of today's inflation is due to the inflationary effects of the Marshall plan whereby we agree to buy American-made goods and ship them abroad.

Sumner H. Slichter, Harvard university's economic expert, doesn't foresee a serious let-down in business during 1948. Recently he said:

"We are going to make our problem somewhat difficult by a third round of wage increases. The people who will profit most are those who profited from the first two rounds, namely the farmers. One reason why people are willing to pay such surprising prices for meat is that we have three million more people working than anyone expected would be the case at this stage of the postwar era. But they are not producing meat. They are not working in that part of the economy.

"The consumer goods industries will profit from a third round of wage increases temporarily. Their payrolls will go up. Sales go up by the amount of the payroll increases in the consumer goods industries, plus the amount of payroll increases in the capital goods industries, minus the amount saved or taken in taxes. Not a very large part seems likely to go into savings. Consequently, the consumer goods industries will profit, to an extent, by a third round of wage increases. Capital goods industries probably will about break even. The workers will come out a little behind as they did after the first two rounds. Stockholders probably will come out behind because there will be new demands to be met and corporations are not likely to disburse all profit gains in the form of higher dividends.

"Fortunately, we are in a strong position in several respects and may remain strong. Inventories are low. I believe they will continue to remain low. Keeping them that way is one of the most important contributions that businessmen can make toward achieving a smooth transition from the present state of affairs to a more normal one. "The needs of consumers and of business are very large. I think they will remain so even when the difficult adjustments in agricultural prices and in the export surplus take place. The question is whether those two adjustments will occur early enough. The earlier they come the better."

Who will benefit most by higher wages in the cities?

According to Professor Slichter the farmers will!

As we said before, we're all in the same boat. We must be our brother's keeper.

Will's Proud of His Big Ears

Will Dudley's mighty proud of his big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so many other farmers, has plenty of reason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a keystone in our economic life, and the key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's more important now than ever. He's not only feeding America—but friends of America overseas—building good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is most important.

And farmers have willingly shouldered that responsibility. Will spends extra hours in his cornfield ... comes home tired to a temperate glass of beer and early bed, to be ready for the next day's work.

From where I sit, America can be mighty grateful for her five million farmers ... for their productivity, hard work, and temperate living—of which Will's moderate glass of beer is proof!

Measles In Michigan At The Epidemic Stage

Measles has reached the thousand new cases a week mark in the state, Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the bureau of disease control, Michigan Department of Health said today.

The epidemic in the state which started three months ago in Kalamazoo city and county has subsided in that area but has spread into the surrounding counties and is flanging into areas adjacent to them. The counties hit hardest by the disease at the present time are Begrien, Kent, Cass, Ottawa, Calhoun, Barry, Eaton and Ingham.

Across the state, there is increasing incidence of measles in Washtenaw county and the disease is expected to spread from there also.

A total of 1014 cases of measles were reported to the Michigan Department of Health during the week ending January 30. There were 66 cases of measles during the same week last year, and 628 during the week in 1946, an epidemic year.

Dr. Leeder warned parents whose very young preschool children are exposed to the disease to consult a physician at once in order that serum may be given to modify the disease and prevent complications. In babies and in sickly children the disease can be prevented, if the child is taken to the physician on the day of his exposure. The disease is highly communicable and knowledge of the time of exposure is important in either its prevention or modification, he said.

The Dorcas class of the Christian church meets February 19 at Mrs. Dora Benedict's with a one o'clock luncheon.

A census report says "the average family pays $75 a year to the doctor." That's probably news to the doctor.

Maybe more fathers would send their children to college if they knew the kids wouldn't come home and criticize their grammar.

The shower bath was invented by a man whose wife was always bawling him out for leaving a ring around the bath tub.

Re-dedication services were conducted at the Ridgeway Methodist church Sunday with former pastors and friends attending from Flint, Garden City, Monroe, Petersburg, Adrian, Clayton, Saline, Ann Arbor, Melvindale, Milan, Detroit, Royal Oak, Tecumseh, Onsted, Holloway and Tipton. The sanctuary of the church has been completely redecorated.

The morning service at 11:15 included congregational singing with Mrs. Lillian Bartle at the organ, worship by the Rev. Mr. Bushong, special number by the women's choir, and two vocal solos by Mrs. F. Wichner. Rev. Luther B. Butt delivered the sermon.

Dinner was served at 1 o'clock by the ladies of the church and later in the afternoon Rev. Mr. Bushong read letters from former pastors and friends. P. G. Ash sang a solo, "A Voice in the Village Choir," accompanied by Mrs. Ash. Mr Bushong introduced the visiting ministers which included Rev. A. B. Johns of Flint, Rev. Francis Wilson of Garden City, Rev. H. C. Cooley of Monroe, Rev. Risley of Petersburg, Rev. Shehi of Ridgeway Nazarene church and Rev. Norman MacNaughton of Tecumseh. Mrs. G. H. Winchip of Adrian gave an interesting talk, which was followed by a solo, "Ivory Palaces," sung by Mrs. W. C. Benham assisted by the choir.

Recognition was made of Mrs. Hattie Wood and Mrs. Fanny Allen, members of the church who were born the year the church was built. Mrs. Wood was present at the service.

Flowers for the church were donated by friends in remembrance of departed loved ones.

DEPENDABLE CLASS

The Temple Dependable class of the Methodist church will meet Wednesday, February 18, at the home of Mrs. Mae Loveland.

Soil Conservationist Farm School Speaker

R. Leninger, federal soil conservationist for Lenawee county, was the speaker at the farmers evening school at Tecumseh Grange, Tuesday evening. Mr. Leninger spoke of the soil types of this area and problems that surround these soils. He outlined the soil conservation service rendered to the farmers and showed slides illustrating results obtained. Mr. Leninger said that in the two years the soil conservation department has been operating, 60 farmers have revised their farm plans to follow conservation practices, which proves the growing consciousness of farmers to correct the tremendous waste of soil.

Next Tuesday evening, Dr. Brown of the animal husbandry department of Michigan State College will be the speaker at a meat-cutting demonstration.

Morenci Downs The Indians

(By Pat Wilson)

The Morenci Bulldog's slipped up on the Tecumseh high school Indians last Friday night and beat them 38-23 in a hard-fought game here. This dropped Tecumseh down into a tie for last place with Addison.

During the frst quarter Tecumseh gained a 7-6 lead and the game was pretty much Tecumseh's in this early stage. However, from then on in, it was all Morenci. One of the main factors in the win for Morenci was the way they sank free shots. Out of 39 possible shots, the Bulldog's sank 19. The ones that were missed were missed early in the game in either the first or second quarter, but they missed very few in the final stages of the game.

Hop Anderson was high point man for the Indians with 8, while Bill VanValkenburg did the trick for Morenci with 13. The refereeing brought much unfavorable comment from the fans because they were very constant in their whistle-blowing. They broke up the plays and this only increased the fouls for both teams. These "refs" called a total of 56 fouls, which is a record for high school games in the county.

U.M. All-Stars Down Products

The University of Michigan's touring basketball squad, starstudded by Lenny Ford and Bob Mann, won a 42 to 33 victory over the Tecumseh Products team here last Monday night on the high school court before a crowd estimated at more than 600. Joe Savoldi, famed wrestler, was one of the referees.

The Wolverine squad jumped into a 9-6 lead in the first quarter but the half was slow with the score at 15-10 at the whistle. In the second stanza the Ann Arbor boys picked up speed counting 14 points in the third quarter and 17 in the final. The Products squad also picked up 23 points during the second half but the All-stars were too strong for them.

The Michiganders showed unusual passing ability and when the lead was sufficiently safe they kept the crowd in an uproar with ther antics.

The Tecumseh aggregation, which sports an outstanding record of 16 wins in 18 games in regular competition, played good ball. Forward Lou Baker took scoring honors for Tecumseh with nine counters. Mann was the high point man of the evening as he racked up 14 points for the All-Stars.

Mann's All-Stars (42)	FG	FT	PF	TP

Milan Cagers Defeat Indians By 63-20 Score

The Milan high school cage team defeated the Tecumseh Indians 63-20 at Milan, Tuesday. Al Benjamin scored 26 points for the winners followed by Al Bassett scoring 19 points. Hop Anderson was high for Tecumseh with eight points. In class C competition Milan, undefeated this season, ranks fifth in the state.

The Tecumseh reserve team was defeated 38-17 with Phibbs high point man for Tecumseh with six. Milan high man was Lentz, who scored eight points.

CUB AND BOY SCOUTS ON RADIO, SUNDAY

Some 45 Cub Scouts and Boy Scout troop No. 4 and their leaders attended services at the Baptist church Sunday morning in a body. The Cubs and Scouts took part in the radio broadcast by repeating the Cub promise, the Scout oath and the pledge to the flag. Local Woman Finds Raccoon In Wash Room

Last Friday afternoon, as Mrs. Paul Nobles opened her kitchen door to go out into their summer wash-room to close the outside door, she saw what she thought on first sight, was a large cat. As the animal turned and started for the open door, she saw "the cat" was a full grown racoon.

Mrs. Nobles said nothing or made any move to scare Mr. Coon. He seemed to not be frightened and also in no big hurry. He just scampered along through the back yard, over to the river bank and disappeared. The racoon no doubt was looking for food.

Frank Ehinger, president of the horticulture society, awarded the $10 first prize to Miss Adams, who will be entered in the Michigan cherry pie contest at Grand Rapids tomorrow. The winner of the state contest will receive $25 plus an all-expense trip to Chicago for the chaperoned trip to Washington, D. C.

Miss Adams, 17 years old, is the leader of the Helping Hand 4-H Club in Tecumseh.

Russian Ex-Prince Town Hall Speaker

GETTING THE MOST FOR YOUR FEED DOLLAR

Roland Mohr Says:

"WHEN YOU STOP TO CHECK WHAT WE HAVE TO SELL, EVERYTHING IS TOP QUALITY.

"WE TURN DOWN MANY SOURCES OF SUPPLY BECAUSE WE KNOW THE MERCHANDISE IS NOT THE BEST."

Do you realize the differences there may be in feed ingredients!

For example: In four samples of alfalfa meal there may be variations up to as high as 100,000 units of Vitamin A. And yet the samples may look exactly alike!

Similarly, there may be big differences in the free fatty acid content of meat scrap — variances ranging from 3½% to 24%. And yet all samples may look alike.

Then take the matter of Vitamin G in dried whey. Several samples may look perfectly uniform, yet may show variations up to 6,000 units of Vitamin A per pound.

These are but three examples out of a score of ingredients in which analysis shows decided differences.

Hayden's guard the quality of their feeds by employing a nationally known assaying service to determine just what's what in the ingredients they buy.

Some of the best brains in the world are, today, struggling tremendously to bring unity and peace to our world, under the conviction that, unless this is achieved, the human race will have run its course. But brains, alone, are not enough. It is the spirit—attitudes—that matters most. The only permanent bases for peace and unity are the principles laid down by the Man of Galilee. The purpose of the church is to teach these principles and get them expressed in the actions of all people. To each of us comes the call to be a partner in this task. "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together as the manner of some is." May we all develop the habit suggested by this New Testament statement and be with some group, every Sunday, meeting to worship and work with the Father of us all. It is only by working with Him that we can learn to work with and live peaceably with one another.

Today we have the greatest number of telephones in operation in our history. Daily telephone traffic has far surpassed the busiest rush hours of the war years. Our expansion program for 1948 calls for an even greater number of installations than during the record year of 1947. We are doing everything possible to meet the record demand for service—and, in all fairness, will give first attention to those who are on our waiting list.

pitals which have ceased to operate. Of the 3900 hospitals under survey in 1947, 80.6 per cent are approved. Statistics, however, cannot show the whole picture of widespread eagerness to give better service."

Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, associate director of the College and chairman of the administrative board, also commended the porgress which hospitals are making, and added: "Most hospitals are exercising strict control over surgery in the effort to prevent unnecessary operations. By firm policies and practices governing selection and restriction of privileges of the surgical staff, complete preoperative examination, consultation when indicated, comprehensive medical records on each patient, and critical review and analysis of clinical results by the entire medical staff, good surgery is assured. As the American College of Surgeons discovered when it began Hospital Standardization in 1917, progress in surgery depends upon progress in every respect of hospital service. Hence the aim of Hospital Standardization has always been to strengthen and improve the entire hospital, and all elements involved in care of the patient are considered in the surveys and in evaluation for approval. The public likewise should look at the hospital as a whole, and select a good hospital in which all services are efficiently rendered and well controlled. Public interest and encouragement are needed to support the many constructive efforts within the hospital and by related organizations to improve care of the patient. In 1918 when the results of the first Hospital Standardization survey were reported, only 89 hospitals met the requirements for approval; now 3,143 meet the standard, the fundamental requirements of which briefly summarized, are as follows:

"1. Modern physical plant, assuring the patient safety, comfort, and efficient care.

2. Clearly defined organization, duties, responsibilities, and relations.

3. Carefully selected governing board with complete and supreme authority.

4. Competent chief executive officer or administrator, well trained in all phases of hospital administration with authority and responsibility to interpret and carry out the policies of the hospital as authorized by the governing board.

5. Adequate and efficient personnel, properly organized and competently supervised.

6. Organized medical staff of ethical, competent physicians and surgeons.

7. Adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities under competent medical supervision.

8. Accurate, complete medical records, readily accessible for research and follow-up.

9. Regular group conferences of the administrative staff and of the medical staff for reviewing activities and results so as to maintain a high plane of scientific efficiency.

10. A humanitarian spirit — the primary consideration being the best care of the patient."

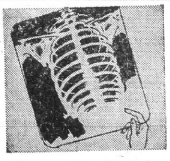
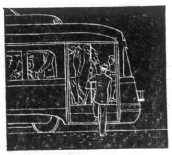
RADIO? No comedians, news, symphonies, dance bands, no "Hour of Charm," no radio—without electricity.

MOVIES? Electricity screens 'em, keeps 'em moving, makes 'em talk, and even keeps the customers cool!



X-RAY? The X-ray itself is actually a special kind of electricity—and that's no rib!

TELEPHONE? Electricity carries your voice along the wires and rings the bell at the other end.



TROLLEY CARS? Horses pulled 'em once, but electric horsepower does a faster, better job.

HOME APPLIANCES? Electricity makes 'em work—heats, cools, freezes, lights, cleans, entertains — and then some!

How many of these need electricity?

You're right. All these—and many other good things of modern life. That's one reason why, in a recent Gallup poll, Americans named electricity as the most important invention of all time.

Another reason: good electric service is available to almost everybody, at low cost.

County's Rural Value Growing

ESTIMATED WEALTH IN COUNTRY AREAS OF LENAWEE NEARLY $41,000,000

Farm property in Lenawee county is now worth more than $40,968,000, and rural homes here and throughout the state are in the best condition in history, according to a report just released by the Tile Council of America.

More than 86 per cent of farm dwellings in Michigan and the North Central states are in excellent condition or need only such minor repairs as painting or general maintenance, the report revealed. Only 69.9 per cent were in good repair in 1940. The report was based on Bureau of the Census surveys.

"The rise in farm incomes and property values since 1940 has been accompanied by a great increase in the number of rural homes equipped with such modern conveniences as electric lights, tiled baths and showers and running water," said F. B. Ortman, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

Electricity, for instance, has gone into hundreds of thousands of rural dwellings in this state and others in the North Central area since 1940, Ortman noted. More than 65 per cent of such farm homes now have electric lights, in contrast to 39.4 per cent in 1940.

More than 33 per cent of rural dwellings in the North Central region today have running water, and 22 per cent have private baths, according to the Tile Council report. In 1940, 17.3 per cent had runnning water and only 11.1 per cent private baths.

Most women seem to be content when they reach 40. By that time they've either got a husband or quit worrying about it.

Another unusual thing in this country is to see an old rake who still has all his teeth.

The trouble with those people who know so much is that much of what they know isn't so.

Interest Keen In 'T-Day' Here

HUNDREDS EXPECTED TO VISIT PRODUCTS PLANT; BANQUET SELL-OUT SEEN

"T-Day," a day set aside by the Chamber of Commerce for the re-awakening of Tecumseh to new economic opportunities, will be observed next week Friday, February 27, and final plans for the full-day's program were completed at a meeting of a Chamber committee, Tuesday evening.

Briefly, here is what is scheduled to occur:

The Tecumseh Products Company will hold "open house" all day on Friday and conducted tours of the factory in full operation will be made between the hours of 9:30 a.m., and 3:30 p.m. Anyone living in Tecumseh and its immediate area are invited to visit the plant, now employing more than 2,400 persons.

"This is an opportunity that many folk have been waiting for, and one that seldom occurs," Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber, said today. "We are indeed grateful to Ray W. Herrick, president of the company, for making the inspection possible, and we hope that the hundreds of residents who are interested in their town and its future will take the time to inspect this great refrigeration plant, now the largest independent manufacturer of its kind in the world."

Persons who have their own transportation may drive directly to the plant and at the main office entrance guides will be furnished. For those who need transportation, a call to the Chamber of Commerce, phone 259, will bring a car.

In the evening of the 27th., at 6:45, a banquet will be held in the high school gymnasium at which time Mr. Herrick and officers of the Chamber of Commerce will speak. A feature of this program will be the appearance of the new Products orchestra and the TP Broadcasters. Circuit Judge G. Arthur Rathbun will act as toastmaster, and the Rev. Fr. Michael Collins will ask the invocation.

The public schools will be closed throughout Friday, and Leon Mix, chairman of the Chamber's retail committee, has asked that all stores be closed here next week Friday afternoon, permitting owners and their employees an opportunity to inspect the factory. Stores normally closing on Thursday afternoon, Mr. Mix suggested, might remain open on Thursday and close on Friday.

Already the demand for tickets to the banquet is heavy, Harris said. They will be available at his office on Saturday of this week, as will window cards for the stores, announcing the Friday closing.

After residents have observed the magnitude of the Products plant they will be told at the banquet meeting of the company's proposed expansion and of the need for housing in Tecumseh if it is to get its fair share of the $7,500,000 annual payroll. At the present time less than 30% of the more than 2,404 workers at Products reside here.

Also, at the banquet plans will be announced for the launching of a gigantic housing program, calling for the building of some 200 low-cost houses in a new subdivision, these dwellings to be made available for occupancy in 1948.

It also is probable that residents will be acquainted with the need for increased public school facilities, if the educational system here is to keep pace with Tecumseh's expansion. Also, there may be some discussion of the proposed change in Tecumseh's form of government.

"The program as outlined will be one of the most important ever offered local residents, and should not be missed by a civic-minded Tecumsehan," Harris declared. "We realize that, due to limited space, only 350 banquet tickets will be available. For that reason, let me urge that tickets be bought early because it appears that there will be a complete sell-out."

Auxiliary Votes $600 For Equipment At Hospital

At the regular monthly meeting of the Tecumseh Hospital auxiliary last week Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William F. Wright, it was voted to give $600 for an electrocardiograph machine for the hospital. Ogland Lay, hospital technician, explained the uses of the hospital laboratory.

The following committees were named: membership, Mrs. Dale Bowen; library, Mrs. Charles Williamson; house and finance, Mrs. Paul Keyser, chairman, Mrs. Willis Porter, Mrs. Harold Naser and Mrs. M. G. Partridge.

Caucuses Held But 4 Withdraw

COMPLETE TICKETS NOMINATED BY TWO PARTIES BUT SOME REFUSE

Just what the ballot will look like when it is presented to voters here at the annual village election, March 8, still was problematical today as four candidates nominated by the Peoples Party withdrew their names from the running. A complete slate has been named by the Progressive Party, and there were rumors Wednesday that efforts would be made to fill the Peoples ticket.

The Peoples Party held its caucus last Friday, February 13, and there were present at the caucus. Fay Whelan was nominated for village president, Mel G. Partridge, Yale Kerby and Clarence Gilman were named as trustees, James Artman for clerk, E. H. Van Vleet for treasurer and Lester C. Rogers for assessor.

Messrs. Whelan, Partridge, Kerby and Gilman promptly declined the nominations, holding that their own business affairs consumed too much of their time to permit them to hold public office. Unless this portion of the ticket is filled, only three names will appear on the election ballot for the Peoples party, it was said.

E. C. Hellman acted as chairman of the caucus. Geo. H. Adamson was secretary and LeRoy Titley and Fred Weseloh were tellers. Messers Whelan, Artman and Van Vleet were named as the party committee for the coming year.

The Progressive party, in caucus Tuesday evening, named this ticket: for village president, Marvin Watkins; trustees, Clarence Beach, B. G. Ousterhout and Glenn Driscoll; clerk, Wade L. Jones; treasurer, Charles M. Fay, and assessor, Thomas O'Hara.

Only two contests developed. In a race between Mr. Watkins and Howard Truesdale for the president nomination, Watkins polled 20 votes to his opponent's four. Howard Diedrich opposed Mr. Ousterhout as a trustee and the vote was Ousterhout 18, Diedrich seven. Twenty-five attended the caucus and the committee for the ensuing year is Mr. Watkins, Mr. Jones and Mr. Fay. E. M. Campbell acted as chairman, E. A. Collins as secretary, and Charles Mensing and Ned Rosacrans as tellers.

John Truesdale, rounding out his first term as village president, was not a candidate for re-election.

S. Henry Smith, Geo. H. Adamson and B. R. TurnBull, veteran members of the council and member of the Peoples Party, were not candidates for re-election. All of them, like Mr. Truesdale, a member of the Progressive Party, had declined renominations.

Those holding over on the council and whose terms do not expire with the coming election are Archie Porter, Geo. McCombs and Charles Mensing.

27 PAY PARKING METER FINES OF $1

Twenty-seven fines of $1 each were paid to Wade L. Jones, village clerk, for parking meter violations here during the past week. Those who paid are: Eugene Man, Katherine Fraser, Susan Jones, two tickets, Ken Pender, Mrs. Willard Gafner, Charles Warner, Claude Albright, Jackie Costigan, Marlyn Wonderly, Gladys Meyer, Geo. Kempf, John Braden, Roy Averill, Wm. Beardsley, Hayden Fuel & Supply Co., Jerry Gordon, Herbert Sackett, Dean Downing, Leland Ries, V. Humble, Arthur Gray, F. E. Ex-Prince To Speak

Andrei Lobanov-Rostovsky

A large audience is expected at next week's Town Hall meeting, Tuesday evening, February 24, at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium, when Andrei Lobanov-Rotovsky, ex-prince of Russia, will be the guest speaker. No admission is charged for the program, the expense being underwritten by the several clubs and organizations making up the Town Hall Council.

The former Russian prince, who, during World War I served in both the Russian and French armies, is expected to give Tecumseh folk some first-hand information regarding conditions as they then and now exist behind the Iron Curtain. Because of intense interest locally in Russia, a large crowd is expected to hear him speak.

A naturalized citizen of the United States, Rostovsky is now a professor of history at the University of Michigan.

Butler Garage Is Remodeled

STOCK ROOM, SERVICE DEPARTMENT ENLARGED; OFFICES ARE CHANGED

Looking to the post-war future and the increased demands to be made upon automobile service garages, Charles O. Butler of Butler Motor Sales, announced today that the service and parts departments of his institution had been nearly doubled in size, and that the offices and show rooms of the garage had been remodeled and redecorated to meet the up-swing in business.

"We, too, realize that Tecumseh is growing and we want to be ready to give the added service that our customers will expect in such an expanding community," Mr. Butler said in making the announcement. "Today, the public is dependent upon the motor car for transportation and we believe that it is our job to give the motorist the best possible service. All of the changes that we have made at our garage were done with that thought in mind."

Butler said that the stock and parts room at the garage had been nearly doubled in size, permitting a greatly increased inventory to be sold both at wholesale and retail. In the service department, two new hydraulic hoists have been added, new greasing equipment installed, and labor-saving tools have replaced machines formerly in use. In the near future he plans other improvements in the gasoline service section.

The offices and the show rooms of the garage have been completely remodeled in knotty pine and redecorated throughout.

Red Cross Membership Drive Begins In March

The annual Red Cross membership drive will be launched in Tecumseh and throughout Lenawee county on March 1, it was announced today by Miss Clara Waldron, local chairman. No quota has been assigned here, Miss Waldron said, but she pointed out that the organization hoped that there would be a generous response. The drive will continue throughout March.

Organizations in Tecumseh are asked to contribute amounts similar to years past, the chairman said, as is industry. A gift receiving station will be opened in the United Savings Bank and will be staffed each day during the month. There will be no canvassing.

Funds subcribed this year, Miss Waldron said, will be used principally for national disaster relief and aid to veterans and their families. Of course, a portion of all gifts will remain in Lenawee county for use in this area, she said.

HERE'S SOMETHING FOR THE VOTERS TO THINK ABOUT

4 Business Men Refuse Village Office Nominations

Four nominees of the Peoples Party, chosen at the caucus last Friday evening for the offices of Village President and Councilmen, and who have since withdrawn their names from the running, today, in a communication to The Herald, told the citizens of Tecumseh why they felt that they should not seek the positions for which they were chosen.

The four who signed the communication are Fay A. Whelan, nominated for the village presidency; C. M. Gilman, Mel G. Partridge and Yale H. Kerby, nominated as members of the council.

Briefly, the four men, all of them heads of business institutions here, said in substance that they could not afford to take away from their own enterprises the time required to properly serve the Village in the capacities to which they might be elected.

"We sincerely recommend and hope that the voters of Tecumseh will do something at the earliest possible date to change an antique system of government to a modern business organization," they wrote.

The communication, withdrawing their names from the ballot, follows:

We, the undersigned, wish to acknowledge with gratitude the confidence of those who voted to place our names on the ballot for the coming village election. We also wish to hereby explain why we feel that we must decline the nominations and withdraw from the ballot.

FIRST. The business of operating a corporation of several million dollars valuation and involving the spending of thousands of dollars can not be properly administered by spending a few hours an evening once or twice a month in a council meeting.

SECOND. Each of us operate private businesses that take all our time during the working day and often many extra hours. These enterprises are not only for our own benefit but we also employ approximately twenty-five full or part time employees whose welfare should be considered by pursuing an aggressive business operation. Competition does not wait for those who divert efforts to outside interests.

THIRD. The village of Tecumseh has grown to the point that many new problems must be met. Its growing pains should be supervised by doctors of experience. The loss of Mr. Frank Hoekstra by sickness brings out the glaring need of a unified program supervised by more than one trained man. We have heard it said repeatedly and by many of our business men that they cannot afford to sit on the council. This is thru no fault of anybody or anything but an antique and outmoded form of government. The people of Tecumseh should give serious consideration, at once, to changing this condition so that a few people will not be asked to sacrifice their time and efforts for the benefit of the town. Instead, the cost should be spread over all by the hiring of trained men to supervise under the direction of a duly elected policy committee or governing board.

FOURTH. We would like to call attention that we are already professing our interest in the community by each of us serving on one or more civic boards or committees at this time. We will continue to do the best that we can for the village. We recognize that the town has done much for all of us.

In withdrawing and by making this statement, we in no way wish to criticize those who have in the past or will in the future, serve on the council. It is with great respect and thanks that we recognize their loyal efforts.

We sincerely recommend and hope that the voters of Tecumseh will do something at the earliest possible date to change an antique system of government to a modern business organization.

Twin Sisters United After 43 Years Through Advertisement In Herald

Mrs. Guy Cunningham of Wayne and Mrs. Allen Pomeroy of Bastrop, Louisiana, twin sisters but separated at a very young age, were united last month after 43 years.

The twins were born in Tecumseh January 14, 1904, to Mrs. Florence Henry, three months after the death of their father, Mrs. Henry was unable to support the children so allowed Mildred, now Mrs. Cunningham, to be adopted by Mr. and Mrs. George Curry of Route 1. Tecumseh, and Helen by Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Donley of Toledo. Mr. and Mrs. Curry attempted to adopt Helen later but were told she had died.

Helen, now Mrs. Pomeroy, first learned she had a twin sister when her mother, Mrs. Donley, before her death three years ago, suggested to Helen that she attempt to locate her sister. Mrs. Inez Parr of Goodrich, a cousin of the twins, inserted an ad in The Herald, which William Hanna noticed. He wrote to Mrs. Parr that Mildred's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Curry.

The twins were united last June at the Wayne Recreation where Mrs. Cunningham is the manager. They celebrated their first birthday anniversary in 43 years together at Mrs. Pomeroy's home in Bastrop. Each one has two sons and one daughter.

$25,000 Damage In Clinton Fire

GRAIN COMPANY OFFICES, WAREHOUSE SCENE OF BLAZE

An estimated loss of more than $25,000 was the result of a fire at Clinton Thursday night when the Clinton Grain Company office and warehouse was completely destroyed and the New York Central freight warehouse was badly damaged. Milton Johnston is owner of the grain company. Although the cause of the fire is not known, Fire Chief John Schuler said that electric wires leading into the grain warehouse were red hot when the Clinton fire department arrived.

Flames were leaping 15 feet into the air above the roof of the grain warehouse when Clinton firemen were called at 8:30 p.m. Because the grain warehouse was beyond saving, the firemen concentrated their efforts on saving the freight warehouse. The firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames by 3 a.m. About 25 feet of the upper section of the freight warehouse was damaged by fire and the lower floor by water.

Except for a quantity of fertilizer and office records of the grain warehouse and office, the loss was covered by insurance. Included in the records were accounts receivable totaling more than $4,000.

A number of motors from the Clinton Machine Company were in the freight warehouse building, having been consigned to the railroad the day before. Fred Brady, the New York Central agent in Clinton, said he had no idea of the value of the freight in the warehouse.

A large crowd was attracted by the flames and caused some trouble by running over the fire hose. Fireman Levert Drake was slightly injured when he stepped on a nail.

Mother And Daughter Injured In Accident

Mrs. Mahlon Sebring and infant daughter of near Tecumseh were treated at the Tecumseh hospital for minor cuts and bruises received in an automobile accident on Thursday afternoon, February 12. Ivan Stark of Tecumseh, driving west on M-52 near the bridge east of town, attempted to go around the right side of a car driven by Mrs. Sebring. Her car was shoved into a truck going east operated by Francis Taylor of Britton. The drive shaft of the truck was driven into a third car being driven by Earl R. Cochran of Ogden Center. Stark pleaded guilty to passing on the wrong side before Justice F. C. Hanna and paid $13.35 fine and costs.

The same afternoon, R. Amstutz of near Tecumseh, driving north on Ottawa street, collided with another automobile being driven west on Shawnee street. Both cars were damaged considerably.

Tecumseh police investigated both accidents.

Products Cage Team Downs Plymouth, 58-55

The Tecumseh Products basketball team defeated the Plymouth team Sunday when they played for the benefit of the inmates of the Wayne Training School at Plymouth. The final score was 58-55.

Tecumseh, with a 17 won and five lost record for the season, was ahead at the first quarter and at the half led 30-27. In the third period both teams scored six points and in the last period both picked up 22 points each. Guard Clayton Schmid was high for Products with 13 points with Coach Oberlin following at 11.

Monday evening in the high school gym the Durite team from Jackson defeated Products 49-21. The Durite team is tops in Jackson and vicinity. The reserve Products team defeated the Deerfield squad 28-26.

Next Monday night at 7:15 in the gym here, the Hillsdale reserve speeds will meet the Products reserves and at 8:30 the varsity team will play the Parkway squad from Plymouth.

Indians Lose To Sugar Boys

(By Pat Wilson)

The Tecumseh high school cage squad scored its third win of the season here Tuesday night when they defeated Saline, a non-league team, with a final score of 33 to 16. Hop Anderson was high for the Indians with 14 points and Dick Colson following with eight. For Saline Dick Jaeger scored five points.

The Indian reserves defeated the Saline reserves 27-14. Dave Green was high for Tecumseh with eight points.

The Tecumseh Indians traveled to Blissfield Friday evening to take on the league-leading Sugarboys and later regretted having made the trip. The Indians were held to one point in the first quarter, while they had six at the half and nine at the end of the third quarter. However, in the last quarter Tecumseh outscored the Blissfield second team, 19-5. There was never any doubt in the minds of the spectators as to who had the best team—it was Blissfield all the way.

Norb O'Hara led the scoring for the Indians with 10 and Jack Gillen was second with five. For the Sugarboys Burt Buehrer did the honors with 14 and Junior Bailey was a close second with 12. Blissfield's main scoring threat, Dick Rodiseller, was held to just four points mainly through the efforts of Rabbit O'Hara, who did very well on defense as well as offense. Blissfield has a well-balanced team which seems to work mainly around Buehrer and Bailey.

Tecumseh won the reserve game 38 to 30. Lee Phibbs was outstanding for the Indians as he scored 23 points, while Dave Green stood next with nine. Jim Fischer stood first for the Sugarboys with 16. Tecumseh also won the Junior High game 32 to 19. Jim Wilson stood high with 12 points.

Tecumseh plays its next L.C.A.A. game Friday when they entertain Hudson, who is tied with Blissfield for the lead.

C.C. Continues To Study Gov't

PLANNING ENGINEER TO CONSULT WITH CHAMBER BOARD IN NEAR FUTURE

Further study of the need and procedure looking toward a change in Tecumseh's government from village to city form continued this week at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, Ronald E. Harris, secretary, announced.

Mr. Harris met during the past week with a planning engineer who, with members of the Chambers municipal affairs committee, made a partial survey of the village. This step was taken preparatory to making specific recommendations to the board of directors within a week. As soon as these recommendations are received, it is expected that the board will authorize a program that may include not only the changing of the form of government but the annexation of so-called "fringe areas" in the township.

"We want to get a clear picture, first of all, of what needs to be done here to change the form of government and at the same time, if possible, increase the boundaries of the village through an annexation program," Mr. Harris said. "Until such time as the board has all of these facts assembled, public announcement of the program cannot be made."

Two weeks ago the board of the Chamber and several committee members met with a representative from the Michigan League of Municipalities to discuss the proposed government change. At that time, the board voted in favor of such action and authorized the hiring of the services of a planning engineer to proceed with the program.

Tecumseh Church Men Plan European Aid

Meeting at the Episcopal church Sunday, February 15, representatives of the Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, Friends and Baptist churches held an organizational meeting to determine the possibility and extent of Tecumseh's material aid to the blighted areas of Europe.

With five laymen and four ministers present at the meeting, Earl Lindsley was chosen chairman; Mack Powell, secretary; and Glenn VanDenbergh, treasurer. First step to be taken by Tecumseh Church World Service will be a clothing collection through the participating churches, to culminate on Easter Sunday.

Clothing received will be sorted, packed and sent to Europe through the channels of Church World Service, the coordinating agency for the several denominations. "Further plans for Tecumseh's participation will be announced later," said Mr. Lindsley.

IT'S TIME FOR ACTION

The withdrawal of four local business men as candidates on the Peoples Party ticket for offices in the village government, and a signed statement from these same men, saying in effect that they could not afford, under the existing form of government, to hold the offices to which they were nominated should, we believe, cause the thinking voters of the Village of Tecumseh to sit up and take notice that it is time for a change in our form of government.

The four business men who refused to be candidates—who did "not choose to run"—did not make the decision hastily. All of them are residents of the village for many years, one of them by their lifetime. They realized only too well the demands that are made upon members of the Tecumseh Village Council and its President and, after careful thought and consideration, they decided that the demands made upon them by their own business were too great for them to accept such added burdens.

Persons who have watched Tecumseh grow during the past 10 or 15 years and who have seen the added responsibilities imposed upon members of the Council and the President as a result of this growth, express no surprise at the difficulty encountered by political parties seeking candidates for Village offices. Many persons, in fact, have marveled for many years that Tecumseh had men who were public spirited enough to sacrifice their time and their business to serve in the several official capacities.

It is true, someone must make the sacrifice, must be the "good fellow" or "the goat" until machinery can be set in motion to change Tecumseh's government from the antequated village form to city form with, perhaps, a full-time manager. Our thanks go to those who have served ably in the past, and to those who will continue to carry on until such a change can be made. But certainly we cannot blame anyone who uses his good judgment to refuse public office in Tecumseh today.

We trust that the Chamber of Commerce will be able to properly inform the citizens here of the change needed in government, and that machinery soon can be set in motion for an election, making possible the city manager form.

As we see it, it's past time for action."

Mrs. Smith gave a talk on plastics illustrated with pictures and articles made of plastic.

Valentine Party Is Enjoyed By Fellowship

The Valentine party given by the Westminster Fellowship group Saturday night was a huge success. A group from the University of Michigan led folk dances which proved popular with the 60 young people present. Dave Lott took pictures of those who desired and refreshments were served. The proceeds from the refreshment fee were given to the Church World Service for overseas relief.

At the regular Sunday night meeting February 15, Rev. D. C. Wilson had charge of the program. His topic was, "What Would You Have Done?". The group divided into six divisions and each division was given a commandment. Then they clipped articles from newspapers which applied to these commandments. Dick Colson led the worship service and Dave Lott had charge of the games.

February 22 the group is to meet at the church at 5 p.m., where transportation to Adrian will be provided. At this time a district meeting is being held there and will begin at 5:30. A movie, "The Blind Beggar," will be shown and plans for greater unity within the district will be discussed.

- 2,000 workers in agriculture
- 500 workers in construction
- 2,500 in services
- 2,000 in trades and finances

DO YOU REALIZE THAT these 2,500 Products workers would spend annually more than

- 753,000 for housing and fuel
- 208,000 for household operation
- 1,500,000 for miscellaneous expenses, entertainment, etc.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Free Ride For You— on the Freedom Train!

We had a real thrill in Our Town just the other day—when the Freedom Train stopped by!

You've heard about it, of course—an actual train that's touring the country to remind us again what true Democracy means. It carries such Americana as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and other immortal documents that guarantee every citizen his liberty.

A great idea! And from where I sit, we're all riding along with that Freedom Train—right now—by living in a country that protects our individual liberties—whether they apply to our right to vote, to choose our church, to speak our minds, or enjoy a glass of beer with friends.

Only thing is—we've got to prove ourselves worthy of the ride . . . by guarding zealously against whatever forces of intolerance encroach upon our American concepts of live-and-let-live, in a free and strong Democracy!

Eat More In Morning And Less In Evening Health Dept. Urges

Eat more food in the morning and less at night. It's good for your figure. It's good for your budget and it will help save food in the present emergency campaign, the Michigan Deparmtent of Health advised today.

For economical use of food eat most heartily early in the day. A nourishing breakfast is important not only from the health and morale standpoint but also because it means more efficient use of food.

Food eaten early in the day is digested and absorbed during the active daytime hours. The body gets the most benefits from food eaten at breakfast, and at noon. Food eaten at night shortly before going to bed is digested and absorbed largely during sleep when the body needs the least food and the excess is apt to be deposited on the body as fat. These facts were revealed in recent food studies at the University of Chicago.

They mean that anyone who goes shy on breakfast, slight lunch and then "loads up" at a heavy dinner at night may actually be wasting food because he cannot use it to best advantage the United States Department of Agriculture says.

Nutritionists say that children who have little or no breakfast are likely to be undernourished because they cannot take in enough food at the other two meals to supply their daily requirements. They contend that "the forgotten or hasty breakfast, and the skimpy lunch may be the reason for Junior's drowsiness and low grades at school. Jane's poor appetite and loss of weight, fathers' morning temper, mother's overweight, and even grandma's edginess or hurt feelings."

A reconsideration of food habits in Michigan may result in greater saving for the starving overseas and also may result in better physical and mental health for Michigans' people, according to Mrs. Alice Smith, Nutritionist, Michigan Department of Health.

HONORS DAUGHTER

Mrs. Herbert Hoag entertained eight little children Tuesday afternoon honoring the 5th birthday of her daughter, Jean Ann. Games, a grab bag and refreshments were enjoyed. Jean Ann received many nice gifts.

A General Clean-up

"Mother says may she have a pound of butter and some sugar on trust till father comes home," said the little girl in the grocer's shop.

"And why doesn't your mother come herself?" asked the grocer suspiciously.

"Oh," the child, full of innocence, "mother's trying another shop."

How A&P Gives You

Lower Food Prices

During the past week you have noticed lower prices on many important food items in your A & P Stores.

These prices are a direct reflection of the reductions in the market cost of the food to us. Many of our customers are amazed to find these price reductions going into effect so quickly at the retail level. They wonder how we do it. There is no mystery about it.

We are able to reflect these market reductions promptly because of three basic policies:

1. We endeavor to buy our food from primary sources of supply, such as farmers, meat packers and grocery manufacturers, and move it directly to our stores and warehouses. This keeps down the cost of distribution to us and the price to you at all times.

2. When the cost of food to us goes down we do not wait until we have exhausted supplies on hand, but endeavor to reflect reductions in our retail prices promptly.

3. We are food merchants, not food speculators. We do not build up great reserves of food at any time. We are in the market from day to day, buying food to meet our customers' day-to-day needs.

The lower prices you are finding in A & P stores, coming as they do at a time when all of us are concerned with the high cost of living, have prompted many of our customers to ask us what the food price outlook is. Are there going to be further price reductions in these and other foods?

Frankly, it is impossible for anyone to predict future retail food prices without knowing whether the break in the commodity market is temporary or the beginning of a general trend. Grocers do not control the price they must pay for food. They can lower retail prices only to the extent to which they buy wisely, keep their own costs and profits down and pass along savings resulting from lower wholesale prices to their customer.

We base our retail price on the cost to us, plus our low cost of doing business which includes our small profit of about 1½ cents on each dollar of sales.

Therefore, we can say A & P prices will follow the market trend and that any further reduction in the cost of food to us, or in our costs of doing business, will promptly result in lower prices in our stores.

You can count on A & P to give you lower prices whenever and wherever it is possible. You can trust A & P to give you the most quality food for your money.

Would you be willing to sell your home today for the amount of insurance you carry on it? If your answer is no, then you are underinsured.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Tecumseh Herald and the Council and Residents of
Tecumseh, Michigan

Readers of the Tecumseh Herald have been informed that Albert Bagshaw has been temporarily appointed to the responsibility of the duties of your City Engineer. This I have accepted as a Civic obligation, and in a necessary, helpful way to a very good friend and worthy predecessor, Frank Hoekstra, who has been an ever faithful servant to the people of Tecumseh, Michigan and surrounding territory.

I want it to be known now and forever that I have no desire to fill this vacancy other than to be of assistance in training some competent man to perform the duties of this office, and to prolong and continue the job of giving Tecumseh, the good and faithful service rendered them during Frank's long term of office.

I believe in Tecumseh. I know Tecumseh and I am for Tecumseh. That is why I want it to be known that I am not trying to hold down two jobs because I am not big enough.

New Tools - More Parts - Greater Efficiency
Make Us Better Able To Serve You

In the past few weeks we have been quietly but effectively improving the Service Departments in our garage and now feel that we are better equipped to give you the service you need than any other similar institution in Lenawee County.

Our new equipment includes new hydraulic hoists, new tools of every description, and a stock room to supply your replacement parts needs . . . either retail or wholesale . . . that is nearly double in size.

Our officers and showrooms, too, have been modernized in keeping with our improvement program . . . all for your greater convenience.

Why Don't You Pay Us A Visit?

We'd be very happy to have you pay us a visit and inspect the improvements we have made. We'd be glad to show you how we can do your work faster, more economically . . . thereby saving you money.

We realize that Tecumseh is growing and it is our desire to keep pace with that growth so that it may never be said that the sales and service ends of our department are lagging behind a community effort.

Plant Tour Attractive On 'T-Day'

MANY RESIDENTS OF TECUMSEH AREA INTERESTED IN SEEING PRODUCTS AT WORK

Hundreds of persons are expected to tour the home of the largest independent manufacturers of electrical refrigeration in the world tomorrow when the Tecumseh Products Company opens its factory for inspection. The tour will be one of the highlights of Tecumseh's T-Day program, which ends in the evening with a community banquet at the high school gymnasium.

Here is the factory inspection schedule:

Tours will start at 9:30 a.m., and will continue throughout the day up to 3 p.m.

Guides will be on hand to show visitors all sections of the factory which contains some 420,000 square feet of floor space. It will be possible for a visitor to follow the manufacture of a refrigeration unit from the time the first piece of steel enters the plant until it is packaged for shipment.

Persons who do not have available transportation for the trip are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce, phone 259, and it will be furnished.

The program in the evening, in the form of a banquet, will start at 6:45 at the school. Music will be furnished by the Products new 18-piece orchestra under the direction of Wm. Damon and the T-P Broadcasters, a barbershop quartette, will sing. Speaking on the program will include a talk by Ray W. Herrick, president of the Products company, Ronald E. Harris, secretary, and Earl L. Wickwire, president, of the Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet will be limited to 350, and reports from the committee in charge of ticket sales today indicated that it would be a sell-out.

The purpose of the factory inspection and of the banquet is to awaken new interest locally in the need for a more aggressive home building campaign and, at the same time, point out the need for increasing other municipal facilities if Tecumseh is to keep pace with its expanding industry.

It was pointed out that of the nearly 2,500 persons on Products payroll, only 716, or less than 30 per cent, live in Tecumseh. Surveys also show that many workers in other plants here also reside outside of town. Products plans to begin a rapid expansion program, and its officers have urged that steps be taken immediately to make more housing here available.

A program for the building and financing of a new $400,000 high school also will be discussed at the banquet, as will one for the building of some 250 homes in a new subdivision, recently purchased by Mr. Herrick in the northeast section of the village.

Another feature will be a discussion of a plan to change Tecumseh's government from village to city-manager form, and the expansion of the boundaries of the village at a subsequent election.

"The Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with local industry, has a very ambitious program ahead for Tecumseh," Mr. Harris said. "Interest in the whole plan is very keen, and I feel certain that the banquet program will be very profitable for every resident."

Tomorrow is 'T-Day'

Tomorrow is "T-Day" in Tecumseh . . . one of the most important days to be celebrated by this community in its history.

"T-Day" means "Tecumseh Day." Tomorrow, residents of the village and its neighboring area will have an opportunity to inspect the Tecumseh Products factory while it is in operation. They will see, first-hand, where 2,400 men and women work and earn an annual pay-check of more than $7,500,000.

They should, after they tour the factory, see why this plant must expand, why hundreds and hundreds more men and women must be employed there in the near future if Products is to nearly double its sales and its payroll.

Tomorrow evening, at the "T-Day" banquet at the high school, they will hear of the plans that are being made by the Chamber of Commerce for Tecumseh's future, and they also will hear from Ray W. Herrick, president of Products, something of the plans that are being made by his company for expansion.

They will hear how Tecumseh expects to build and finance a new $400,000 school.

They will hear how Tecumseh plans to build and finance more than 250 new homes here this year.

They will hear why the Chamber of Commerce approves a change in Tecumseh's government, from village to manager-form.

Plan to visit the factory, and to attend the banquet. If you need transportation to and from the factory, call 259 and it will be furnished. Banquet tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce offices at $1.75 each.

DENT IS EXPECTED IN TECUMSEH'S HOUSING SHORTAGE

$1,500,000 Building Program Is Launched Here

A housing project for 1948, the cost of which is expected to exceed $1,500,000, has been announced by Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Company. The building of 250 houses in the new subdivision, at the end of East Brown street, will start in April, Mr. Herrick said, and he hopes that by the end of June the contractors will hit a pace of "a-house-a-day until snow flies."

"We want to push this project rapidly, because this community really needs houses," Mr. Herrick said in announcing the purchase of the property from Ford Motor Co. All of the land lies within the village limits and there are about 90 acres in the tract.

First public announcement of the housing program came last Friday afternoon at a Products mass meeting when the president told the men that it would be the company's policy to give a lot and $200 to every man qualifying for a home in the subdivision. R. S. Moore & Son Co., local lumber dealers, are cooperating with Mr. Herrick in the project, and R. H. Moore appeared on the platform with Herrick, explaining the building plans and showing architects drawings of the proposed houses.

Already, it is understood, some 70 persons have signed up for the construction of houses on the site.

There is sufficient acreage in the subdivision for the building of 250 houses, probably in two classes. About 150 or 200 of the houses will be in the $6,000 class, and a down payment of about $600 will be needed, (of which amount $200 will be furnished by Products), and the monthly payment plan will be around the $40 mark. The houses will have two bedrooms, kitchen, dinette, living room and bathroom, full basement and furnace.

It also is planned to build 50 or 75 other houses there, these to exceed the $6,000 bracket. Plans for this project have not been worked out completely.

As soon as the frost leaves the ground it is planned to begin the building of road and the laying of water pipe in the acreage. Large septic tanks will eliminate the need for sewer mains. Architects and subdivision planners already are at work on scale drawings.

The subdivision is bounded on the east and north by the River Raisin and the mill pond and it is one of the most scenic spots in Tecumseh.

"This is one of the finest home sites I have ever seen," was the way Mr. Herrick made the enthusiastic announcement "When it is completed, it will be one of the most beautiful sections of Tecumseh."

Two weeks ago, Mr. Moore announced plans for the building of 75 or 100 houses north of West Brown street, west of Union street at the Brown street intersection. This project, too, will begin this spring and will be rushed to completion.

With these two projects and others that are under consideration in the Tecumseh area this year, well over $2,500,000 worth of house building should be in progress here by July.

Tecumseh has for two years held the record nationally for building more houses per capita than any other town of its size in the United States. Local builders say that they intend to retain and to defend that record again this year.

Girl Scout Troop To Visit Products Factory

Members of Girl Scout troop No. 7 will visit the Tecumseh Products factory on "T-Day", at 2 p.m. The girls will meet at the high school and go from there to Products.

On February 19, new officers were elected for the coming year as follows: president, Sylvia Golat; vice president, Shirley Meads; secretary, Beverly Murphy; treasurer, Barbara Campbell; song mistress, Barbara Folk; scribe, Joyce Gray; chaplain, Doris Tressler; patrol leaders, Janet Bashore, Patrol I, Doris Tressler, Patrol II, Marilou Burleson, Patrol III. Mrs. R. H. Moore is the troop leader and Mrs. Frank Purcell is the co-leader.

Red Cross To Launch Drive

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN ON MARCH 1

Arrangements for the annual Red Cross membership drive to start March 1, are nearly completed here, due to the splendid cooperation of local organizations.

A committee from the Monday Club, headed by Mrs. Donald Goddard and Mrs. Hoyt Whelan, are scheduling workers to receive donations at the United Savings Bank on Fridays, Saturdays and Mondays during the month of March. They will issue membership cards and no other individual solicitation will be made.

Members of the Exchange Club will call on heads of local industries while a group of Business and Professional Women will contact clubs and fraternal organizations.

Further information regarding the need for funds has been received from Russell McAfee, county chairman, who states that much of the money contributed in this area will be used to establish permanent clinics to collect whole blood for hospital use. Because of Michigan's well-organized plasma service, this state will be one of the first to benefit by these clinics.

Money is also needed for nation-wide disaster relief and locally to aid servicemen and veterans and their families.

College, Church Choirs To Sing "Crucifixion"

"The Crucifixion," a meditation on the sacred passion of the Holy Redeemer, will be sung on Sunday, March 14, by the choir of the Methodist church under the direction of Miss Jean Walton, accompanied by Fred Gault, organist. The music is for solo voices and the chorus and is interspersed with hymns to be sung by the congregation. The words were selected and written by the Rev. J. Sparrow Simpson, M. A., and the music is by John Stainer. The church choir will be assisted by the Adrian College choir.

The community is cordially invited to attend this service of music in the sanctuary of the Methodist church.

Immunization Clinic, Mar. 2

SCHOOLS COOPERATE WITH DEPARTMENT TO WAR ON SMALLPOX, DIPHTHERIA

The Tecumseh public schools are cooperating with the Lenawee County Health Department in sponsoring an immunization clinic which will be held in the local schools on Tuesday, March 2. The clinic will open at the West Branch building at 9 a.m. and will then be transferred to the Central Building at approximately 10:30 a.m.

This service is being planned to provide protection against dyphtheria and smallpox for children who have not been immunized against diphtheria or vaccinated for smallpox within the last five year period. Form letters have been sent home through the children in the elementary grades advising that this protection be provided by parents either through the family physician or through the school clinic. This is highly desirable to prevent the possible outbreak of an epidemic which would result in needless suffering and death.

All children who desire to receive immunization through the school clinic must present a request form signed by the parents. These slips will be provided through the school to all parents who indicate their desire to have their children immunized.

Indians Lose To Hudson Hi

TIGERS FIND TECUMSEH EASY PREY; NEXT GAME AT ADDISON ON FRIDAY

(By Pat Wilson)

Tecumseh high school entertained Hudson here last Friday night and lost a hard-fought game 40-28. This leaves Tecumseh tied for cellar position with Addison, while Hudson remained tied for first place with Blissfield.

During the first quarter Hudson jumped to an 11-9 lead, but Tecumseh played a close game with them. In the second quarter Tecumseh relaxed for a moment and Hudson grabbed a 16-4 advantage of points in this quarter.

In the third quarter Tecumseh began to see some of the mistakes that had been made in the first half. While both teams broke even on the scoring with five apiece, in the final quarter Tecumseh outscored the Tigers 10-8.

Glenn Hackett was high point man for the Tigers with 14, while Hal Baker was a close second with 13. For the Indians Dick Colson was high with six, while Hop Anderson was next with five.

The reserve team lost to Hudson by a close score of 24-17. Frank Rumler led the Indians with eight.

Tecumseh's next game is with Addison Friday night at Addison.

Wilson will present a course on the subject "I believe in Man" from 8:10 to 8:35 p.m. A sound film explaining the conversion and the work of St. Paul the Apostle entitled "The Way of Salvation", will be shown by Rev. The public is urged to attend these meetings.

Benefits For Q.O. Workers

SICKNESS, ACCIDENT PLAN FOR HOURLY WORKERS EFFECTIVE MARCH 1

The Quaker Oats Company today notified its Tecumseh employees that a sickness and accident plan for hourly workers will be established March 1.

Commenting on the descriptive booklet given 46 hourly paid employees who will be eligible to receive these benefits, Plant Manager D. T. Nixon pointed out that the new plan will provide them a substantial part of their regular pay when they are absent from work due to personal illness or accident.

Quaker, Mr. Nixon said, will pay all costs of the sickness and accident plan. He expressed the belief that it will measure up well with such other Quaker benefits as profit-sharing, which for 12 years has given hourly paid employees an average of a month's extra pay.

Employees were told that the new plan, which will cost them nothing, is being established on a trial basis. Nixon said its continuance will depend upon Quaker's ability to pay the costs out of earnings, and upon the co-operation of employees in making sure that only just illness or accident claims are made.

Irish Ministers At Friends Church, Sunday

John and Dorothy Sinton of Northern Ireland, will speak at the Tecumseh Friends Church, Sunday evening, at 7:30. Mr. and Mrs. Sinton are ministers of the Society of Friends in Ireland and Mrs. Sinton is president of the W. C. T. U. for Northern Ireland as well as superintendent of the Junior Christian Endeavor for the British Isles.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinton attended the International C. E. convention in San Francisco last July. Since that time they have been holding meetings in California. They will return to their home in Northern Ireland soon, sailing from New York City.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Tecumseh Garden Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence Beach. Mrs. Charles Branigin gave a talk on seed catalogues after which Mrs. Al Heiterman led a discussion on the care and replanting of house plants. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Lester Rogers will entertain the club March 19. There will be a guest peaker.

Progressives May Have Field

NO NOTICE SERVED ON VILLAGE CLERK THAT PEOPLES TICKET WILL BE FILLED

Unless some opposition pops up, perhaps in the form of sticker candidates, it now appears likely that the Progressive Party's nominees for village offices at the election on Monday, March 8, will, for the most part, have the field to themselves.

The Peoples Party, caucusing on Friday, February 13, with 13 in attendance, nominated a complete slate of candidates naming Fay Whelan for president, Mel G. Partridge, Yale Kerby and Clarence Gilman for councilman, Lester Rogers for assessor, E. H. Van Vleet for treasurer, and James Artman for clerk. Promptly, the first four named on the ticket, Mr. Whelan, Mr. Partridge, Mr. Kerby and Mr. Gilman withdrew, saying that their businesses demanded too much of their time for them to enter politics.

Wade L. Jones, village clerk, said yesterday that he had not been advised that the Peoples party had filled its ticket after the resignations and he indicated that it would be certified for balloting with only four names appearing.

On the Progressive ticket will appear these names: Marvin Watkins, village president; Clarence Beach, B. G. Ousterhout and Glenn Driscoll, councilmen; Wade L. Jones, clerk; Charles M. Fay, treasurer, and Thomas O'Hara, assessor.

One thing is certain at the forthcoming election. Four new members will be named to the council because John C. Truesdale, rounding out his first term as president, is not a candidate for reelection. Likewise, S. Henry Smith, B. B. TurnBull and Geo. Adamson, veteran members of the official body, are not seeking reelection.

Members of the council whose terms do not expire with the coming election are Messrs. Archie Porter, Geo. McCombs and Charles Mensing.

Episcopalians Seek To Raise $1,000,000 Sunday

Led by their presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, D.D., of New York, Episcopal church members throughout the United States will undertake to raise over one million dollars in one hour on Sunday, February 29.

St. Peter's church will have part in this endeavor and all members are urged to be in church when the bishop speaks to them. His address will be carried over the largest radio network ever established except for a presidential address. Beginning at 11:30 a.m. across the country the nearest outlets are CKLW, Windsor and WABJ, Adrian. However, the aspect of corporate worship and giving are stressed by asking people to be in church during the address. Immediately following the presentation an offering will be taken which will be used for relief of needy and distressed peoples around the world. The fund s administered through Church World Service Inc., under the direcion of the Presiding Bishop's Committee.

L. W. Larsen, chairman of the local committee of St. Peter's church, is being assisted by Donald Goddard, Glenn Driscoll, Orville Laidlaw, C. A. Barber and T. J. Tonneberger in raising over two hundred dollars as St. Peter's proportion of the total offering.

Seven Students Win District Band Honors

Seven students of the Tecumseh high school band won honors at the district band festival held in Jackson Saturday and will compete in the state finals at Michigan State College, East Lansing, April 10. They are: David Lott, Marion Murphy, Gerald VanValkenburg, cornet trio; Grace Moore, Janis Boltz' Tommy Will, clarinet trio; and Louis Vargo, saxophone soloist.

Sees Short Life For Communism

RUSSIAN PROFESSOR DOUBTS THAT DOCTRINE WILL LAST, EVEN IN THE SOVIET

The Marshall Plan, if the federal treasury can stand the strain, would be an excellent means of halting the spread of Communism in Europe, Dr. Andrei Lobanov-Rostovsky, a member of the old Russian nobility, declared Tuesday evening when he spoke at the high school Town Hall meeting at the high school. Dr. Lobanov, professor of history at the University of Michigan, is a naturalized American citizen. About 100 persons attended the meeting.

Serving in the first World War in both the Russian and French armies and a student of European history, the professor is of the opinion that Communism in Europe will not last. He pointed out that this is not the first time that Russia has dominated the low countries, and he doubts that the doctrine is deep-rooted even in Russia. During a question and answer period he warned that Communism thrives on discontent, hunger and an unstable government policy and suggested that perhaps inflation is one of the most dangerous stepping stones to the ism. Keeping a country healthy from a social and economic standpoint will work wonders in checking the spread of Communism, he said. In fact, he pointed out that the doctrine cannot exist where there is mass satisfaction.

There will be no meeting of Town Hall in March, because of conflicts with other activities at the high school. The next regular meeting will be in April.

C. OF C. SECRETARY ROTARY CLUB SPEAKER

Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening at Brees House. Guests included Dr. Lobanov-Rostovsky, Ann Arbor and Neville Hart, Tecumseh.

Mr. Harris told something of the organization of the local Chamber, declared that its committees are busy with local problems and pointed out that, in the not-too-distant future, every member of the organization will be called upon to perform some task. "It is an active Chamber, one in which all of the membership is busy, that succeeds," he warned.

Monday evening, Mr. Harris was the guest speaker at the Exchange Club, also meeting at Brees House.

Popular Cast In Home Talent

TWO CONTESTS MARK PREPARATION FOR AUXILIARY SHOW HERE, MARCH 4-5

Tecumseh's new home talent show, "Fun For You," using a large cast of well-known local people, will open a two-night run, Thursday and Friday, March 4 and 5, at the high school auditorium. The show is being sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, and proceeds will go to help defray the expense of aid given to local children.

In connection with the show, a popularity contest for boys and girls under the age of six years is now under way. Any child in the village may enter. Standings of the contest will be posted at noon daily on the Wright drugstore windows and photographs of contestants are displayed in the window. Voting jars will be found in several stores. Mrs. Madge Lewis and Mrs. Bert Warren are in charge of this contest.

On the second night of the show a "Good, Good Neighbor" will be presented with a gift from Tom Brenneman, the Rev. B. O. Bashore playing the Brenneman role. Letters from residents of Tecumseh and vicinity, nominating a local person for outstanding service to the community, will be judged by a committee, solely on the merits of the person so named.

Nominations for the Good, Good Neighbor award should be mailed to Mrs. Bert Warren, 110 Pottawatamie street, marking the letter to the attention of Miss Caryl Thimsen, director of the show.

Local talent will include as "glamour girls" Don Martin, Yale Kerby, Archie Porter, Harold Green and Harold Easton. Wallace Whiting will play the part of announcer Harry Von Zell and "Monte" Raymond will sing the commercial, "Chiquita Banana." Forrest Abner, as the caller for the barn dance, will be accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Driscoll at the piano. Betty Joyce Miller will be the soprano soloist. These and many others will appear in the show.

Tecumseh Leads March Of Dimes

GIFTS LOCALLY EXCEED OTHER COMMUNITIES IN COUNTY, EXCEPT ADRIAN

As it did during the war years, Tecumseh led all other communities in Lenawee county, aside from Adrian, in contributions to the March of Dimes, William Damon, chairman of the campaign locally, announced today.

While a definite quota was not established in the Dimes drive, just ended, Mr. Damon said that Tecumseh's gift this year amounted to $515, which, he has been informed, was the largest gift contributed by any village or city in the county, outside Adrian. "The Lenawee officers are very much pleased with Tecumseh's response," Mr. Damon said, and he said "thanks" for the community's generosity.

A portion of the money raised locally and in the county remains here to be spent directly in the fight against infantile paralysis. However, Damon pointed out, if more money is needed to wage a battle in Lenawee, it is forthcoming from the National Foundation.

Tecumseh's gift already has been forwarded to the county organization, which group in turn reports to the national organization.

Presbyterians Plan For Men's Day, Sunday

Culminating a week of personal visitation by the members of the session, the Presbyterian church will observe this Sunday as Men's Day in the Presbyterian Church.

From February 12 to 14 there met in Chicago a group of 350 laymen from all walks of life to organize a National Council of Presbyterian Men. This action is being reflected by Presbyterian churches all over the country as the church's manpower is being mobilized to meet the needs and opportunities that face present-day Christians.

Taking part in the morning worship will be laymen of the local congregation with the junior choir providing special music.

A LESSON FROM ENGLAND

England was the first great power to establish representative government. The tradition of individual liberty which has come to its fullest flowering in the United States had its roots in British soil. And now, ironically, England is proving that economic dictatorship and personal freedom cannot exist together.

Every present-day report from London tells of increasing restrictions, more and more regimentation of the people, more and more coercion by the Labor party to advance its program. In the coal mines, something that is dangerously akin to a slave labor policy has gone into effect. Government officials, with staffs of spies and special police, tell the farmer what he may and may not do with what he produces.

That is what always happens when people surrender freedom in exchange for dubious promises of economic security. Any form of totalitarian economics — whether it be socialist, communist or fascist — must inevitably pursue the same policies. The state must be organized like an army, and the orders must be obeyed.

It must have a legion of informers to turn in delinquents. It must have the power to reach into every segment of the national life and adapt it to its own purposes. It cannot brook an opposition that might unseat it.

The most tragic development of the modern world has been the persistent fallacy that government should provide security — that it should stand between us and every conceivable contingency. This is the fallacy that has made possible all the tyranny, all the brutal disregard for the dignity and rights of the individual, all the perversions of justice and decency, that have blackened our civilization. Millions of people have pinned their faith in purely animal values and purely material considerations. They have put security ahead of freedom, and they have lost both.

The wisdom of those who founded this nation was never so apparent as it is today. They saw clearly that only a government of limited powers could be trusted to preserve the liberties of the people.

Where Does Your Money Go?

Read the other day where country folks and farmers spend more money, proportionately, on their homes than city dwellers do.

Doesn't seem hard to believe when you think it over. Take the folks in our town, for instance: They're home-loving people—who'd rather spend an evening by the fire with a mellow glass of beer than go out in search of entertainment or diversion.

So it's only natural they put more into what means most to them and to their children: their homes. They may not have too much to spend—but it goes for those permanent, abiding comforts that make home a nicer place to be.

And from where I sit, that budget calls for some of the niceties of home life too—like cider and popcorn for the kids from time to time, and a friendly glass of beer for Mom and Dad . . . things that belong with what we mean when we say "Home."

Fred N. Milette Weds Mrs. Minnie R. Bunnell

St. Petersburg, Fla.—One of the season's social events in the land of sunshine and flowers was the marriage of Mrs. Minnie R. Bunnell of Pittsfield, Mass., and Fred N. Milette of Detroit and Tecumseh, Michigan which took place Sunday, January 18 in St. Agnes Episcopal Church, Sebring, Florida, the Rev. Eldred C. Simpkins, priest, officiated.

The bride wore a handsome and becoming street length suit of navy blue, with matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The beautiful church decorations were the season's flowers and the ceremony was witnessed by many friends of the couple, who have been winter visitors to the South for a number of years, where their romance began.

Mrs. Milette is the widow of Fred Bunnell, an attorney of Pittsfield, Mass., and Mr. Milette of Detroit and Tecumseh, Michigan, is a representative of the New York Life Insurance Company and a Top Club Member. Both have been winter visitors in the Sunshine City for a number of years, where they met and the romance began.

After a honeymoon at Miami where they were guests at the Robt. Clay Hotel they have planned to make St. Petersburg their winter home seven months of the year and Michigan the remaining five months.

Endorsement Is Needed On New MSUC Checks

Banks, storekeepers, and other business people who cash Michigan State Unemployment Compensation benefit checks, are advised that unless the checks are endorsed on the back by the payee, they are not negotiable instruments and the person cashing them stand to lose the money they pay out.

"The checks," stated James F. Moore, Executive Director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, "are as good as the resources of the Federal Reserve System can make them when properly endorsed. Without the proper endorsement, they are worthless."

"There has been some confusion arising from the presence on the face of this new type of check of a "certfication" in which the payee signs, under penalty of disqualification, that he has fulfilled all requirements and is entitled to receive the check. This signature does not comprise an endorsement. Receipt of the money must be acknowledged in the formal way, by an endorsement on the back of the check, before it becomes valid."

Moore pointed out that several hundred checks have been cleared without this endorsement, and it has been necessary to send them back to the persons who cashed them for endorsement.

Anachronism

The scene was a Hollywood film-studio. Thousands of "extras", attired as French revolutionaries storming the Bastille, filled the middle distance.

In the foreground, on a rostrum, was the director, bowling through a megaphone:

"We're going to do this over and over again—until the guy shouting 'whoopee' decides to cooperate."

Boys now find that one of their greatest problems is what kind of a birthday present to buy for a girl who doesn't smoke.

Rheumatic Fever Warning Issued

DISEASE IS STILL ONE OF THE LEADING KILLERS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

"Rheumatic fever is still the leading fatal disease among Michigan school children, and more than 50,000 Michigan adults who have survived the ailment are suffering handicaps resulting from it," Dr. J. K. Altland, commissioner, Michigan Department of Health, said today.

"Better public understanding of rheumatic fever, and better utilization of new diagnosis and treatment centers in the state can save the lives of many children and the handicapping of many adults," Dr. Altland said.

While rheumatic fever is the most serious chronic illness beginning in childhood, many parents do not recognize the ailment in their own children. It is serious, difficult to diagnose and hard to treat.

Although the disease has been recognized since Hippocrates' time, 400 years before Christ, the medical profession still does not know its exact cause, nor a preventive for it, nor a special treatment for it. The disease is probably not communicable. It often follows streptococcus infections such as scarlet fever, tonsilitis, or a "bad cold", and it is more likely to occur among children whose families have a history of rheumatic fever.

The germ or virus which causes the ailment attacks the heart valves and muscles, and leaves scars which impair the function of the heart throughout life. One attack of the disease does not immunize the victim against another attack, but instead, makes him more likely to suffer a second or recurring attacks.

Rheumatic fever usually starts in early childhood, between the age of five and fourteen years. It flourishes in cold damp weather under crowded living conditions, and among children who do not have or do not eat proper food.

Symptoms which should indicate an immediate medical check-up for the disease are: low, unexplained fever which persists; pain, particularly in joints and muscles; fast pulse (rapid heart action); repeated nosebleeds without apparent cause; pallor; poor appetite; loss of weight or failure to gain; jerky or nervous movements; frequent sore throat; or tiredness; abdominal pain or pains in arms and legs such as are sometime called "growing pains."

The signs or symptoms may be so slight that the doctor will have to check the child for months or consult specialists before he can be certain, but to protect the heart and the life of the child, early diagnosis is extremely important. The symtoms listed do not mean, necessarily, that the child has rheumatic fever, but they do indicate that something is wrong and that the child should be examined by a physician.

If the physician decides the child has rheumatic fever, the first treatment will probably be complete bed rest. The doctor will treat the infection while it lasts and the rest period may involve weeks, months or years, but its observance is of the utmost importance to the child' future health and length of life.

Prevention of recurrence of the disease is also important. A child who has one attack is likely to have another. Parents should see that the child is properly clothed, that he keeps his feet dry, avoids children with respiratory diseases, eat sufficient and proper foods, gets plenty sleep, follows medical instructions and has frequent medical check-ups. The child should be taught how to protect himself and the reasons for doing so.

Just how necessary it is to take such precautions is shown by the fact that one out of every five children who develop rheumatic fever dies within ten years.

Rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease cause almost five times as many deaths as infantile parlysis, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and cerebrospinal meningitis combined.

To afford better diagnosis of rheumatic fever among Michigan children, the state and local medical societies, the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission and other agencies have started rheumatic fever consultation centers in 15 Michigan cities. They include 16 in Detroit and one each in Marquette, Kalamazoo, Alpena, Traverse City, Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Bay City, Saginaw, Port Huron, Pontiac, Ann Arbor Jackson, Lansing and Battle Creek.

EAST CHICAGO BLVD.

HOWDY FOLKS — Thanksgiving Day, old Mr. Harrison, who is a pretty timid fellow, decided to kill the turkey himself. He couldn't bring himself around to wringing its neck, and he didn't have the heart to use the axe. So he decided to shoot it.

His son Jimmy, age 6, was watching Daddy try to kill the bird, while Mrs. Harrison was waiting in the kitchen. Minutes passed and no shot. Finally, Mrs. Harrison yelled out the window to Jimmy and asked when the turkey was to be shot. Jimmy yelled back "We can't shoot it yet, it won't get in the way."

Pa: "My son, when you grow up, I want you to be a gentleman."

Son: "I don't wanta be a gentleman, pop. I wanta be like you."

$145,000 Cash Gift For New High School Climaxes 'T-Day'

Gifts totaling well over $160,000 to the school district and the village, plus 200 or more free home sites for employees of Tecumseh Products Company were announced here last Friday evening at the Chamber of Commerce "T-Day" Banquet at the high school by Ray W. Herrick, president of Products.

In a 20-minute address to the more than 300 persons assembled at the dinner, Mr. Herrick brought Tecumseh's "T-day" civic celebration to a close with these announcements:

Tecumseh Products and Mr. Herrick and three of his associates will give to the school district $145,000 in cash to help finance the building of a new $400,000 high school here.

Purchase of some 90 acres of land at the end of East Brown street, inside the village limits, the plot to be subdivided for building purposes. More than 200 lots will be available and each Products worker qualifying for a home in the subdivision will be given a lot free and in addition $200 to help him to finance the building of his home.

Purchase of some type of aerial fire fighting equipment for the village as quickly as the village furnishes suitable housing for all its fire fighting apparatus.

Associated with Mr. Herrick and Products in the $145,000 gift are Jens K. Touborg, Frank K. Smith and Curtis M. Brown....The latter three men, it was said, are giving $45,000. Mr. Touborg is president of the Tecumseh Board of Education.

"This is my home town and I love it," Mr. Herrick told his listeners. "We've outgrown our schools, we all know it. The children of today will be the men of tomorrow. They'll be taking your place and mine. The only thing that money is for is to do good. That's my philosophy of life. We can't any of us take it with us."

Building a new high school here at a cost of $400,000 and paying for it in five years is just simple arithmetic Mr. Herrick told his audience. He explained that the district has an established sinking fund which, in two more years, will total $80,000. The gift of $145,000 brings the available cash to $225,000.

"Float a $175,000 bond issue, payable in five years, and at the end of that time we'll have the school free of debt and we'll have a brand new building of our own," he said.

The only strings tied to the gift were that construction of the new building must be started this year, and the district approve the bond issue.

In announcing the plan for the new subdivision, Herrick said that his company realized that Tecumseh needs several hundred new homes if it is to keep pace with industrial growth. He pointed out that less than 30 per cent of Products 2,500 workers live here, many of them driving great distances to and from their work.

The site of the new subdivision was purchased two weeks ago from the Ford Motor Company by Mr. Herrick. He said that the work of subdividing the land would begin in March and that construction of houses would start as soon as preliminary details had been completed.

Every Products worker qualifying for a home in the subdivision will be given a lot and $200. The houses to be built will cost about $6,300, and monthly payments will be about $43. They will be built to FHA specifications and will contain two bedrooms, bath, kitchen, living room, dinette, full basement and furnace.

"I'll pay for the building of the roads in the subdivision, and I'll also pay for the pipe needed to make water available. I think that the village should be able to lay the pipe," Herrick said. He also declared that he plans to landscape the area. "When its finished, it will be one of the finest subdivisions anywhere around,' he declared.

Already, it is understood, more than 150 Products men have made application for a house in the new subdivision.

Following Mr. Herrick's address, Dr. Ralph Helzerman, secretary of the board of education, formally accepted the gift and expressed the district's appreciation. He warned that it is imperative that the district act quickly on the bonding plan if construction of the building is to start this year. He also warned that unless the bond issue is approved the gift offer will be withdrawn.

In recognition of Mr. Herrick's generosity to the community, not only through his gift to the school district but others as well, Earl L. Wickwire, president of the Chamber, presented the manufacturer with the organization's annual Good Citizen award. Such a certificate will be presented yearly to the resident whom the Chamber believes gives the greatest service to the community. "We want you to know that your efforts to stimulate community progress and your many fine gifts to Tecumseh are sincerely appreciated," Mr. Wickwire told Mr. Herrick. "I know of no better way to present this award than when you are sur-

Do You Know How Much $145,000 Is?

The gift of $145,000 toward the building of a new high school here, announced last Friday evening at the "T-Day" Banquet by Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Company, and three of his associates, is, when considered from a community-wide angle, a sum that the school district cannot afford to lose.

The sum of $145,000 is MORE than THREE TIMES the total of direct taxes collected by the village last year for the operation of local government. Taxes collected by the village in 1947 amounted to $43,786.50.

Estimating Tecumseh's population at 3,600, it is like a gift of a little more than $4 to every man, woman and child in the village.

There is a total enrollment of 875 in the public schools. On that basis it is equal to a gift of approximately $177 to each of the children enrolled.

Last year, the Tecumseh school district received from direct taxes for school operation and the building and site sinking fund a total of $47,174.15. The $145,000 gift is roughly THREE TIMES that amount.

The only strings attached to the offer are that the school district must begin construction of the new building this year, and approve a $175,000 bond issue, to be retired in five years.

The school district will have, in two more years, $80,000 in a building and site sinking fund. This amount, plus the amounts of the bond issue and the gift, total $400,000, the sum needed to build the new building.

School Vote Likely Mar. 30

BOARD TO ACT IMMEDIATELY ON $145,000 GIFT FOR HIGH SCHOOL

The board of education, meeting Tuesday evening, voted to act immediately on a program to bring to a vote a $175,000 proposed bond issue for the building of a new high school here which issue, if approved, would make available to the district a $145,000 gift from Ray W. Herrick and his associates. The Herrick gift, plus some $80,000 in a sinking fund and the bond issue would make available $400,000, the amount needed for the new construction.

Members of the board of education and W. L. Berkhof, superintendent, will go to Lansing tomorrow to confer with the debt commission and the commissioner of education of Michigan. As quickly as legal steps may be taken to bring about the vote, which the board hopes will not be later than Tuesday, March 30, the district may, if voters give approval, immediately proceed with construction plans. It is their hope that the building will be completed by the fall of 1949 on a site adjoining the present Recreation Center on the east.

The $145,000 gift to the district came as a "T-Day" climax at a Chamber of Commerce banquet here, last Friday evening. Mr. Herrick announced that he and his company would give $100,000, and that $45,000 would be given by Jens Touborg, Frank K. Smith and C. M. Brown, his associates. The only strings attached were that the district must approve the bond issue and that construction be started this year.

County Librarian Is Monday Club Speaker

Some 28 members of the Tecumseh Monday Club met March 1 at the Methodist church. Mrs. Perry Hayden, president, presided at the business meeting at which time it was voted to give $5 to the Red Cross drive and $3 to the Garden Club for overseas relief work.

Miss Edith Ingersoll, program leader, introduced Miss Aileen Lindbert, county librarian, who spoke on the county library work and gave brief reviews of the new books. Miss Lindbert also told of the Children's Story Hour over radio station WABJ (1500) every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5:30 p.m.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. M. G. Partridge. The hostesses were Mrs. Kennard Wise, Mrs. E. C. Brandt, Mrs. Margaret Kidman, Mrs. M. L. Dannells, sr., and Mrs. Luther Kemp.

Saturday Night Parking Is Free

METER RESTRICTIONS ARE REMOVED; TWO HOUR PARKING TO COME SOON

The village council, in session Monday evening, abolished the use of parking meters in the downtown district after 6 p.m. Saturday evenings, and also voted to permit two-hour parking in metered areas, as soon as new heads can be installed on meters now in use. This change probably will be made in two or three days.

A canvass of business places in the downtown district by the Chamber of Commerce, last Monday, showed that most store owners favored elimination of metered parking Saturday evenings, and also that a majority of them believed that two-hour parking should be permitted.

The council also entered into a contract with Tecumseh Products for the subdividing of its new area on E. Brown st., and with Robert H. Moore for his new subdivision off West Brown street.

The fire marshal was asked to inspect the Van Camp building in the downtown area, relative to the installation of fire escapes. Current bills were audited and ordered paid and reports of committees and department heads were read and placed on file.

Red Cross Drive Under Way Here

"NO QUOTA" CAMPAIGN IS EXPECTED TO YIELD SIZEABLE AMOUNT IN TECUMSEH

Although no quota has been established for the Red Cross in Tecumseh, the present membership campaign, launched last Monday, is expected to yield a sizeable amount for the organization. Cooperation in the drive, it was said, is excellent, and an efficient organization has been set up.

A Monday Club committee, headed by Mrs. Donald Goddard and Mrs. Hoyt Whelan, has scheduled workers to receive donations at the United Savings bank on Fridays, Saturdays and Mondays. Members of the Exchange Club will call on heads of local industries and representatives of the Business and Professional Women's Club will contact clubs and fraternal organizations. All workers will be authorized to issue membership cards.

Funds raised in the present membership drive will be used principally to meet disaster emergencies, and for aid locally to service men, veterans and their families. It was pointed out that there is still much of the latter work to be done, although the war is over.

Additional money from the Red Cross also will be needed to set up permanent clinics to collect whole blood for hospital use. Because Michigan has a well-organized plasma service, this state will be one of the first to benefit by these clinics.

400 School Children Immunized At Clinic

In cooperation with the county health department, an immunization clinic was held last Tuesday in the Tecumseh public schools. Some 400 children were immunized against smallpox and diphtheria, the vaccinations being administered by the professional staff of the health department.

Mrs. Owen Petteridge and Mrs. Robert Manchester assisted in recording the data of each child. The immunity of the children in the elementary schools has been raised to approximately 90% through this clinic and those who were treated by family physicians.

The clinic was made possible through the Child Study Club.

P. M. V. KEUSCH DIES

Philip M. V. Keusch, 73, died Saturday morning at his home in Ann Arbor. Mr. Keusch formerly lived on a farm on the Clinton-Macon Road but had resided in Ann Arbor for 16 years, operating a University League house there. He was a Spanish-American War veteran.

Surviving are his widow Maude and a number of cousins. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Ann Arbor and the burial will be in Riverside cemetery, Clinton, in April.

Plan Easter Sunrise Service And Breakfast

The Baptist Youth Fellowship will entertain the five co-operating churches in Tecumseh at the annual Easter Sunrise service and breakfast. Plans were discussed at the regular Sunday evening meeting of that group. It was also decided to have a St. Patrick's Day party the evening of March 14.

Doris Bilby, president, presided and led a discussion on the Lake Louise camp and displayed articles made there by the girls who attended last summer.

Next week, Rev. B. O. Bashore will speak on "What It Means to be a Baptist."

Local Student Speech Winner

HERMAN DICK WINS FIRST PLACE IN SPEECH CONTEST AT FFA MEET, ADRIAN

Herman Dick won first place in public speaking at the Lenawee District F. F. A. elimination contests, which were held at the Adrian fairgrounds, Tuesday. The local high school student spoke on the subject of "Farm Co-operatives." Blissfield placed second and Sand Creek third in the same contest.

The contests included a demonstration division, a parliamentary procedure drill division, and the speaking contest. In the demonstration contest Onsted placed first, Blissfield second and Addison third. The local team, composed of Jerry Eaton and Fred Feight, placed fourth.

The parliamentary procedure drill was presented locally by Tony Rebottaro as chairman, Donald Withrow, Ronald Woodward, Duane Horton and Howard Pennington. In this contest Blissfield won first place, Morenci second and Onsted third.

The winners of these contests will compete in the regional contests at Hillsdale Tuesday, March 9. Over 120 F. F. A. boys from nine vocational agricultural schools in the county were in attendance at the contests and the program which followed. David Locke, Tecumseh high school vocational agriculture instructor, is the county advisor and supervised the contests.

Only One Party On Local Ballot

PROGRESSIVES HAVE FIELD TO THEMSELVES AS PEOPLES CANDIDATES QUIT

Only one ticket, the Progressive, will appear on the village election ballot here, Monday, March 8, when voters go to the polls to name a new president, three members of the council, a clerk, treasurer and assessor. Voting will, as usual, take place in the council building, South Evans street, and the polls will be open from 7 a.m., to 5 p.m.

Those whose names will appear on the ballot are: For president, Marvin Watkins; for clerk, Wade L. Jones; for treasurer, Charles M. Fay; for assessor, Thomas O'Hara; for trustees, B. G. Osterhout, Glenn Driscoll and Clarence Beach.

Because there is only one ticket in the field, a light vote is expected.

The Progressive party is the new party in Tecumseh, having been organized only a year ago. At that time it was successful in electing all of its candidates.

This year, on Friday, February 13, Tecumseh's old party, the Peoples, held its caucus and named a complete slate of candidates. A day or two following the caucus, Fay Whelan, candidate for president, withdrew and Mel Partridge, Yale Kerby and Clarence Gilman, candidates for council seats, also refused to run. Last Friday, E. H. VanVleet, nominee for treasurer, Lester Rogers, for assessor, and James Artman, for clerk, also withdrew their names leaving the field free to the Progressives.

Mr. Whelan and the three Peoples party candidates for the council seats, in a published statement two weeks ago, announced that they could not afford to give from their several businesses the time needed to properly serve in the capacities to which they would be seeking election. It was for that reason, they held, that they did not choose to run.

NEW CLUB ROOMS ARE OPENED BY VETERANS

The Veterans of Foreign Wars opened their new club rooms here this week over Wolf Refrigeration Appliance and Hodges Drug store, with Robert Williamson as custodian.

The Veterans have spent some $1,500 remodeling the rooms and in redecorations, and they also have purchased considerable new furniture and equipment.

There are approximately 150 members of the organization in Tecumseh.

EPISCOPALIANS SUBSCRIBE TO $1,000,000 FUND

St. Peter's church, joining in the national Episcopal church offering for $1,000,000 last Sunday, met its assigned quota of $200.

The final results of the project will be announced in a few days.

The Rt. Rev Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, addressed all church members by way of the largest radio network except for a presidential speech. The reception in St. Peter's church was clear and impressive according to L. W. Larsen, chairman of the local drive.

Home Talent Show Tonight

MANY LOCAL PERSONS APPEARING IN COMEDY PLAY TONIGHT, FRIDAY NIGHT

Some 100 local persons will enspersonate famous radio, stage and screen stars at the Tecumseh high school tonight and Friday night when they take part in "Fun For You," known as a "10 cent bomb of entertainment," sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Proceeds from the show will be used for the benefit of local children.

One of the most laugh provoking scenes will be an impersonation of the "Breakfast in Hollywood" broadcast. Heading the cast in this scene will be the Rev. Blair O. Bashore in the role of Tom Brenneman, master of ceremonies. He will introduce many Hollywood beauties among whom you will recognize Yale Kerby as "Lana turner," Harold Easton as Marlene Dietrich; A. A. Musch as Gypsy Rose Lee; Jerry DeFore as Mae West, etc.

Rev. Mr. Bashore not only introduces men dressed as Hollywood lovelies, but he goes into the audience and tries on ladies' hats, giving a pair of nylons to the lady wearing the "goofiest" hat. He also presents the eldest feminine with a corsage.

Following the plan of the original Breakfast in Hollywood this scene will also include the awarding of a wishing ring and introduction of a Good, Good neighbor, chosen by the people of this community.

Other scenes include Joe Kelly and the Quiz Kids, Dr. I. Q. with silver dollars for the audience, the National Barn dance with Uncle Ezra, Minnie Pearl and the Duke of Paducah. There are three choruses made up of the Tecumseh high school 9th and 10th grade girls.

The T. P. Broadcasters and the Four Knights of Harmony, local barbershop quartets will also furnish music. Jack Tonneberger and Betty Joyce Miller will lend their talents on solos. The final scene is a patriotic finale also using many local persons.

INFANT DAUGHTER BURIED IN BROOKSIDE

Victoria Ann Schneider, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Schneider, jr., died at 10:10 p.m. Sunday, about two hours after birth.

Surviving are the parents, one sister, Connie Lee, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schwab of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider of Tecumseh, several nieces, nephews and cousins. Private funeral services were conducted at the Collins Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. Fr. Michael G. Collins officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

FINAL NOTICE

I will be at the United Savings Bank March 9, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. for the final collection of taxes and insurance.

SUBSCRIBES FUNDS FOR LOCAL PROJECTS, PLANS PROGRAMS FOR THE FUTURE

Thirty-one members of the American Legion Auxiliary met Monday at the Legion hall. General business was transacted at which time the Community Service committee announced that, with the cooperation of the Garden Club, a program on beautifying Chicago Boulevard will begin soon.

The Rehabilitation chairman reported that cigarettes and fruit had been taken to a local veteran and cookies to the Auxiliary's adopted veteran at Dearborn hospital. Mrs. Hal Lewis gave an interesting report of the recent visit to the Veteran's hospital at Battle Creek. It was reported by Mrs. Majel Holden that the rummage and bake sale held recently netted the sum of $102.96.

The report of the Ways and Means committee suggested the Auxiliary have an exchange clothing sale in the month of April. The Unit voted $5 for beds after Mrs. L. W. Larsen, president of the Garden Club, explained the need for seed in war torn countries. The Unit also voted $5 for the Red Cross drive.

The resignation of Mrs. Marie Carleson as first vice president was read and accepted with regret. It was also announced that tickets for the local talent show, "Fun For You," sponsored by the Auxiliary, may be purchased at Bancroft Cleaners or at Sluyter's Electric store.

The Commanders and Past Presidents Birthday Dinner will be held at the high school March 19 with Mrs. H. H. Hammel and Mrs. Ned Rosacrans as general chairmen; Mrs. Paul Keyser, Mrs. Vincent Haight and Mrs. L. Brown, tables and decorations; Mrs. Vern Manwaring, tickets; Mrs. Kenneth Herrick, Mrs. Glenn Driscoll and Mrs. Gertrude Schneider, entertainment.

The hostesses served refreshments in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. Vern Manwaring will be the April hostess.

TWO DOLLARS FOR ONE

Those who attended the Chamber of Commerce banquet at the high school last Friday night and heard Ray W. Herrick, president of Products company, announce a gift of $145,000 to help finance the building of a new high school here, on condition that the district vote a $175,000 bond issue so that the new $400,000 structure may be debt-free in five years, were loud in their praise of the manufacturer's generosity.

Its not in many communities that you find men as generous as Mr. Herrick and his associates. Its not every day that someone comes along and gives his home town $145,000. Its not many men who can afford to give such an amount who feel, as Mr. Herrick told his listeners, "that you can't take it with you," and that the real fun of having money is to do good with it." That's Mr Herrick's philosophy of life, and local folk should be convinced of his sincerity because this is not the first gift that he's made to Tecumseh.

There is only one string attached to the offer. Tecumseh must act on the school building program this year, and the district must approve a $175,000 bond issue, to be paid off in five years, so that at the end of that period the district will be out of debt. The difference between the bond issue and the gift, some $75,000, to make up the $400,000, will be paid from a sinking fund already established and which is operative for two more years.

There is no doubt but that Tecumseh needs the new school and that the district will be forced to build such a building regardless of who gives how much. Tecumseh has long ago outgrown its present buildings and is using the library and church rooms for school purposes at the present time.

We cannot conceive of anyone refusing to vote for the bond issue when such a gift is available. It is like saying to the taxpaying voter, "you pay one dollar and I'll pay two." When you need something, when you know that you've got to have it, that's a good deal.

We hope that the board of education will immediately cut through the legal red tape and get the issue to a vote. As soon as it is approved, construction can start and a new school for the youngsters should become available by the fall of 1949. And that's not a minute too soon because Heaven only knows where the children will find classroom space next fall, present facilities are so badly crowded. But perhaps other churches can be used until such time as the new structure becomes available.

We'd like to say a great big thank you to Mr. Herrick and his associates for their generosity and we sincerely hope that the voters will do likewise by casting their ballots favorably in the district election on the bond issue, probably in April.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor of The Herald:

Would you please devote a little space to call public attention to a messy practice being carried out by some citizens of the community.

I refer to the dumping of rubbish and garbage along the public highway.

Some of the neighbors who travel the Clinton-Tecumseh road have been discussing the subject and we are at a loss to know what sort of person does this.

There is certainly no civic pride in them, or consideration for people who have to pass the mess several times a week.

What would happen if some one did the same thing on Chicago Boulevard?

Every town has a public dump which is the proper place for rubbish and it must be only lazy or ignorant people who put it in a paper sack and throw it from a car as they drive along.

Further, tin cans and broken glass are a menace to tires and what happens to the machinery when they mow the roadside grass I can't guess.

Then too, perhaps the dairies are wondering what happens to their milk bottles when even a 2c deposit won't induce some lazy housewife to return them instead of strewing the roadside.

I say "Shame on them!" If I said more you would not print it.

Thank you!

A Reader.

Easy on the eyes — and ears

Standing still, it has the eager look of a pointer scenting game, so swift and flowing are its lines.

Sweeping by, it stands out unfailingly from the highway crowd, unmistakably a Buick and unquestionably the year's trimmest fashion plate.

But have you traveled in one of these tidy new beauties?

Have you seen for yourself how smooth and silent is its flow of power, how hushed and quiet is its ride?

This comes from many things. From Fireball power now Hi-Poised for throbless smoothness. From a Vibra-Shielded ride that is your ever-present protection against road-noise, body-drum and vibration build-up.

And it comes, in addition, from a brand-new development we call Sound-Sorber top lining.

It's a thick pad of feathery insulation much like that you use in your own home, and it goes into every closed model in our 1948 SUPER and ROADMASTER series.

This new lining cloaks your Buick in new and delightful silence akin to that of your own living room — silence that encourages normal-tone conversation, makes soft radio music clear and enjoyable throughout the whole car.

So you ride in quiet as well as beauty when you travel in this style star.

You find it a great-hearted lovely that is soft of voice and gentle of manner — a delight to the traveling ear, the guiding hand and the passing eye.

Don't just see it at your Buick dealer's—look into it with greatest care. The deeper you look the surer you'll be to see the wisdom of getting a firm order in now!

You shall have music — wherever you ride

Front seat or back, you listen to your radio at soft and undistorted volume in this new Buick. You talk without shouting, know freedom from rumble and din. Always cars of quiet comfort, the Buick SUPER and ROADMASTER step out still further with Sound-Sorber top lining—a Buick exclusive.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

HOWDY, FOLKS—Here's one about three kids bragging about how easily their dads make lots of money.
1—"My dad's a poet and makes five dollars every time he writes a poem."
2. —"My dad's a musician, and gets twenty-five dollars every time he plays a tune."
3—"My dad's a preacher, and when he says a dozen words on Sunday, it takes four men to carry all the money down the aisle."
Heard yesterday that Miz Smith and her boy went out of town last week. When they left, she put a sign on the door for the milkman — "All Gone — Don't Leave Anything." When she got home, practically everything she had was gone from the house. And the sign said, "Thanks, we didn't leave much."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Put Up with Women's Styles

When Will Dudley's missus finally gave in to the new-style longer skirts, Will was mighty critical at first. Allowed as how women were a slave to fashion ... ought to dress to please their husbands and not style designers.

Sue finally reminded Will of his habit of sitting by the radio Saturday afternoons in shirt sleeves and old slippers, listening to the sportcasts with a mellow glass of beer. Suggested that maybe Will was a slave to comfort.

And Will admitted she was right.

Perhaps the way somebody dresses isn't always to our taste—just as Will's glass of beer may be another person's cider.

But from where I sit, those little differences aren't important—unless we go out of our way to make them so, by being hypercritical. As Will says now: "Well, anyway, those long skirts hide a multitude of shins" ... and lets it go at that!

rounded by more than 300 of your friends," he said.

Earlier in the program, the Chamber president reviewed Tecumseh's growth since the coming of the Products company and warned that the vilage must, if it is to keep pace with expanding industry, adopt an aggressive program of progress. Houses must be built, he said, at the rate of 150 or 200 a year for four or five years, if a fair share of Tecumseh's payroll is to remain here, and thought too, must be given to an ever-expanding business and industrial area.

Mr. Wickwire told the Chamber members that it was through the efforts of the civic organization that Products will keep all of its future expansion in Tecumseh. About a month ago, he said, Products had considered taking all of its future growth to Ionia, fearing that Tecumseh would not keep pace with such rapid progress.

"Mr. Herrick has told me that plans for Products expansion call for the doubling of floor space and payroll within the next five years. That means 5,000 employees and an annual business of 70 or 80 million. It also means rapid growth for the community and that the Chamber of Commerce has a tremendous job to do," the president said.

The Chamber officer declared that members of the organization must not expect its board of directors to do all of the work in the progress program. It is up to all of the membership, he said, if success is to be attained. He also pointed out that the Chamber is on record as favoring a change in Tecumseh's government from village to city-manager form, and expanding the village limits if necessary, to provide for future growth. He expressed appreciation to Robert H. Moore and Chamber board members for giving unsparingly of their time to the progress program. Mr. Moore has been very active in the subdivision program.

Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber, spoke briefly pointing out some of the things that the village must do if it is to keep pace with its rapid growth. Safety, fire prevention and health programs must be fostered, he pointed out.

Judge G. Arthur Rathbun of the Lenawee circuit court, acted as toastmaster at the banquet and the invocation was by the Rev. Fr. Michael Collins of St. Elizabeth's church.

Music before and during the dinner was furnished by the Tecumseh Products Orchestra, under the direction of Wm. Damon. The TP Broadcasters, a barbershop quartette, also sang several numbers.

The "T-day" celebration got under way here last Friday morning when Products company held "open house" at its plant and more than 3,500 persons inspected the factory. Guides were furnished by the company and the Chamber furnished transportation for those who needed it to the plant. Stores here closed during the afternoon hours.

Indian Cagers Stay In Cellar

TECUMSEH INDIANS LOSE TO ADDISON HIGH BY SCORE OF 43-23 ON FRIDAY

(By Pat Wilson)

Last Friday night, the Tecumseh high school cagers traveled to Addison to fight to stay out of the cellar of the L. C. A. A. However, when the game was over, the Indians were on the low part of a 43-23 score. As a result of that evening's game, the final league standings are as follows:

	W	L
Blissfield	9	1
Hudson	8	2
Clinton	7	3
Morenci	3	7
Addison	2	8
Tecumseh	1	9

Addison took a 12-3 lead in the first quarter and they were never headed afterwards. Playing on Addison's cramped court threw the Indians' game off. The "reffing" brought much unfavorable comment from fans on both sides. Jerry Lee was high for Addison with 11 and Dick Case headed Tecumseh with 9.

Tecumseh's reserve team won another one-sided victory against the Panthers, defeating them 32-11. Tecumseh had a 15-1 lead at the half and were never headed. Lee Phibbs was high for the Indians with 8 and Dick Battes was high for Addison with four. This made the Indians record 10 won and six lost.

Tecumseh had a 11-11 tie in the Junior High game. Jim Wilson was high point for the Indians with six.

Tecumseh's next game is in the district tourney at Adrian. Tecumseh plays the winner of the Hudson-Blissfield game on Friday night.

Non-Partisan News Letter

(Special to The Herald)

Lansing—Don't kick the farmer or the food retailer in the pants in all the current discussions regarding high food prices! They aren't responsible for high food prices.

Who is? Listen to Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc. We heard him recently at a newspaper advertising convention in Chicago. Here is an excerpt worthy of careful consideration today, even though there appears to be some current trend toward lower prices:

"When will food prices come down? When all the elements of cost come down. If we wish to send vast quantities of food to the rest of the world . . . and I assume we do . . . then we must accept the inevitable consequence: scarcity and high prices at home.

"If we wish labor to have high wages and shorter hours, to enjoy a higher standard of living then we must remember that this increases the cost and we must pay for it.

"If we want the government to engage in the multitudinous activities which it now supports, then we must accept that this costs money and means high taxes here, and high taxes mean higher prices. If we want lower prices, the farmer, the manufacturer, the working man, the distributor, the transport industry and the government must put their heads together and see what each is doing, which may be eliminated, what each is charging which may be reduced.

"It is really very simple to figure out why food prices are still comparatively high. The quick answer is that the demand is greater than the supply . . . there are more dollars than there is food. Our own people are bidding for the supply while the whole world is bidding against them. That always makes high prices.

"Another answer is this: Food starts on the farm but before it reaches the homemaker, it passes through many hands and processes. First the manufacturer must buy from the farmers. According to government figures, he had to pay $2.65 in 1947 for farm products that cost him $1 in 1939. He had to pay $1.80 for the same amount of labor which cost him $1 in 1939. At each step the cost of doing business . . . for labor, materials, equipment . . . is up from 75 to 100 per cent."

Are high food prices the result of high profits?

Food manufacturers' profit on the sales dollar was 4.6 cents in 1939, 3.9 cents in 1946, and 3.5 cents in 1947. Retailer profits are smaller, too, amounting to about 1.5 cents on the dollar. If both the manufacturer's and retailer's profits were wiped out on a can of beans, the consumer saving would be six tenths of a cent.

"What's the answer then?" you ask.

"If the American people really want to help themselves and their country," added Mr. Willis, "then they must discard the philosophy of easy work and easy money, and substitute the hard work and hard money philosophy which enabled our forefathers to build this country to its present strength.

"All of the American people . . . industry, press and public . . . are in this thing together. All segment of our economy are responsible in one way or another for present high prices, and all must work together to bring about the adjustment necessary."

The trouble with this advice is that it's too old-fashioned, it's too sensible.

HONORS BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Dorothy Drewyor entertained recently at a bridal shower for Miss Viola Bater, who will be married Easter Sunday to Frank Dashne of Phillips, Wisconsin. Games were played by the guests, which included members of their bowling team, and prizes won by Mrs. Eudene Richardson and Mrs. Grace Marsh. A pink and blue crepe paper umbrella was suspended over the many lovely gifts. Place cards, in the form of sprinkling cans, also served as nut cups, for the table from which a dainty lunch was served.

KROGER MAKES GIFT

Harvey Wilson, local Kroger store manager, has announced that the Kroger Co., today, made its annual contribution to the Red Cross drive, which opened March 1.

The Kroger Co. is happy to be a part of the local Red Cross campaign, which will plan an important part in relieving the suffering of thousands throughout the world, Mr. Wilson said.

A mother with five children boarded a train and gave the conductor so much trouble that he said at the end of the trip, "I wonder why you don't leave half your youngsters at home!"

The mother looked at him morosely and said, "I did."

ROSE BOWL PICTURES ENJOYED BY 150 HERE

Some 150 persons, members of the Rotary, Exchange and other civic clubs and members of the Boy Scouts were entertained at a showing of the Rose Bowl pictures at the high school here on Tuesday evening by Ernest McCoy, assistant coach at the University of Michigan. The pictures were brought to Tecumseh through the efforts of Wade L. Jones.

The Rotary Club adjourned its meeting immediately following dinner at Brees House, that members might attend the showing. Members of the council of the village of Clifton were guests of John R. Zeigler, president of the Club, at the Rotary dinner and at the entertainment at the school.

TALKS TO EXCHANGE

Some 38 members of the Tecumseh Exchange Club were present at the regular dinner meeting of that group, Monday evening, at Brees House. George A. Schumm as guest speaker discussed the subject, "A Bigger or (and) Better Tecumseh-Which?" Yale Shenefield and Jack Carleson, Junior Exchangite, were guests at the meeting.

50,000 Trucks Are Farm Owned

ONE-FOURTH OF ALL TRUCKS OWNED IN MICHIGAN ARE IN THE RURAL AREAS

One-fourth of all the registered trucks in Michigan are on farms according to "Highway Needs in Michigan," the exhaustive survey of this state's roads and streets conducted by the Michigan Highway Study Committee. The report is scheduled for presentation to the Governor and Legislature the first week in February.

In 1947 there were 50,000 trucks on Michigan farms, ten times as many as in 1920. Nine out of 10 farms have a vehicle of some kind; 17 out of 20 have passenger cars and one out of every five have one or more trucks, the report says.

Dependence of the state's farm economy on good highway facilities is emphasized by facts from the report showing the proportion of farm crops that are moved to market by truck. For example, trucks haul about one-third of Michigan's potato crops, nearly half the apples, more than half of the tomatoes, two-thirds of the pears and three-fourths of the peaches and grapes. The entire sugar beet crop is hauled from field to factory by truck, and about half of the sugar is trucked from factory to market the same way.

The trend to trucking is further demonstrated by records of the Detroit stockyards. In 1920, less than four per cent of the livestock was carried to yards by truck, but in 1946 this had jumped to 84 per cent.

The Michigan Highway Study Committee is made up of representatives of highway users, builders, and state, county and municipal agencies. For more than 18 months it has reviewed and approved chapter by chapter the facts and figures relating to Michigan's highway needs as presented by J. P. Buckley, Engineer-Director of the survey.

An officially established joint legislative committee — Senators Haskell L. Nichols, Joseph P. Cloon, William C. Vandenberg, Representatives Emil A. Peltz, John D. C. Kruse and William J. Cleary — also participated in the review of findings.

When completed, the report will be the first impartial, comprehensive study of its kind embracing all classes of roads and streets in Michigan. Objective of the report is to determine minimum basic highway needs to meet today's traffic requirements. Engineers making the study stayed completely away from dream roads for the future to carry jet-propelled vehicles. Their concern was down-to-earth, practical highway facilities needed in Michigan now.

In addition to listing all the physical needs on Michigan thoroughfares to bring them up to date, the survey deals with the development of Michigan's highways, a complete history of highway financing, the characteristics of traffic, the classification of the state's highways, roads and streets according to the traffic they serve, and considerable other information of value both to the road engineer and motorist.

Miss Priscilla Sisson Bride Of Carl E. Brown

Miss Priscilla Jean Sisson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Sisson, and Carl E. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brown of Manchester, exchanged their nuptial vows Wednesday evening, February 25, in the First Baptist church. Rev. B. O. Bashore performed the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock. Lighted tapers in candelabra and pink snapdragons decorated the altar.

As the guests were being seated by Clifford Curran, uncle of the bride, and Eugene Brown, uncle of the bridegroom, Mrs. Kenton Hunt played a program of organ music and accompanied Ernest Harris, great-uncle of the bride, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, approaching the altar on the arm of her father, was lovely in a gown of white taffeta and net, princess style. Her veil fell from a tiara of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses and white gardenias.

Mrs. Max Brandt, the bride's only attendant, wore a lavender taffeta gown styled with bouffant panniers on either side of the full skirt and short puffed sleeves. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow carnations. Harold Brown of Clinton assisted his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for 60 guests from Manchester, Adrian, Clinton and Tecumseh. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Harold Brown and the Misses Evalina Brown, Marcheta Gillespie and Dorothy Schumm assisted with the serving.

The bride's mother wore a street length grey dress with a corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. Nathan Brown wore navy with a corsage of pink camellias.

The couple left on a short trip and are now residing at 421 West Cummins street, Tecumseh. Mrs. Brown, a graduate of Tecumseh high school, is employed in the accounting department of the Tecumseh Products Company. Mr. Brown attended Manchester high school and is also an employee of Tecumseh Products Company.

Making Vitamins and Minerals Do A Real Job For You

Roland Mohr Says:

"We've got the kind of merchandise you can use with confidence"

Vitamins are what are known as the "helper" ingredients.

Their greatest function is to aid in the assimilation of minerals.

For instance it is the Vitamin D and Vitamin A in cod liver oil that acts on the calcium and phosphorous in the system to build the bone structure.

The same is true of vitamins in the matter of shell texture. Without them shells will be thin and weak no matter how much oyster shell or calcium carbonate the birds get.

On the other hand, there must not be too much bulk of Vitamin oils in the feed. Too much makes birds go "off feed."

Hayden's assure high vitamin potency in a small volume of oil, in addition to supplying an abundance of readily assimilable minerals.

These are just a few of the many things Hayden's watch to GIVE YOU THE MOST FOR YOUR FEED DOLLAR.

The Faith of a Family Endures

To enjoy the good in daily lives, the family group has learned the worth of spiritual values and how to benefit by them. Religion and the family go hand in hand through life, as each must practice love and cooperation, and each is bound together by ties that are more than earthly.

To get the most out of life, bring your family to the church of your faith regularly. Your service there is a service to mankind, and the lessons you learn there will benefit your fellow men and women.

Two Answers

The teacher was preparing a class for an exam. "Now," she said, "if you find you cannot remember who wrote 'Farewell to Highlands' think of a policeman in a fire and you will remember Bobby Burns."

Up jumped one bright boy and said "Yes, but how will we know its not Robert Browning?"

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER SIXTEEN TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, MARCH 11, 1948 FIVE CENTS PER COPY

School Bond Election Is Set For March 30th

APPROVAL WOULD MAKE POSSIBLE ACCEPTANCE OF $145,000 GIFT

Legal machinery was set in motion this week to submit to electors of the Tecumseh School District a bonding proposal which, if approved, would make possible the district's acceptance of a gift of $145,000 and assure the building of a new high school here which, in five years, would be debt free.

Briefly, here is the program:

The Board of Education has formally accepted the gift of Ray W. Herrick, Jens Toborg, Frank K. Smith and C. M. Brown of $145,000 to help defray the cost of a new $400,000 school building. The gift has these strings attached: The money is to become available when the qualified electors of the district approve a bond issue sufficient to free the district of debt at the end of five years; and, further, construction of the new building must be started in 1948.

To meet the terms of the gift the Board of Education has fixed Saturday, March 20, as registration day in the district for qualified voters who are not now registered. The hours of registration will be from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Two issues will be submitted to the voters at the election to be held at the Council Building, So. Evans street, on Tuesday, March 30.

The first proposal will be to permit the district to sufficiently exceed the 15-mill limitation clause over a five-year period to retire the proposed bond issue.

The second proposal will be to issue $180,000 in bonds, to be retired over a five-year period.

Any resident of the school district for 20 days prior to the registration date, (March 20), and who has been a resident of the state for six months, is a citizen of the United States and 21 years of age or older is eligible to register and to vote on the proposal to increase the tax limitation clause. He or she need not be a parent, guardian or property owner.

To vote on the proposal to bond the district, the elector must have all of the qualifications of the first voter and, in addition, must own property in the school district which is assessed for school purposes or, the law provides, be the husband or wife of such a property owner.

The $145,000 gift was announced at a "T-Day" banquet, February 27, and the Board of Education has speeded up the voting machinery in an effort to qualify under one of the gift terms, namely, that construcion of the building be started this year. The board believes that if the issues are approved at the March 30 election, ground may be broken for the new school by midsummer or fall.

It was at first believed that a $175,000 bond issue would be sufficent to meet the requirements for the new building. In a conference at Lansing last Friday, however, the tax commission ruled that $5,000 be added to this amount to take care of possible tax delinquencies over the five-year term.

Financing of the building will be done in this way. The district now has an established sinking fund, which will be operative for two more years, which will raise the building purposes approximately $80,000. This amount, plus the gift and the bond issue will meet the construction cost in five years and at the end of that period the district will be without debt.

School officials think that if the building is started this summer that it can be completed for the opening of school in the fall of 1949. Tecumseh's school enrollment of 875 is crowding present buildings far beyond capacity. The public library and St. Peter's parish house are being used this year for classrooms and it is believed that other churches may have to be used next year.

Military Training Is Subject For Debate

Shall the United States adopt the Universal Military Training program was the subject of an interesting debate at the Rotary Club meeting, following dinner at Brees House, Tuesday evening.

Louis S. Schneider acted as the moderator and briefly explained the program as it is being discussed by the Congress. The opposing team was made up of the Revs. Allan Ramsay and B. O. Bashore and Ralph Comfort. Favoring the program were L. W. Larsen, Vance Ogden and Earl Wickwire.

Next week's meeting of Rotary will be at the Tecumseh Grange hall when Rural-Urban night will be observed. The dinner will be served by the ladies of the Grange and each Rotarian will take a farmer friend as his guest.

At a business meeting, Ernest Green, Mel G. Partridge and Ray Sluyter were elected to the Rotary board for three year terms, and Donald Nixon for a one year term to fill vacancy.

Brakeless Car Hits Student

JACQUELINE FRANCIS, 14, TAKEN TO HOSPITAL FOLLOWING M-52 ACCIDENT

Jacqueline Francis, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Francis, suffered body bruises and shock, Tuesday afternoon, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Dorothy Byers, 33, of Rt. 4, Adrian. The girl was removed to Tecumseh Hospital in an ambulance and after treatment was released.

According to state police at Clinton, the accident happened as the girl stepped off the school bus in front of her home, about half way between Tecumseh and Clinton on M-52. The girl was off the bus, the driver had closed the door and was preparing to start when the 1935 car driven by Mrs. Byers approached from the rear. The car, police said, had faulty brakes and Mrs. Byers could not stop. Traffic was approaching on the left and she turned to the right to avoid hitting the bus, striking the child. Both the bus and the car were traveling south.

Police gave Mrs. Byers a summons to appear before Justice Van Duesen at Clinton on March 19 on a reckless driving charge. The Francis girl is a Clinton school student.

Intangible Taxpayers Will Get Assistance

On March 19, Carl Fast, representing the Michigan Department of Revenue will be at United Savings Bank, Tecumseh, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their intangibles tax returns due not later than March 31.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax include all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property. However, all United States bonds, including War Bonds, are exempt from the tax, and the tax on deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as those in Michigan banks, will be paid to the Department of Revenue directly by the banks or building and loan associations.

Under the present law as amended by the Legislature in 1945, all Corporate Stocks are 100% taxable including Michigan Corporations.

The Department has issued a warning to all owners of property, such as is outlined above, to file the necessary return forms prior to March 31. The Revenue Department is constantly engaged in checking stockholders' lists, mortgage records, income tax returns and other data for the purpose of discovering evasions of the Intangibles Tax Act. Failure to file a return when a tax is due subjects the taxpayer to severe penalties.

In addition to assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, Mr. Fast will also be glad to advise any person concerning his liability, if any, under the Intangibles Tax Act.

Those desiring this advice or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including the face or par value, and income received therefrom during the year, and copy of the previous year's return filed with the Department.

Edward Escolme.

The public is urged to attend these instructive and interesting meetings.

Red Cross To Continue Drive

ONLY $321 SUBSCRIBED THUS FAR IN TECUMSEH; 58 MEMBERSHIPS

The Red Cross Campaign for memberships in Tecumseh will continue throughout the month of March and it is hoped that total gifts to the organization will be doubled during the remaining days of the month, Miss Clara Waldron, chairman, said today when she announced that contributions thus far amounted to only $321.

Representatives will be at the United Savings Bank each Friday, Saturday and Monday for the purpose of issuing membership cards, Miss Waldron said. She urged that individual memberships be taken locally.

"No quota has been assigned this year to Tecumseh," Miss Waldron said. "The Red Cross simply is asking that residents contribute as much as they feel that they can, but we would like to have everyone participate." A membership, she said, may be purchased for as little as $1.

Red Cross reports here show that only 58 individuals have contributed thus far, two business organizations have given to the fund, and three clubs have made contributions.

"We realize that the campaign is still new, and that there are many folk here who will give before the end of the month," the chairman said. "Please don't forget," she warned, "because this year there will be no direct solicitation."

Tecumseh Bows To Sugar Cagers

BLISSFIELD, L. C. A. A. CHAMPIONS, FIND INDIAN TEAM EASY VICTIMS

A fighting Tecumseh high school cage squad met the Blissfield Sugarboys last Friday night at the Adrian high school gym in an effort to defeat the latter team in the class C district tournament. Blissfield, L. C. A. A. champions, came out on top 33-26.

At the end of the first half the score was Blissfield 16 and Tecumseh 15; Indian Center Dick Case did a remarkable job of guarding Blissfield's Dick Rodesiler, who picked up only one free throw in the first half.

The third quarter proved to be the winning period for Blissfield when they scored 10 points while holding Tecumseh to two. Starting the final quarter with a score of 26-17 the Indians outscored Blissfield 9 to 7, but were unable to overcome the Sugarboys' third-quarter lead.

Burt Buehrer was high for Blissfield with 14 points and Walt Tuckerman scored eight. For Tecumseh Hop Anderson was high with 10 and Case, center on the all-county second team as determined by Adrian sports writers, scored six points for the losers.

2-Hour Parking Now Permitted

HEADS ON METERS ARE CHANGED; SATURDAY EVENING PARKING IS FREE

New heads have been placed on Tecumseh's 85 parking meters in the downtown area and now two-hour parking at the rate of five cents per hour is permitted, and the parking meters are not in force any evening after 6 p.m., including Saturdays, Wade L. Jones, village clerk, said today. Also, Mr. Jones said, the meters are not in operation on Sundays.

When Tecumseh's meters were installed here, about the first of the year, only one hour parking was permitted and the meters were so constructed that only five pennies or a nickel could be inserted. Business men complained that customers objected to the one-hour limit, as they did to the operation of the meters on Saturday evenings. Last week, a Chamber of Commerce poll was taken and the vote favored a change. The council immediately concurred.

The new meters will permit insertion of 10 pennies or two nickels to receive the maximum two-hour parking time. Likewise, single pennies may be inserted for each 12 minutes of parking up to two hours.

Newspaper Ad Finds Relative 'Lost' 44 Years

Andrew Sekeres came to America from Hungary 44 years ago and for 38 years he never heard from his family in Hungary. For the past six years Mr. Sekeres has lived and worked on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoun, near Holloway. Last Christmas a friend from Detroit sent "Andy" a Hungarian newspaper, published in Detroit, and in it he read an advertisement in the personal column asking information about an Andrew Sekeres who formerly lived in Hungary.

Sekeres wrote to the author of the advertisement and found it was his sister who had been trying for years to find him. He was told that one brother was killed in World War I and that his other brother was killed in the last War from a bomb fragment. He was also told that his father had died and that their home had been burned when the Russians invaded Hungary, but that it had been rebuilt recently. His sister and brother live on the homestead and are engaged in raising grapes.

"Andy", as he is so well known around Holloway, says that he is very happy that he read all of the paper, even to the ads.

Home Talent Show Success

PLAY NETS $300 TO LEGION AUXILIARY; MONEY TO BE USED TO AID CHILDREN

"Fun For You," the home talent show presented by the American Legion Auxiliary last Thursday and Friday nights, in the high school auditorium, netted a total of $300 which will be used by the Unit to aid local children. The show was directed by Caryl Thimsen.

Linda Kay Easton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Easton, and Gary Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell, were crowned queen and king during the children's story hour, Friday evening. Mrs. Ronald Harris as the story lady, made the awards. Other children receiving prizes were "princess" Patty Squires, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Squires; "prince" Douglas Hoffmeister, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Hoffmeister; "duchess" Brenda Gallant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallant; and "duke" Tracy Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Oliver.

Mrs. Yale Kerby, whose name was selected from one of several letters, received the Good, Good Neighbor award from the Rev. B. O. Bashore, playing the role of Tom Brenneman in the Breakfast in Hollywood scene. Mrs. Lucretia Buehler, 87, received a lovely orchid from Mr. Bashore for being the oldest woman present, Friday evening. On Thursday evening Mrs. Bessie Adams was presented with a wishing ring during the Brenneman show.

Another highlight of the Breakfast in Hollywood scene was the awarding of a pair of nylon hose to the lady wearing the "goofiest" hat. Mrs. Joanne Gooding won the hose on Thursday evening and Mrs. Lucy McEnroe on Friday night.

Jack Tonneberger vocalized two numbers and Betty Joyce Miller sang in the patriotic finale. The local "glamour girls" were a hit with the audiences as were the characters of the National Barn dance scene. Silver dollars were awarded by Dr. I. Q. and the girls' chorus were added novelties to the show. A tap-dance number was especially enjoyed.

Prizes for the show were donated by the Kroger Co., C. F. Smith Co., East Side Market, Heidenreich Jewelers, Watkins Dress Shop, Standard Service station, Magdalena's Beauty Shop, Mix and Raymond Co., Sluyter Electric Store, Gamble Store, Flower Shop, Cozy Cafe, E. M. Campbell, J. Artman and the Boston Lunch.

Watkins Named President Here

ONLY 99 VOTES CAST IN VILLAGE ELECTION; PROGRESSIVES ELECTED

Only 99 votes were cast on Monday in the Tecumseh village election and the Progressive Party—the only one in the field—elected all of its candidates.

The newly-chosen officers are: Marvin Watkins, president; Wade L. Jones, clerk; Charles Fay, treasurer; Thomas O'Hara, assessor; Clarence Beach, Bert Ousterhout and Glenn Driscoll, trustees.

The new officers will take their seats at the council table on Monday, April 5. Mr. Watkins will succeed John Truesdale as president. Mr. Truesdale did not seek re-election. Mr. Jones, Mr. O'Hara and Mr. Fay were re-elected. The three members of the council whose terms did not expire with the election are Archie Porter, Charles Mensing and George McCombs. The retiring councilmen are Geo. H. Adamson, B. B. Turu-Bull and S. Henry Smith.

In the balloting on Monday, Mr. Watkins received 78 votes, A. B. Hammond received 11 votes and J. Floyd Elliott one vote for president. The latter two names were written in. For clerk, Mr. Jones received 93 votes, Vesta Rogers one and James Artman two. The latter two names were written in for this office. For treasurer, Mr. Fay received 84 votes and E. H. VanVleet's name was written in by one voter. For assessor, Mr. O'Hara received 83 votes and Mr. Rogers' name was written in by three voters. Mr. Beach received 83 votes, Mr. Ousterhout, 86, and Mr. Driscoll, 85 as trustees.

Clinton Has Upset

In nearby Clinton the voters upset previous predictions and elected O. B. Feldkamp village president by one vote. It was necessary to count the ballot three times before a decision was reached at 1 a.m., Tuesday. Mr. Feldkamp was the candidate of the new Progressive party and he defeated the present incumbent, Harold Gansle, 158 to 157. Two new trustees also were named at Clinton, Paul Hoyt and Glenn Wilson. It was the village's first contested election in more than 20 years.

Herbert Hoenig upset the applecart in Blissfield by defeating Roe Crist for the presidency. Mr. Crist was running for his 15th term. Mr. Hoenig, a merchant, headed the Citizens ticket, which for years had held an unimportant place in Blissfield's politics. This year, however, three of its trustees were swept into office. Voters in Blissfield also favored replacing the present party caucus with a primary election system. The vote was 350 to 70 on the issue.

In the village of Onsted, Raynor Kerr won in the presidential race over James E. Feller by a 48 to 34 margin.

In Deerfield, Jesse Iott was re-elected president against a sticker candidate, Harold Adams. The vote was 41 to 13.

There was no contest in the Britton election and Warren Lewis was named as president; Mrs. Maude Schmid treasurer; Norris Dart, Arthur Carothers and Douglas Fairbanks, trustees; Ernest Palmer, assessor.

Addison elected Albert Decker its new president and Clayton chose W. B. Weatherman to head its government.

"DON'T TRY IT AGAIN"

A letter recently appeared in the Omaha World-Herald which has received national acclaim. It later developed that it had been written by Chester E. Beltz, a fireman who works for the Union Pacific Railroad. Mr. Beltz had long been interested in the cause of safety, partly as a result of the saftey training which he received from the railroad. Here, in part, is his letter, addressed to the unknown driver of a car which was almost struck by a train:

"I don't know who you are, but I do know you were scared to death when you drove your car across directly in front of a speeding passenger train. It was so close that I, in the cab, could see the young girl (your sweetheart, I presume) throw her hands up in front of her face and cringe against you in stark horror.

"If I were that young girl I'd pull away from you, fast. You didn't have good sense, son. You probably say you love her. I wonder. Those we love we try to protect. But not you.

"Wouldn't that have been a nice present to hand your mother — a broken and battered body. And how do you think that we in the cab of that engine would feel. We are human beings too . . .

"You and your girl were one second from Eternity, son.

"I hope you read this and know it means you, and that the girl will, too. Next time you go driving around, stop and look. We don't want to hit you, but we are helpless, as we cannot swerve away from our given rail.

"If I were you, I'd thank God for that split second He granted you.

"I said a prayer for all when I realized you were going across. Perhaps that's what saved us all.

"Now think it over, both of you. And I'll bet you are both still shaking in your shoes. And please, for God's sake, don't try it again."

There's New Glamour in the Way it Goes

TAKE the glamour of its tapered gracefulness for granted, if you will. One glance tells you it's tops.

Take an inside peek at its newly fashioned interiors—and see if you're not dazzled by the luxury that greets your eyes.

But wait—just wait—till you learn what makes this banner beauty run off with the year's high honors on the highway. Dollars to drachmas—you'll fairly itch to get in and GO!

For now your right foot commands a Fireball power plant that's as eager as a panther on the prowl—yet is so quieted in purr and pulse you barely sense its telltale throb.

Now you slip through traffic or light out cross-country as relaxed as a baby with his bottle—in a body that's bountifully big, cozily cushioned, and insulated against the usual noises of traveling.

Now you experience the first scientific system ever devised to shield a car's ride against road noise, shake and the vibration build-up that previously took advantage of an automobile's tendency to play sound box.

Now you ride the washboard roads and cobbles as though they were carpet—thanks to coil springs all around — plus extra - low - pressure tires, carried on Buick's own wider, more stable Safety-Ride rims.

And last but best, if a Roadmaster's your choice, you can enjoy the really effortless driving—in a new kind of drive that not only frees you of gear-shifting, but that doesn't even shift itself!

It's Dynaflow Drive*—a drive that's devoid of all halt, lag and hesitation through all speed ranges—because here, for the first time, the power plant itself does what gears used to do.

Fact is, you'll find the new Buick sparkling with more than a score of new advances — in ten brilliant models that span three series and give you your choice of three wheelbases and four power ratings.

So why dally? Here, certainly, is the dilly of the year for smartness and roominess—for the newest in driving ease and riding relaxation—and for all those basic bounties that are forever Buick's.

Place your order with your dealer now—whether or not you have a car to trade—and hasten the day when you'll reach those motoring heights you hanker for.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

BUICK alone has all these features

Think! How Much Is Your Child's Life Worth?

"How much is your child's life worth to you?"

"Then, surely, you can give up the extra few minutes it will take you to WATCH OUT FOR KIDS on your way to and from work, shopping or the theater."

"This is the time of year when bicycles, baseballs, marbles, jumping ropes, roller skates and kites come out of winter storage, when tiny scarves are flying, when little folk slip on unexpected ice, when little feet run faster at the sound of a robin's song, or sight of sunlight and bursting buds; and childfish hearts are so carefree that they forget to be careful."

"Watch out for the child on the curbing, the crosswalk, on streets or darting out from behind parked cars and buses in residential areas and near neighborhood stores. Use special caution when driving in school zones just before classes are called or just after dismissal. Accidents take more children's lives than any other thing."

That's the way your State Health Department talked today in urging cooperation in the national "Watch Out for Kids" campaign this month.

"Teach your child the right way to cross a street, and give every child the right-of-way for life," it said.

Ben's Bride Gets Chickenhearted

Ben Ryder was mighty proud of his young bride when she offered to care for his new flock of baby chicks. "Just like a mother with her brood," he boasts.

Then came market time for fryers—and the crisis! Sue simply wouldn't let Ben near her chickens with an axe. She'd raised them as babes . . . she'd named them . . . they were her very own!

Ben poured himself a glass of beer, to think things over sensibly. He hated to lose the price on fryers . . . but he figured Sue had put up with his peculiarities, he guessed he could put up with her fondness for the chickens.

So now Ben has the nicest brood of laying hens in town, and from where I sit, one of the most successful marriages, too. All because he "lived-and-let-live"—literally. And whenever he wants fried chicken, he takes his bride over to Andy's Garden Tavern for a crisp wing and a glass of beer.

Babies Know Their Own Appetites, Food Needs Best, Says An Expert

Who knows better when he's hungry — the baby or the clock? Modern child experts believe that most babies will find their own eating pattern if allowed to regulate themselves, says Marguerite Clark. Discussing the problems of child feeding in McCall's for March, she has this to say:

"After 20 years of strict, coercive feeding and a few short experimental years of letting the baby eat when and as he wills, the pediatric pendulum has swung to the center and stopped at the point of natural, common-sense child feeding. The relatively new attitude of 'self demand' — or respecting the child's own eating pattern, is still in a test stage, but from research reports so far made, the idea itself appears to be entirely sound.

"For strong, normal babies, reliance on the child's natural rhythm of feeding, and no restriction on the amount he is allowed to take from bottle or breast, is now considered by the majority of child health authorities to be the most scientific feeding method.

"However, the use of the term 'self-demand' is unfortunate. It brings to mind a sort of despotic behavior on the part of the baby which makes parents reluctant to accept the new technique. So this kind of practical infant feeding is now called the 'self-regulating' method by Dr. C. Anderson Aldrich, author of Babies Are Human Beings, and director of the Rochester Child Health Project at Rochester, Minnesota, where the technique has been tried out for several years.

"In The Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Aldrich has published a report on over 600 self-regulating babies, supervised in a well-baby clinic at Rochester from the time of their dismissal from the hospital to go to their homes until their first birthday. Statistics revealed that feeding intervals varied with the child—two hours, three, four and five hours, four meals a day and three meals a day. However, in the first two months of life a large majority of babies selected an interval of less than four hours for feeding.

"Dr. Aldrich and other modern child specialists agree that it is natural and preferable to feed an infant at its mother's breast. But if this is not possible, artificial feeding with cow's milk is a perfectly adequate alternative. In fact, the only serious objection to properly prepared and administered artificial feeding seems to be that bottle-fed babies are more susceptible to respiratory infections during the second six months of life than are breast-fed babies.

"Dr. Stuart Shelton Stevenson, child health professor at Harvard University, thinks that vitamin A and vitamin C (ascorbic acid) may be the substances that are stored by the breast-fed baby. 'But when the bottle-fed baby receives proper amounts of these vitamins daily, in several divided doses, he thrives well,' Dr. Stevenson said, 'and there is hope that this may lessen his chance of getting a respiratory infection.'

"All doctors now agree that the bottle-fed baby should not be given his meals while lying on a table or bed, or by means of a bottle proper. Instead, the mother should cuddle him in her arms while he is taking his food and thus give him some physical semblance of breast feeding."

We Appreciate Your Generosity-

We would like to take this opportunity to salute four residents of Tecumseh — Mr. Ray W. Herrick, Mr. Jens Touborg, Mr. Frank K. Smith and Mr. C. M. Brown — and to publicly express our appreciation for their generosity to this community.

The gift of $145,000 to the Tecumseh School District by these gentlemen, to make possible the building of a new $400,000 High School here, expresses a fine loyalty to our community; a loyalty which few men have chosen to express through such generous giving.

We realize that Tecumseh must expand its facilities for housing its children of school age. We realize that such a building program is necessary NOW. For these gentlemen to lift $145,000 of the tax load from the shoulders of local residents is, we feel, highly commendable.

To Mr. Herrick, Mr. Touborg, Mr. Smith and Mr. Brown we say "Thank You!" And we sincerely hope that when the issue to bond the district to make possible the construction of the new school reaches the voters that they, too, will express their appreciation by approving the program.

Signed:

Program And Awards At Cub Pack Meeting

Members of Cub Scout Pack 4 enjoyed several reels of comedy film at the regular monthly pack meeting of that group Thursday evening at the Baptist church. The films were shown by Dick Walper assisted by J. J. Walper. Mrs. Hartsell's Den 2 took charge of the opening ceremony and the March theme, Cub Handymen, was announced.

Gale Hooten presented the following awards: Bob cat, Harold Robinson and Vol Spangler; Lion badges, Bill B. Berkhof and Douglas Hooten; gold arrow, James Purkey and Dale Tingley; silver arrow, Doug Hooten; den chief's stars for one year of service, Robert Marsh, Carl Freckelton, Wayne Patton and Duaine Hay. Mrs. Hodges' Den 6 had the closing ceremony. The next pack meeting will be held April 1.

Mrs. Dick Walper entertained the Den mothers at her home Thursday afternoon when plans were made for Cub work in March and April.

WOMEN TO MEET

The Presbyterian Women's Association will meet Wednesday, March 17, at the church, at 8 o'clock p.m. Mrs. Albert Jahn as the leader will present the topic "His Teachings Practiced." Mrs. Frederick Dickinson will lead in devotions. Mrs. Laine Holden is chairman of the hostesses, which group includes Mrs. Jerry Spafford, Mrs. Don Nixon, Mrs. Verdi Skinner, Mrs. Carl Stevens and Mrs. Frank Smith.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

The Baptist Junior League will meet Tuesday evening, March 16, at the home of Mrs. Lyle Grigg with Mrs. Llewellyn Sisson presiding.

Turn discarded items into cash with a Herald classified.

FELLOWSHIP DIVIDED INTO TWO GROUPS

Westminster Fellowship is now meeting in two individual groups, a senior high and a junior high group. Dave Lott and Franklin Rumler led the program in the senior high gorup and Marilyn VanWinkle led the worship service Sunday evening. After the meeting the groups met together to pop corn in the church kitchen. Twenty were present from each group.

Next Sunday night the Stewardship commission will take charge of the senior high meeting. Plans for the Presbytery rally to be held here in the latter part of April or in early May will be discussed.

HOSTESS TO W. S. C. S.

Mrs. Floyd Elliott entertained the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church at her home on South Evans Street Wednesday afternoon. Miss Vie Snedecor spoke on the theme of "Christian Highways in Japan." Mrs. Charles Schoenholtz led in the worship service. Mrs. Mary Brown and Mrs. Jennie Temple were the assisting hostesses.

No New Taxes Sigler's Aim

Lansing—Governor Kim Sigler has re-designed his package for Michigan good government.

Immediate reform is giving way to long-range reform.

Showing a willingness to change his mind when convinced that he can achieve results better by other methods, Sigler now favors the following program which is being shaped for presentation to the state legislature in special session starting next Tuesday (March 16):

1. No new or higher taxes. Michigan taxpayers, the governor feels, are paying enough money today for government public service. The big job is to distribute this money equitably where it is needed. Hence, no new or higher taxes. For example: No increase in the state gasoline tax for additional road building.

2. Remove from the November ballot the legislature-authorized vote on revision of the state constitution by constitutional convention. The governor is convinced that piece-meal revision of the constitution is a more intelligent way. Voters can concentrate their thinking on a few issues at hand, rather than opening the door wide to complete revision through the relatively slow process of a convention.

3. Remove from the November ballot the legislature-authorized vote on repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment. The governor has consistently favored repeal; he still does. However, he is convinced that the time is not ripe for such action. The public must be convinced of its necessity, and the most realistic way to do this is to demonstrate through red-ink financing — deficits, if you please — that the public cannot enjoy state public service (without new or higher taxes) while 76 per cent of the sales tax money is returned to home communities for spending by home government.

4. Four-year tenure of office for all constitutional state and county offices except the state offices of secretary of state and attorney general, both to be filled by appointment by the governor. The first election to be in 1950, a non-presidential campaign year.

5. These elected officials to take office on December 1, instead of January 1, as at present. The new governor, for example, could then ready his legislative program before the legislature meets.

6. An amendment to remove salary limitations from the state constitution.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

The W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Margaret Kidman. Mrs. John Brown led in devotions and was assisted by Mrs. Reuben VanWinkle. A collection of $2 was taken for the Frances Willard Memorial fund and a sunshine offering was also collected. Mrs. Perry Hayden spoke on the subject of narcotics and also told of the characteristics of Frances Willard, organizer of the W. C. T. U., as a young girl. Mrs. Hayden also read a paper entitled "The Uncomparable Christ." The group will meet again Tuesday, April 12.

Russians Fed On Lies About U.S., Enmity Grows, Says Correspondent

The Russians don't think much of us Americans because they have been told nothing but lies by the Department of Agitation and Propaganda, says Richard C. Hottelet, veteran correspondent and commentator, who has traveled widely in Russia. Writing in Redbook Magazine for February he reveals some of the fantastic myths the Russians are being told and explains why Soviet leaders dare not let the truth about us be known.

"Ivan's curiosity is insatiable, and the Department of Agitation and Propaganda takes care of his curiosity. Outside influences are suppressed. No foreign newspaper can be bought in Russia. Nor can any foreign book that has not been censored. The radio is no problem because only a tiny segment of the population has short-wave receivers. Foreign motion pictures are forbidden unless they are Communist propaganda. Any movie showing ordinary, decently dressed people might make a Soviet audience begin to wonder about its own wardrobe or lack of it.

"Getting rid of outside influences and comparisons is the first step. The next is pumping in the propaganda. Basically the line is that life in the USSR is worth fighting and suffering for. The propaganda starts with the children. In the geography textbook of one school, New York is described as partly slum and partly a millionaire's paradise. 'In the very center of New York City,' it says, the unemployed are thrown out of their dwellings and live in old boxes resembling dog kennels. Half-naked and starving, they search in garbage cans for food.'

"The capitalist world, and the United States in particular, is called a kaleidoscope of misery and fear and oppression. Fat monopolists, the 'line' insists, oppress the poor, rig elections, dictate foreign policy, keep prices up by destroying food, bribe and coerce the venal press.

"How much better are things in the Soviet Union, the Soviet papers insist. 'Only in the USSR . . .' runs the refrain. Only in the Soviet Union do workers get medical care and attention; only there is the press really free and are there hope and courage and a future. How is Ivan to know differently?

"'Ivan Ivanovich' has never been given the human story of his allies' war effort, the work and suffering of the people, the gallantry of their fighting men. He has never been told the story of lendlease. Practically no one in Russia knows the part played by capitalist countries in Soviet postwar reconstruction.

"One day the Party line may well be that Russia received no help of any sort from anyone. Moscow already asserts, with the air of unassailable truth, that the Red Army won the war in the west, and then turned east to strike the decisive blow against Japan. Pravda laid it coldly on the line when it ordered teachers at the beginning of the current school year to "fill their students with profound contempt for bowing and scraping before the bourgeois culture of the West.'

"There was no cosmic force that compelled the Kremlin in 1945 to junk world collaboration and to 'surround' the Russian people with a world of howling, bloodthirsty capitalists. It was a coldly calculated policy choice.

"No one knows what goes on in the minds of those strange men of the Politburo. But people who have studied Russia say there were probably two main reasons. The first was power. Marxism dictates that the bourgeois order cannot be eliminated by conversion; it must be destroyed. In order to build up inside Russia the power which would enable her to undertake this destruction, all of Soviet manpower and total resources must be mobilized. The best way to mobilize war-weary men—and Ivan is sick to death of war and privation—is to proclaim and maintain a state of emergency.

"The second reason is totalitarian vested interest. The men who rule Russia have a real stake in the survival of the Soviet dictatorship: they wield unlimited power; they have the position of feudal lords who live well on the work of a poverty-stricken and oppressed people. Under a policy of world security and conciliation there would be no emergency. In short there would be no need for the whole Soviet dictatorship. The men in the Kremlin must turn the world into an enemy both to conquer and to preserve themselves."

3rd 'Cold' Wave Hits Michigan

"The third 'cold' wave is upon us, Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the Bureau of Disease Control, Michigan Department of Health warned Michigan residents today.

"The last cold epidemic of the season usually arrives in Michigan along with the first spring thaw and raw March Winds and whether the month is a Lion or a Lamb, this epidemic is dangerous. These colds may lead to influenza, pneumonia, or mastoid, sinus or tonsil infections. Many critical ailments readily follow in the path of 'sniffles'," he said.

"Take to bed at the first sign of a cold," the epidemiologist advised. "The chances are that in the long run, you'll miss less work, school or play, if you do this."

Dr. Leeder repeated his ten commandments for avoiding colds and their complications placing special emphasis, in this epidemic, on the seventh:

1. Stay away from people having colds. Stay out of crowds during cold epidemics.
2. Avoid articles which may have been freshly sprayed with cold germs or handled by people with colds.
3. Get plenty of rest. Avoid fatigue.
4. Eat well-balanced meals. Drink plenty of water.
5. Wash your hands before eating or handling food.
6. Avoid sitting in over-heated rooms. Avoid chilling.
7. DRESS ACCORDING TO THE WEATHER, and according to the temperature in which you must work. Get some outdoor exercise.
8. Avoid dust, chemical or smoke-laden air. These irritate the throat and make it possible for cold virus to get a start.
9. Go to bed at the first signs of a cold.
10. Avoid self-medication. Call a doctor. Follow his advice.

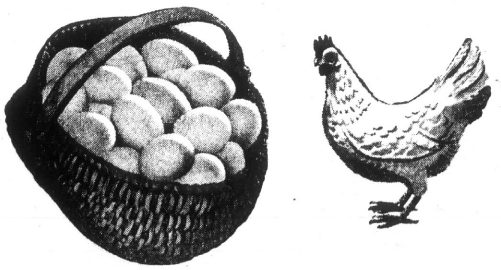
"Egg On" your Chickens



"EGGS HOLDING STEADY"

—Say The Market Reports

Yes, in spite of falling prices in other commodities, eggs have held firm. This is due partly to smaller receipts — 20% less for the past 4 weeks at 237 central western markets, as compared to a year ago.

Egg consumption has been at a high rate — and will increase as meats grow scarcer.

With Hayden's egg mashes $15 a ton lower, the situation is just "made to order" for good egg profits.

Trust in a Mother's Firm Faith

What better pattern can we find in our dealings with our fellow man, the earth over, than that found in a firm faith? One of the finest characteristics of a mother is her great ability to see us through any emergency — to accept all our faults while patiently helping us to eliminate them — to love us deeply and sincerely without losing sight of wherein we have feelings.

This faith is firmly nurtured by the Church, and is another bulwark of our civilization. Our mothers and our Churches work hand in hand for a better world. Join your friends in the Church of your faith tomorrow.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

Governor Kim Sigler, now an avowed candidate for re-election, believes that Michigan must renew its efforts to "sell Michigan."

In a Lincoln Day address at Muskegon, Sigler warned that the state faced industrial and tourist competition from the South. It would pay Michigan people, he said, to be "mindful of that which has made us great."

The South's competition for industry is best illustrated by Florida which has no state income tax, no state sales tax, no tax on homesteads under $5,000 valuation, no state tax and no state bonded debt.

"These fortunate and attractive safeguards will be maintained," observed the Tampa Florida Morning Tribune recently, "because overwhelming public sentiment will prevent the imposition of any new taxes."

The same newspaper points out that Florida had the third greatest increase in individual income in the nation during the period 1940-47 and that its population gain was 18 per cent, exceeded only by 10 states.

Governor Sigler visited Florida prior to his return to Michigan, following a month's rest in the South.

It may be assumed that Governor Sigler, during the 1948 campaign, will express his current views on the subject of taxation.

Dull as this topic traditionally is, it is pertinent to the future of industry in Michigan. Burdensome taxes, levied by a legislature seeking its way out of the sales tax diversion dilemma, could readily speed up the decentralization trend voiced recently by Henry Ford II. Ford thinks the company employs too many people at River Rouge for production efficiency.

One year ago Sigler was opposed to imposition of new taxes. Instead, he favored repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment, an accomplishment now conceded to be very difficult to attain.

The 1947 Bonine-Tripp labor act, a state companion law to the federal Taft-Hartley act, may prove to be a deterrent to industrial migration from Michigan.

If either or both of these laws discourage costly labor strikes and encourage friendly labor-management relations, much will be accomplished. Michigan still has a bad reputation, like Chicago for gangsters, of being the hotbed of labor agitators. People still remember the sitdown strikes in Michigan.

Nature richly endowed Michigan with natural resources, readily transported by water or railroad to be processed into consumer and capital goods. Man can safeguard this blessing by assuring freedom from discriminatory taxes, freedom to work, and freedom of competition. Surely these are among the reasons why Michigan enjoys its present greatness.

HE'S STARTING HIS HERD . . . Youngest bidder at the annual 4-H club—Future Farmers of America sale held at Cary, Ill., was Michael Haverly, 7, of Dundee, Ill., who purchased a Holstein heifer for $150. Michael is shown explaining to Otto Schnering, president of Curtis Candy company, that he bought his calf, which they are admiring, to "start my own herd."

TIPTON

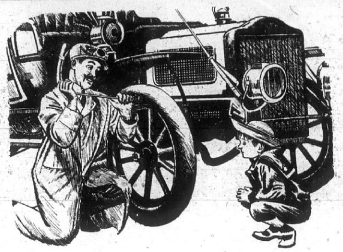
Mrs. Maurice Evans was added to the membership list of the Ladies Aid Society at the regular meeting of that group last week at the home of Mrs. H. J. Mattis. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. A. Hardy in April.

The Franklin Extension Club attended a tea Tuesday as guests of the northwest district extension clubs at the Methodist church in Adrian.

The Franklin Garden Club will meet March 16 at the home of Mrs. Donald Hunt. Mrs. Neoma Wilson, Mrs. T. E. Randall, Mrs. Harold Kohler and Mrs. Eleanor Claus will be the assisting hostesses.

Miss Margaret Hardy was the honor guest at a personal shower Thursday evening when her cousin, Miss Gloria Simmons entertained. Prizes were won by Miss Phyllis Jean Kahle and Mrs. C. A. Hardy, who in turn presented them to the bride-elect. The tables were decorated attractively to carry out the St. Patrick theme and on these a luncheon was served by the hostess.

Wife (to absent-minded husband): Can't I trust you to do anything right? First you sit in the lunch, then you miss the trolley—then you lose the key—and now you've given the tickets to Willie to tear up for confetti.



Pop Really Had Tire Trouble

You may not remember when the old cars had to bounce along on narrow, thin tires. In those days, flats were standard operating procedure among car owners. Let Us Prove To You That Repair Bills Can Be Reduced

How can we reduce auto repair bills, you say, when labor costs wherever you go are about the same, and labor makes up a big percentage of repair costs?

Well, here's the answer: It's true, labor costs are about the same, wherever you go — that is the hourly labor rate. But in our shop we use precision built parts, parts made to fit your car. And we also use factory-designed tools, tools that were made to do the job for which they are used.

Because parts fit easily, and because tools speed up the work, the job is completed quicker and, therefore, fewer hours are needed to finish the task. It's just simple arithmetic, and every day, more and more motorists are finding that it really pays them to bring their cars to us for needed repairs.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER SEVENTEEN | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, MARCH 18, 1948 | FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Register Mar. 20 For Bond Vote

ONLY ABOUT ONE-THIRD OF ELIGIBLE VOTERS ARE NOW REGISTERED HERE

Less than one-third of the eligible voters in Tecumseh School District No. 7 are registered and qualified to vote on Monday, March 29, when the district will decide whether or not it will accept the gift of $145,000 from Ray W. Herrick and his associates, the money to be used to aid in financing the building of a new high school.

Registration lists show that there are approximately 600 registered voters in the district. It is estimated that there are 1,800 or 2,000 eligible voters.

Saturday, next, March 20, has been set as the date for registration in the school district and the offices in the high school will be open from 2 p.m., to 8 p.m., for that purpose.

Voters who are not registered, or those who are not sure whether or not they are registered, should, at that time, check up, so that they will be eligible to vote on March 29.

Persons who are not registered CANNOT VOTE in the election. That is the Michigan law.

At the election a week from next Monday, voters in the Tecumseh school district will decide whether or not they will issue $180,000 in bonds, increase the tax limitation clause for five years, and, with the $80,000 that will accrue in the district's sinking fund, plus the $145,000 gift, build a new $400,000 high school. If the gift is accepted, through the passage of the bond issue, it will mean that the $400,000 building will cost the district only $255,000.

There will be two ballots at the polls on March 30, and not all persons will be eligible to vote both of them. Here is the reason:

On the issue to increase the 15-mill limitation clause, enabling the district to increase its millage rate for a five year period, (the maximum period under law), to make possible retirement of the bonds, any citizen of the United States, who is 21 years of age or older, a resident of the state for six months and of the school district 20 days prior to the election day, is entitled to vote. He or she need not own property, have children in school, or be a parent or guardian.

To vote on the bond issue, electors must have all the the qualifications of the other voter and, in addition, he or she must own property in the district that is assessed for school purposes or be the husband or the wife of such a property owner.

Voting on both issues will be done at the Council Building on South Evans street.

Tecumseh long has felt the need for a new public school building but costs and taxes have delayed the program. At the "T-Day" banquet, held February 27 at the high school, Mr. Herrick announced that he and three of his associates, Jens Tonberg, Frank Smith and C. M. Brown, would give to the district $145,000 in cash to help pay for the cost of the building, on condition that the district approve a bond issue of $180,000, to be retired in five years, and that construction of the building be started this year. This gift immediately reduced the $400,000 program to $255,000, from a taxpayer's standpoint. The difference between the gift and the bond issue, some $80,000, would be made up by money available from an already established sinking fund.

Tecumseh's schools are now overcrowded and the public library and St. Peter's parish house are being used for classrooms. Next year, it is expected other churches must be used to house the students. If the new building program is approved, construction will start immediately and it is hoped that the new building will be in readiness by the opening of the school term in the fall of 1949.

Grange Slaps At High Taxes

RESOLUTION ADOPTED DEPLORES COSTS OF OPERATING FEDERAL GOV'T.

A resolution deploring the high cost of Federal Government and asking for more economy was presented at the Tecumseh Grange by Andrew Skinner at the regular meeting Thursday evening. The petition was signed by those who desired and forwarded to representatives in Congress.

Mills Swick, overseer, presided at the business meeting in the absence of the master. It was announced the men's night school would be conducted at the high school instead of at the hall Tuesday evening. The men's annual banquet will be held at the hall March 31.

A public fish supper will be held at the Grange March 19 and the 4-H club will dance there on Saturday evening, March 20.

Churches Plan Clothes Drive

RESIDENTS ASKED TO TAKE GIFTS TO CHURCH ON EASTER SUNDAY

As announced previously, a community-wide drive for good used clothing for needy people will be held on Easter Sunday in Tecumseh. L. E. Lindsley, chairman of the committee in charge, has been assured the cooperation of Tecumseh churches in sponsoring the project. Members of his committee are Raymond Puffer, Mack Powell, George Schumin, Wilfred Waldron and Glenn Vandenbergh.

Plans call for every person in Tecumseh to attend church and bring to the Easter service the clothing which they set aside for this purpose. Arrangements have been made for a truck from Church World Service to come to Tecumseh and pick up the clothing from each church participating. At the time of going to press, the following churches have indicated their interest and promised to join in the gathering: the Baptist, Episcopal, Friends, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic.

Every citizen of Tecumseh is asked to help a fellow human in need by providing them with some article of clothing or shoes which have reasonable wear remaining.

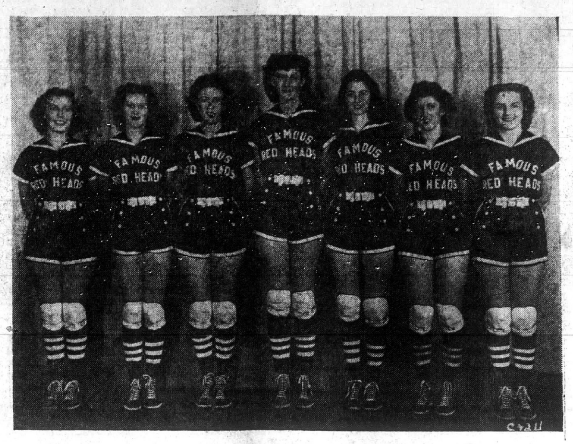
Girls Cage Team To Play Products



All-Girl Team Meets Products

NOVELTY CAGE GAME WILL BE PLAYED AT HIGH SCHOOL GYM NEXT TUESDAY EVE

One of the country's top-flight attractions in basketball will be staged in Tecumseh next Tuesday evening, March 23, when the famous all-American Red Heads, a girls team from Clearmont, Mo., plays the Tecumseh Products Company's team. The contest will be staged at the high school gymnasium.

The girls team, which specializes in male competition only, has had an outstanding record with many of the major teams all over the United States this year. Surely, it will be a novelty to see the girls playing men's rules, competing against a men's team. The girls average six feet in height, and, judging from past records, the Products cagers will do well if they do not finish the contest on the short end of the score.

Admission will be 50c and 75c and after the expenses of the game have been paid any balance will be turned over to the board of the Tecumseh Recreation Center and used for the purchase of lighting equipment at the field for softball.

Boy Scouts Will Hold Honor Court On Monday

Scouts of Troop No. 57 will hold a court of honor next Monday evening at 7:30 in St. Peter's Youth Center. Troop Committeemen, parents and friends are invited. The program will include presentation of awards to scouts, a demonstration of scouting work, sound films and refreshments.

William A. Wright, chairman of the Advancement committee, B. H. Everlove, chairman of the Troop committee, and the Rev. Allan L. Ramsay, acting Scoutmaster will present awards and badges. Assistant Scoutmasters Bill Brown and Charles Manley will assist in the leading of demonstrations. Senior Patrol Leader Tom Everlove will conduct the opening ceremony.

Bashore On The Radio Every Day Next Week

Rev. B. O. Bashore will base his talks on the Passion Week of our Lord when he addresses the radio audience next week on the "Morning Devotions" program over station WABJ (1500). Mr. Bashore will relate the activities of Christ on each day of the week prior to His crucifixion.

Mrs. Lyle Grigg, music chairman, has announced the schedule for those persons furnishing special music for the program next week from Monday to Friday as follows: Monday, Evelyn and Marlys Arnold; Tuesday, Mrs. Murray Day; Wednesday, Tecumseh Grange double quartet, "He is Mine"; Thursday, Mrs. Dow Bilby, "The Holy City"; Friday, Mrs. Harley McConnell, "Were You There".

You Must Be Registered To Vote On School Issues

It is estimated that there are between 1,800 and 2,000 potential voters in Tecumseh School District No. 7 who, if properly registered could cast their ballot in the Special Election, March 30.

Less than one-third, or about 600 of the potential voters, are registered NOW. That means that unless these unregistered voters register THEY WILL LOSE THEIR VOTE on election day. Michigan law forbids voting by unregistered voters.

Saturday, March 20, between 2 p.m., and 8 p.m., is the time set for registration at the offices in Tecumseh High School. No one can register after that time.

Many folk are confused about the registration. Some believe that they are registered. Others don't know. Some don't care. Some think, because they voted in the last village election or township election, that they are eligible to vote. That is NOT TRUE.

The law provides—that there must be a special registration for school voters. Some folk registered last November, others have registered since, hundreds are not registered at all.

Many think that because they are registered for voting in the village or in the township permits them to vote in a school election. That is NOT TRUE. You may be registered with the township clerk and the village clerk and be able to vote in state, county, township and village elections BUT unless you are registered to vote in the school district YOU CANNOT VOTE.

It's important that you find out whether or not you are registered. It's important for this reason:

Actually, voters on March 30 will be deciding whether or not they will accept a gift of $145,000 to the district from Ray W. Herrick and his associates, to help defray the cost of building a new high school.

$145,000 is a lot of money. It's equal to about $40 for every man, woman and child in Tecumseh. It's too much to lose.

Tecumseh, in less than five years, WILL BE FORCED to build a new school building to house its children. It needs such a building NOW. But the normal increase in enrollment will FORCE construction in five years.

There are a couple of IFS in Mr. Herrick's gift proposal. The money will be forthcoming IF the $180,000 bond issue is approved and, IF construction of the school is started this year. IF the bond issue is not approved, and IF construction is not started this year there will be no gift.

This means that IF voters refuse to approve the bond issue and the gift is lost, taxpayers will bear the entire load of building a new school after this year. IF they refuse the bond issue they will be tossing $145,000 over their shoulders.

There are those who believe that the $180,000 bond issue should be retired over a longer period than five years. This cannot be done. Five years is the limit of retirement placed on such issues by the Michigan Legislature.

If Tecumseh is to enjoy the benefits of the $145,000 gift it is imperative that potential voters in the district REGISTER NEXT SATURDAY and vote in the March 30 election.

If you are a potential voter don't shirk your responsibility. Be public spirited and see to it that your neighbors register and vote, too. None of us can afford to lose $145,000.

Reach Half-way Mark In Red Cross Drive

The half-way mark of Tecumseh's unsolicited Red Cross campaign shows a total of $443 contributed. Organizations are responding generously but individual memberships are lagging, Miss Clara Waldron, chairman of the drive, said. Only 105 persons have joined to date.

"Representatives will be stationed at the United Savings Bank Fridays, Saturdays and Mondays for the remainder of the month and it is hoped the people of Tecumseh will respond in their usual public-spirited manner,' she said.

"Baby Sitter," Is Junior Play

COMEDY DRAMA TO BE PRESENTED BY STUDENTS ON APRIL FIRST, SECOND

The Junior class of the Tecumseh High School has chosen the comedy-drama, "The Baby-Sitter," for presentation on April 1 and 2.

The plot deals with one wild evening in the life of attractive Carrie, the world's unluckiest baby-sitter as she struggles with Junior and Lefty, the spoiled darlings of doting parents. "Parents have too much power over people," is the despairing cry of teen-age Bob, her would-be date for the evening. All ends happily however, when Mr. Gordon turns Junior over his knee and paddles him with vigor.

The cast includes Jack Gillen as Bob, Carrie's steady; Alice Everlove as the mother; Bill Martin as the father; Jim Burnett as Junior, the nine-year old demon; Charlotte Miller as Jane with a passion for Botany, including poisonous mushrooms; Martha Hayden as Helen, the elder sister; Pat Hammack, the baby-sitter; Mary Davenport as Eunice, also interested in Bob.

Don Van Camp plays the part of Carl, Helen's date; Dick Kahle does justice to Lefty, Juniors pal and also a holy terror; Zoe Ann Pennington and Jane Hanna, respectively, play Midge and Dot whose specialty is raiding ice boxes; John Cameron and Roberta Holmes enact Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, the too-fond parents of Junior.

"The Baby-Sitter," a new play, will be staged with the permission of The Dramatic Publishing Company in the Tecumseh High School Auditorium at 8:15 p.m., the first two nights of April. Mrs. F. C. Dickinson and Miss Bessie Bortner are directors.

Pre-Easter Service Planned By Friends

"The Cross in Symbol, Song, and Sermon" will be the theme of the evening service to be held at 7:30 p.m. next Sunday at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

The choir will sing "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" and the Men's Chorus will sing "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone." Delpha Cox and Martha Hayden will present a duet number "Bearing His Cross" and Mrs. Amos Wilson will have a special organ selection "The Old Rugged Cross." Russell Comfort, C. M. Powell, Pauline Van Valkenburg, and Naomi Sallows will sing "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross." A solo "Oh, How I Love Him" will be sung by Josephine Powell, to be followed by "Am I a Soldier of the Cross" sung by the choir. The Girls Radio Chorus will sing a special number, and Norma and Marian Comfort will play an instrumental duet "Living for Jesus."

The service will close by the congregation singing "Near the Cross." The various groups that have sung on "The Quaker Gospel Hour" will be heard at this service, and the offering will be used for the Sunday morning broadcasts on "The Quaker Gospel Hour.'

The public is invited to this special pre-Easter service.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The Cleveland Bible College choir will present a program of special music at the Tecumseh Friends Church on the evening of Easter Sunday. A detailed announcement of this program, together with the schedule of other churches to be visited by the choir, will appear in next week's paper.

Conservation Of Soil Vital

SPECIALISTS SPEAK AT ROTARY-FARMER MEETING AT TECUMSEH GRANGE

It is important, not only to the farmer but to the city dweller as well, that more care be given to the soil if the nation is to continue its high standard of living, Louis G. Hall, county agent, declared when he addressed a joint meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary Club and an equal number of farmers who were Rotarians' guests, at the Grange Hall, Tuesday evening. The meeting is an annual affair and was attended by about 100.

Mr. Hall pointed out that soil waste—erosion—annually is making hundreds of thousands of acres of the country's land worthless for crop production. Two and a half acres of land per person, are necessary, he said, to maintain America's present standard of living and, if population increases continue, this figure will be reached in 1970, he declared. At the present time there are three acres per person.

Mr. Hall pointed out that in the past 12 years the number employed in agriculture in Lenawee county has dropped nearly one-fourth, due to improved farming methods. Likewise, he said, farms are becoming larger and the number of individually owned farms in the county has dropped one-half in twelve years. This is because of mechanized equipment.

Lenawee, Mr. Hall said, leads Michigan counties in livestock production, is third in poultry production and eighth in milk production. However, some of the finest purebred cattle in the state are raised here, and some of the highest butterfat tests have been established in the county.

Hall pointed out that Lenawee is taking advantage of the federal program of soil conservation, some 23 farmers making application for such service within the past month.

Leland Brighton, Cambridge supervisor and chairman of the Lenawee Soil Conservation Division, presided at the program, being introduced by LeRoy Titlay. Mr. Brighton pointed out that soil conservation is one of the nation's vital problems, and one, he said, "closest to my heart."

A 30-minute program of motion pictures, showing the effects of soil erosion and methods of halting it, brought the story visually to the audience. Later, one of the district officers of the Conservation department at Jackson showed a number of colored slides and discussed the subject.

The program was preceded by an excellent fried chicken supper, served by the ladies of the Grange.

Later they purchased a farm near Sand Lake where they lived until 1925 when Mr. Boyd retired and they moved to Tecumseh. They lived there until 1943 when they moved to their present home in Onsted.

REGISTER AND VOTE

Saturday, March 20h., should be a red letter day for every body in the Tecumseh School District—a day when every eligible voter who is not now registered should do so and assure himself of the opportunity to cast his ballot in favor of accepting a $145,000 gift toward the building of a new high school here.

If you are not now registered, or if you are not sure whether you are registered, so that you may vote in a school election, be sure to check up on registration day. And, once you register, be sure that you vote 10 days later, March 30, in favor of the issue.

Two proposals will be submitted to the voters at the March 30 election. One will be to make it possible to exceed the 15 mill limitation clause for a five year period, the other to approve a $180,000 bond issue, to be retired in five years.

Any resident of the district for 20 days, of the state six months, and who is a citizen and over 21 years of age may vote on the limitation issue. He or she need not be a parent, guardian, have children in school or be a taxpayer. To vote on the other issue, however, he or she must be a taxpayer, or the husband of wife of taxpayer. Both issues must be approved if either of them are to be of value.

Don't forget this: Tecumseh's schools are crowded far beyond capacity. Tecumseh must have a new school. It needs it NOW.

The proposed new building will cost about $400,000. If the voters approve the $180,000 bond issue, the school can be built at a cost of $255,000 to the taxpayers because of the $145,000 gift from Messrs. Herrick, Touborg, Smith and Brown.

The only strings attached to the gift are that the bond issue be approved and that construction work start this year.

Its very important, then, that every eligible elector register and vote. Its Tecumseh's chance to save itself $145,000 on a new school building.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Keep 'Em Down On the Farm

The other day Pete Swansen's nephew, Bud, allowed as how he was fed up with farm and country life ... and was going to the city where there was a lot more opportunity and excitement.

Some folks might have tried to stop him. But not Pete. He even advanced Bud carfare for the trip ... figured that when he'd had a good look around, he'd come back where he belonged.

And what happened? After seven days of big-town hustle and excitement, Bud was back behind the wheel of a tractor, with color in his cheeks again. And he'd traded the night life of the city for a quiet glass of beer with Dad.

From where I sit, that's how it goes. Try to prevent some one from getting what he thinks he wants—and he'll go on wanting it. But give him his head, and he'll settle for the sensible thing—whether it's country life, or a temperate glass of beer!

Holloway Farm House Is Razed

DWELLING OCCUPIED BY RALPH FULLERTON AND FAMILY SWEPT BY FLAMES

Fire destroyed a house occupied by the Ralph Fullerton family, located two miles south and one and one-half miles west of Holloway, Friday evening. Adrian and Palmyra firemen were able to save the rear wing of the frame dwelling which is owned by Miss Shirley Crane of Kalamazoo.

The fire started around a chimney and was discovered around 12:30 p.m. by Mrs. Fullerton. Neighbors assisted the firemen by bringing water in milk cans and a portable pump on the Adrian truck pumped water from a creek about a half mile from the house.

All the furniture, except that from one upstairs room, was saved. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griesinger and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rapp and daughter live in the house with the Fullertons and their three children.

OCCIDENTAL FARM SOLD

Sale of the so-called Occidental Farm, owned by Harry Bradley of Adrian, to Harry and Murray Day, former owners of the Green Acres Farm, Adrian Road, was announced today by Frank Buck, local real estate man. The Occidental Farm, of some 240 acres, is located a half-mile west of Tecumseh. This is the second time the farm has been sold in two years, Mr. Buck having sold it to Mr. Bradley in 1946.

Barracks Type School Discussed At Clinton

At a recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association in Clinton, a proposed plan for the erection of four barracks at a cost of $15,000 to be used as temporary school buildings to meet immediate needs, was discussed. T. B. Nilsen, school board president, said he believed enough has been said on the reorganization of the Clinton area and that action should be taken at once.

Should the school district approve the proposed consolidation, which would include seven rural districts and Clinton, at a special election, a five mill tax for a sinking fund is probable. At the end of five years the district would then be in a position to consider a new building.

Charles Brake, deputy school superintendent of Wayne county, guest speaker at the meeting, said that the need for new school buildings is being felt all over Michigan. He estimated $300,000,000 worth of buildings are needed immediately in the state.

Products Cagers Lose In Tourney At Dundee

Tecumseh Products Company basketball team was defeated in the finals of the Dundee Invitational Tournament by Ypsilanti 50 to 40 last Saturday night. Ypsilanti had an exceptionally good team, made up of such stars as Wardrop from Michigan, Sampler and Jackson, both Varsity players at Ypsi Normal.

Ypsi built up a 34 to 14 lead the first half, but our boys came back in the second half and picked up 10 of those 20 points. It was an exceptionally good game.

On Wednesday night, Tecumseh Products defeated Ann Arbor, Thursday they defeated Milan, and Friday night Ida, the champions of the Southern Michigan Independent League to get into the finals on Saturday night. These games ended the Tecumseh Products Company regular playing season.

In conclusion refreshments were served. Decorations in keeping with St. Patrick's Day were used.

"EGGS HOLDING STEADY"

—Say The Market Reports

Yes, in spite of falling prices in other commodities, eggs have held firm. This is due partly to smaller receipts — 20% less for the past 4 weeks at 23 central western markets, as compared to a year ago.

Egg consumption has been at a high rate — and will increase as meats grow scarcer.

With Hayden's egg mashes $15 a ton lower, the situation is just "made to order" for good egg profits.

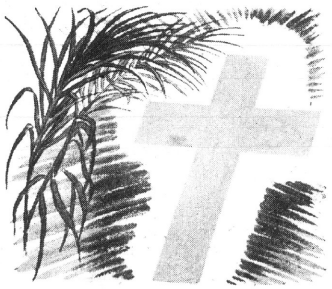
Go To Church On Sunday



Mankind's Ray of Hope

When man-made armies clash on world frontiers, when great nations angrily debate on council floors, when all the world looks to power rather than love for the answer to survival, then we must renew our quest for a life beyond — and let love replace power, let truth replace armies, let charity replace debate. A Higher Being has given us the pattern — it is our job to live by it. Attend the church of your choice regularly.

THE WAY OF DEMOCRACY

Man's Ingenuity Has Conceived Nothing Better

Throughout their history, the American people have met social challenges by voluntary group action which they themselves initiated and controlled. They have rarely sought aid other than that which their own free enterprise has provided.

Today a challenge of great importance to Americans—a challenge disturbing to most, ruinous to many—

BLUE CROSS—A NON-PROFIT PUBLIC SERVICE

Blue Cross offers a voluntary method of pre-paying hospital and surgical care without hardship. It is a non-profit arrangement developed in the public interest by Michigan hospitals and by Michigan's medical profession. It provides a method of cooperation between hospitals, doctors of medicine, and the public—to make good hospital and medical-surgical care available to everyone without financial strain on anyone.

By making a small monthly payment to Blue Cross, members of this plan and their families are entitled to hospital care and doctors' services when they need it without worry about expense. Over 1,200,000 Michigan people have solved this difficult and perplexing problem by adopting Blue Cross. Blue Cross adheres strictly to American principles and practice and to the fundamentals of non-profit operation.

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER EIGHTEEN | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, MARCH 25, 1948 | FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Interest Keen In Local School Election

About 1,200 Registered To Vote Here On Tuesday

Interest is keen in the special school election to be held here next Tuesday, March 30, at which time the district will, if it approves a $180,000 bond issue and increases the millage tax rate, become the recipient of cash gifts totaling $145,000 from Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., and three of his associates, Jens Touborg, Frank Smith and C. M. Brown.

The cash gift and the bonds plus some $80,000 that will accrue in an already established sinking fund, will make possible the erection of a new $400,000 high school here at a cost to taxpayers of only $255,000.

The gift from the Products executives was announced at the T-Day banquet, February 27. The only strings attached are: That the district approve the bond and millage issues, and that construction of the new building be started this year making possible its occupancy in the fall of 1949.

The bond issue MUST, under Michigan law, be retired in five years.

To put the district in a position to accept the gift, voters are asked, at the election next Tuesday, to do two things:

1. To permit a sufficient increase in the millage rate to make possible the retirement of the bonds in the five-year period.

2. To approve the issuance of the bonds.

The millage tax proposal must be approved by a two-thirds majority of the voters. To vote on this issue you must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of the state for at least six months, and of the school district for at least 20 day prior to the election, and be 21 years of age or older. You do NOT need to own property, have children in school or be a parent or a guardian.

To vote on the second proposal, the issuance of the bonds, you must have all of the qualifications of the first voter and in addition be the owner of property in the district that is assessed for school purposes, or be the husband or the wife of such an owner.

Voting will take place in the Council building, South Evans street, and the polls will be open from 2 to 8 p.m.

That interest is keen in the approaching election was evidenced in the registration of voters at the high school last Saturday. On that day, nearly 500 voters qualified themselves to cast their ballots next Tuesday. More than 600 had registered previously, and it is estimated that there are about 1,200 in the district who are eligible to vote. This is about two-thirds of the estimated potential electors in the district.

If the bond and millage issues are approved next week, it is expected that ground for the new school will be broken in June or July and that the new building will be in readiness for the opening of school in the fall of 1949. The new building, (architect's picture will be found on pages 14-15 of this issue) will be located on the east side of the Recreation Center, about two blocks from the present high school.

Favorable action on the bonding prposal is urged by more than a score of business and professional men in letters over their signatures to be found on page 16 of today's Herald. These endorsements point out that Tecumseh must build a new school, and that to deny approval of the bonds at the election Tuesday would mean the refusal of the $145,000 gifts.

"We probably will be forced by the state to build a school within a year or two at the latest," one business man said today. "If we refuse the bond issue on Tuesday, we lose the $145,000 in gifts. Next year or the year after we, as taxpayers, will be forced to pay $400,000 instead of $255,000 for the building. To turn down the issues next week would, in my opinion, be ridiculous. It would be like throwing $145,000 over your shoulder."

School District Voters--

Be sure to read pages 13, 14, 15 and 16 of this issue of The Herald, and bring yourself up to date on the school election issues to be submitted to voters here on Tuesday, March 30.

Pages 13 to 16, inclusive, in this issue are devoted entirely to questions and answers that might arise as a result of the proposed building program.

If you are a voter in the School District, make certain that you read the facts so that you will be informed.

Clothing Drive Set For Sunday

PERSONS ATTENDING CHURCH ON EASTER ARE ASKED TO BRING CONTRIBUTIONS

All Tecumseh churches are cooperating in a community-wide drive for good used clothing and shoes for needy people world-wide and everyone attending church this Easter Sunday will enter in the campaign by bringing their contributions to the church of their faith.

A Church World Service truck will come to Tecumseh to pick up the clothing collected at the Baptist, Episcopal, Friends, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic, Gospel Tabernacle and Lower Light Mission churches. Sweaters, coats, dresses, neckties, trousers, hats and shoes are a few of the many items which are needed. Those bringing shoes should tie the pairs together.

Earl Lindsley, chairman of the drive, is being assisted by Raymond Puffer, Mack Powell, George Schumm, Wilfred Waldron and Glenn VanDenbergh. The committee is asking the cooperation of all Tecumseh folk to attend church on Sunday with an article or more of clothing for someone in need.

Scouts Will Act As Baby Sitters On Election Day

Don't say that you couldn't vote at the school election next Tuesday, March 30, because you had to stay at home with the children.

Girl Scouts of Troop 2, made up of seventh grade girls have the answer to that problem.

They have agreed to act as "baby sitters" for parents who find that they might otherwise have to stay away from the polls, because of the kiddie problem.

Parents who need baby sitters on election day are asked to notify Mrs. Walter Pfaus or Mrs. Jens Touborg and arrangements for one of the Scouts to act in such a capacity will be arranged.

And, what is more—there will be no charge for the service. That will be the girls contribution to community service. They know, too, that Tecumseh needs a new high school.

UNION TO MEET

The Baptist Ladies Union will meet Thursday afternoon, April 1, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jesse Arnold. Mrs. Neil Pearson will give a book review.

FFA Members Meet At Onsted

ORGANIZATIONAL PLANS AND PROMOTIONS DISCUSSED; RADIO PROGRAM LIKELY

Representatives of the Lenawee County Association of Future Farmers of America met Thursday at the Onsted high school. It was decided to organize a softball league for the F. F. A. chapters in Lenawee county and, on the days these games are played, to hold joint meetings, and have picnics or tours.

In order to better acquaint people of Lenawee county with the work and accomplishments of the F. F. A., the possibility of a county radio broadcast was discussed. A motion was made and passed to buy banners for the winning judging teams at the Lenawee county fair and also for the F. F. A. contest winners at the county convention.

The election system was changed to a system based on the state convention method, at which a nominating committee, composed of one member from each school, will nominate all the officers but the president, who will be nominated from the floor.

The Future Farmer program to be held at Michigan State College, June 17 and 18 was discussed. The program consists of judging teams in dairy, poultry, milk products, livestock and farm management contests and it is hoped the Lenawee Association can build up a championship judging team before the contest.

In the future one chapter will give the chapter degree to all other F. F. A. groups in the county. Any chapter wishing to give the degree should notify the county secretary before the next meeting, which will be held at Tecumseh high school April 7, at 8 o'clock p. m. Each school will send a representative along with their officer to assist in the handling of the meeting and to offer suggestions for the improvement of the county organization.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton. Burial was in Ridgeway cemetery.

Lenawee County Is Watching Tecumseh

Today, Tecumseh is on the tip of everybody's tongue in Lenawee County. Its the most talked-about town in Southern Michigan.

The reason that everybody knows about Tecumseh, that its being talked about, is that it has been and is doing things.

And, what is still more, it has a program for the future.

With the eyes of Lenawee County and Michigan upon them, voters of the Tecumseh School District will go to the polls next Tuesday to decide whether or not they will accept a $400,000 school building for $255,000.

We don't know of another school district in all of Michigan that has been offered such an opportunity. We know residents in other school districts who envy Tecumseh because of the gift, but we've yet to discover a district in which four of its residents dug down into their pockets and outright handed their community $145,000 . . . . except Tecumseh.

We can't believe that Tecumseh will do anything but accept the proposal by a overwhelming vote. We can't understand residents who oppose it.

The gift has no strings attached other than these: That a $180,000 bond issue, to make the school debt-free in five years, be approved on March 30, and that actual construction of the building be started this year.

There are some who believe that the bond issue should be retired over a period longer than five years. THAT IS IMPOSSIBLE. Five years is the limit for retirement fixed by Michigan law.

Yes, the eyes of Lenawee County and Michigan will be upon us next Tuesday when we go to the polls to decide whether or not we will accept the gift.

Let's remember that we're being watched. Let's remember that Tecumseh is at the present time making history. Let's remember that our progress is the talk of the state.

Let's get out and vote next Tuesday. Let's show Lenawee County and the State that we appreciate the "breaks" that we're getting . . . and that we know we're getting a new school at a bargain price.

In this issue of The Herald are four pages of space given to an explanation of Tecumseh's future school program. It is published without expense to the School District. It is published for the purpose of giving voters a better understanding of Tecumseh's school needs.

Read every word of the explanation. It will be found on pages 13, 14, 15 and 16 of this issue.

And next Tuesday, vote "YES" on the school building program.

Remember! Lenawee County and Michigan are watching Tecumseh.

Products Cagers Win From Red Heads 30-26

In one of the best athletic novelties to be presented in Tecumseh for some time, the Tecumseh Products Basketball Team defeated the Famous Red Heads, a girl's quintette which has played 125 games this year all over the United States. The score was 30 to 26.

Probably one of the largest crowds ever to attend a basketball game in Tecumseh in recent years was there to enjoy the antics of the girls in playing a rather spectacular game.

Danny Daniels, captain of the Red Heads, put on a very fine shooting exhibition before the game and was sinking long shots from practically any position on the court. Toby McGee, an elongated center, certainly did a grand job at the pivot post. In fact, all of the Products players in their attempts to retrieve the ball from the girls. Everyone had a big time.

LOCAL MAIL BOXES STONED AND DAMAGED

It has been called to the attention of Wiley McCann, the postmaster that United States post office mail boxes located in various parts of the village are being damaged by stones, presumably thrown by children. Also mud, stones, sticks and other debris are deposited in the boxes, thereby damaging the mail. Such action is a federal offense and punishable by fine, jail sentence or both, the post office warned.

SPRING GRASS FIRE

The Tecumseh department answered a call to extinguish a grass fire on the Holloway road, about 10:30 Wednesday morning. There was no damage.

Two Onsted Men Hit-Run Victims

THIRD ONSTED MAN HELD BY OFFICERS FOLLOWING ACCIDENT ON TUESDAY

Clifford Lane 47, and Louis Silstorf, 55, both of Onsted, were killed Tuesday morning when a gasoline delivery truck, driven by Walter Snead of Onsted, Route 1, struck them as they were walking near their parked car one-half mile west of the Onsted school.

The men were hit by the truck at 1:45 a.m. as they were walking on the pavement. The body of Mr. Silstorf, who was killed instantly, was carried 50 feet by the truck. Mr. Lane, found near the point where he was struck, died in Adrian Bixby hospital at 4:05 a.m.

Snead, after hitting the men, drove past the scene twice before going home, stopping the second time. According to a statement made to Prosecuting Attorney Rex B. Martin, Snead said that as he approached he car the two men stepped into the path of his truck. He also said he had visited two taverns that evening. Snead, 33-year-old father of eight children, is being held at the county jail. Trooper Marvin Krans of the Clinton state police post investigated the accident, which was reported by Samuel Wheaton, whose farm is located near the scene of the mishap. Snead was taken into custody at his home.

Mr. Lane is survived by his mother, Mrs. Clifford Augnst, his stepfather, Mr. Aungst, a brother Lonnie and a sister Mrs. Hattie Dant, both of Toledo. The funeral will be held today at 1 p.m. at the Dunn Funeral Home in Onsted with the Rev. F. D. Hague officiating.

Mr. Silstorf is survived by his widow Marie who lives near Onsted, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Silstorf, sr. and a brother, George, all of Adrian. He was an employee of the Tecumseh Products Company. The funeral will be today at 3 p.m. in the Dunn Funeral Home with the Rev. Mr. Hague officiating.

Pat Hammack will play the title role in the comedy-drama "Baby Sitter," to be staged by the Junior class of Tecumseh high school Thursday and Friday nights, April 1 and 2, at 8:15 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Jack Gillen will play opposite her. Mrs. F. C. Dickinson and Miss Bessie Bortner are directing the production.

Pat as Carrie, the baby-sitter, has one wild evening taming Junior, nine-year-old demon played by Jim Burnett, and Lefty, in the form of Dick Kahle. Jack plays the role of Bob, Carrie's steady.

Good Friday To Be Observed

COMMUNITY INVITED TO ATTEND THREE-HOUR WORSHIP AT METHODIST CHURCH

Three-hour services of worship on Good Friday will be held here this year in the Methodist church from 12 to 3 p.m., to which residents of Tecumseh and in this area are invited to attend.

The Rev. Norman MacNaughton, pastor of the church, will have charge of the services which will include hymns, prayers, responsive readings and addresses, in the following order:

"Father, Forgive Them For They Know Not What They Do" and "Today Shalt Thou Be With Me In Paradise" by the Rev. Edward Escolme.

"Woman, Behold Thy Son—Behold Thy Mother", the Rev. Allan Ramsay.

Dr. MacNaughton will speak on "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?"

The Rev. Donald Wilson's subject will be "I Thirst"

"It Is Finished" by the Rev. Allan Ramsay, and the concluding address by the Rev. Blair Bashore entitled "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit".

Worshippers are urged to be present for as much of the service as possible but are welcome to enter and leave the church when they desire. Leon Mix, chairman of the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced all business establishments will be closed from 12 to 3 p.m. for the services.

Roads Hard Hit

Two severe rain storms, one last Friday and the other on Sunday, did untold damage to main and secondary highways in Lenawee county, in some instances so extensive that repairs must wait for many weeks.

The county highway department described the storms as the worst spring rains in this area in many years. Scores of secondary roads were flooded, the bottom literally "dropping out" and making travel impossible. Some rural residents have been practically marooned on their farms, and in other areas farmers have kept busy with tractors pulling motor cars through the heavy mud.

Main trunk lines, too, were hit by the storm and great holes have appeared in some of the pavements. Highway offices said that there are not sufficient markers available to post all of the danger spots.

Friday's storm rode in on a high wind that did severe damage in the western part of the county struck again in Monroe county and spent the worst of its fury in Ohio.

While highway maintenance crews are working steadily, it is estimated that it will be many weeks before all main roads are in a good state of repair, and that it will be still more weeks before secondary roads receive attention.

Churches Here Plan For Easter

SPECIAL SERVICES ARE ANNOUNCED; VESPER PROGRAM AT FRIENDS CHURCH

Special services of worship will be held in the several churches in Tecumseh on Easter Sunday and in the Friends church a vesper program will be presented at 5 o'clock, Easter Sunday afternoon.

On Good Friday the crucifixion of our Lord will be remembered at the Union Good Friday service held this year in the Methodist church.

The young people of the various churches will come together again on Easter Sunday morning at 6:30 in the Baptist church for the annual Sunrise Service, Rev. D. C. Wilson will deliver the message and breakfast will be served in the church dining room at 7:30.

Members and friends of all churches are reminded of the used clothing offering at the Easter services. Good used clothing for overseas distribution will be brought to the churches and deposited in containers. This is a joint action project with the churches of Tecumseh.

Beginning with Palm Sunday service at which nine children were baptized, the Presbyterian church is observing Holy Week with a number of religious services. Tonight at 8 o'clock there will be celebrated the sacrament of holy communion. Included in this service will be an illustrated meditation on "The Institution of the Lord's Supper."

At the Easter morning service new members will be received into the fellowship of the church. The Rev. Donald Wilson will preach on "Grasping the Completeness of Christ."

The choir of Cleveland Bible College will present a program of sacred music at a vesper service to be held at 5 p.m. at the Tecumseh Friends Church on Easter Sunday. Several Michigan young people, including Beppy Escolme of Tecumseh, are members of the choir.

The local Friends church will hold a joint meeting of the church and Sunday School in a special Easter service to be held at 10:30 a.m., on Sunday at which time members of both of these groups will bring in their mite boxes, the contents of which will be added to the building fund. The Friends plans to renew work on the addition to their church as soon as weather conditions permit. Work which was begun on this project last fall had to be suspended awaiting delivery of steel beams. These have since been delivered.

The Quaker Gospel Hour, which has been on the air since November 1946, will present an Easter program at 8:45 a.m. on WABJ. This broadcast is under the direction of the Rev. Edward Escolme.

Easter services at St. Peter's Episcopal church will begin with the Sunrise service of holy communion at 7 a.m. The choir under the direction of T. J. Tonneberger will present several Easter an-

DON'T FAIL TO VOTE

Registered voters in the Tecumseh School District have an obligation to perform next Tuesday, March 30, that should be a genuine pleasure. They will have the opportunity of going to the polls to vote to accept four gifts, totaling $145,000, which will enable the District to build a $400,000 high school at a cost to the taxpayers of only $255,000.

The six figure gift, unparalleled in Tecumseh's history, comes from Messrs Ray Herrick, Jens Touborg, Frank Smith and C. M. Brown, all of them executives at Tecumseh Products Co. The only strings attached to the contribution are that the new school building be started this year, and that the District vote a bond issue of $180,000 which, plus an $80,000 sinking fund already established, will pay for the cost of construction.

Everybody knows that Tecumseh needs school buildings. Present schools are serving nearly twice as many students as they were originally intended to serve, and St. Peter's parish house and the public library have been pressed into service as class rooms. Next year, the local enrollment will grow still more and additional classroom space must be discovered.

If voters accept the gift and approve the bond issue next Tuesday, construction of the new building can be started this summer. That will mean that when school opens in the fall of 1949 the new building will be ready for occupancy. It will be large enough to accommodate another 500 students.

We cannot conceive of voters in the Tecumseh district refusing the gift of $145,000. To do so would be like saying that every man, woman and child in Tecumseh could not use a gift of $40 each. We believe that sentiment strongly favors the passage of the bond issue and increasing the millage limitation for a five year period to retire the bonds.

However, voters cannot pass the issue by staying home next Tuesday and hoping that friends of the proposal will be sufficiently strong to carry it. Every voter should cast his ballot. It is an obligation that he or she owes to his or her community and the children who live here.

thems which will include "Come Holy Hosts" by Browne, "Break Forth Into Joy", Dale, and Schilling's "He Lives Again In Me." Later services will be at 10 a.m. when the children of the Sunday school bring their Lenten mite box offering and at 11:15 a.m. there will be short morning prayer, sermon and holy communion with the choir again presenting music appropriate for the special day.

The Rev. Allan Ramsay and members of the vestry extend a cordial invitation to all people to be present on Easter at the services in St. Peter's church. On Saturday, March 27, and on Easter afternoon, both days at 4 p.m., there will be a service of holy baptism.

Holy communion will be celebrated at the Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock followed by a baptismal service. At the Sunday morning service there will be a reception for the new members. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harley McConnell, will sing two special numbers, "Early To The Garden" and "Were You There." Rev. B. O. Bashore will deliver the sermon "He is Risen."

The Grace Ev. Lutheran church will celebrate holy communion this evening. "Christ's Constraining Love to Ruined Man" will be the subject for Rev. J. deRuiter's sermon for the Good Friday service tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. On Easter Sunday the pastor will base his sermon on the topic "Easter Hope and Joy."

Church school at 10 a.m., on Easter at the Methodist church will be followed at 11 by the regular service. Dr. Norman MacNaughton will use as his subject "Achieving the Resurrection."

Evening Farm School Closes

WEED CONTROL TOPIC FOR FINAL DISCUSSION; SPECIAL MEETING WEDNESDAY

The Farmers Evening School, held weekly at the Grange Hall, completed its regular series of meetings Tuesday evening under the direction of David Locke, agricultural instructor of Tecumseh High School. The final meeting of the school will be next Wednesday evening at the Grange when Jim Hayes of Michigan State College, will be the speaker. Mr. Hayes is a well-known humorist and he will give his lecture on "The Cardboard Cow". Tickets for this meeting may be secured from Milas Swick or Herbert Long.

"Sprays as a Control for Weeds," was the topic discussed at Tuesday's meeting. Mr. Locke told the group that sprays now being used are largely in the experimental stage. Certain types are effective in killing vegetable life and are valuable in the control of weeds in fence rows and along highways that have a habit of spreading to nearby fields. Other sprays are selective in nature and will kill all broadleaf crops or weeds without disturbing such crops as corn and wheat. The full extent of damage caused by these sprays to field crops has not been learned, though it has been proved that blindweed and ragweed and many other weeds troubling corn have been successfully controlled by sprays and a corn crop produced where it otherwise would have been destroyed by weeds. There has been some damage to corn, however, and further tests are needed, the speaker said.

Pre-emergence sprays are now being tried to determine whether weeds can be controlled before the corn emerges from the ground, the hope being that the corn not coming in direct contact with the spray will not be affected. Sugar beets and various other crops are under test in the same way, the group was told.

It is quite possible, the farmers were advised, that some new spray will be developed that will effectively control weeds especially when crops are small and the work of cultivation is slow and costly. Such a spray would cut farm costs materially, it was pointed out.

Tecumseh F. F. A.

The local organization of Future Farmers of America placed second at the regional contest at Hillsdale in public speaking. The Hillsdale Economics Class has invited Herman Dick our representative to give his speech before their high school there. His subject is Farm Co-operatives. Herman has already won a trip through the state of Michigan a guest of the Farm Co-operatives.

Our FFA is represented by Herman Dick and Donald Withrow at the State FFA Convention at Lansing this week.

Our sheep dipping tank is being cleaned and repaired for use this year and will be ready for duty as soon as the weather warms up. Since its construction two years ago over 4000 sheep in the area have been dipped. Many calls are coming in for this service and anyone wanting this work done may write or phone to D. G. Locke, high school agricultural instructor, Tecumseh.

Our FFA is sponsoring a dance at the Grange Hall Saturday evening, April 3. See the committee of FFA boys for tickets. The Agricultural boys are planning to purchase further equipment for their department so they may render further service to the community.

Farmers are invited to use our seed germinating tester to test seeds before planting. So far our tests have shown a rather low germination test for oats and soy beans. We urge you not to take chances on poor seed.

Farmers are invited to use our seed treater for control of oat smut. It consists of a barrel prepared to dust the seed. It takes but a few minutes to use and the control of smut is a good precaution to people growing this crop.

"YOUR TOWN"

If you want to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
For you'd only find what you left behind—
There's nothing that's really new.
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town
It isn't the town—it's YOU.

Real towns are not made of men afraid
Lest somebody else gets ahead.
When everybody works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.
And if while you make your personal stake
Your neighbor may make one too,
You can make a town what you want it to be.
It isn't the town—it's YOU.

Miss Margaret Hardy Bride Of Glenn Tayler

Baskets of spring flowers and tall candles in cathedral candelabra decked the altar of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Tecumseh, for the wedding of Margaret E. Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hardy of Tipton and Glenn O. Taylor, son of Mrs. Inez Taylor and the late Mr. Taylor of Commerce, Oklahoma, at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday, March 17. The Rev. Allan Ramsay officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Margie McQuery of Lansing sang "Because" and "The Pledge." Leon Hampton of Kokomo, Ind., played organ music as the guests were assembling and Jack Tonneberger played the traditional wedding march.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a hoop skirted period gown of white bridal satin. A ruffle of Chantille lace edged the sheer yoke of the fitted bodice and the long tight pointed sleeves were edged with tiers of Chantille rose point lace. Ruffles of the same lace appeared from beneath the scalloped drapes of the voluminous skirt and completely edged the long court train. The French illusion finger tip veil was held in place by a headdress of white satin petals scattered with pearl orange blossoms.

She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and white shattered hyacinth centered with a purple orchid and tied with white satin ribbon. Her only ornament was a diamond penant necklace belonging to her grandmother.

The maid of honor Gloria Simmons, cousin of the bride, was gowned in deep orchid taffeta and net. With this she wore a matching crownless horsehair picture hat with velvet streamers and carried yellow roses.

Bridesmaids, Charlotte Gettius of Adrian and Rosemary Powers of Detroit were in nile green taffeta, with matching mitts and picture hats. They carried bouquets of pink roses. Sandra Simmons of Tipton and Sally Morgan of Plymouth acted as junior bridesmaids and wore floor length gowns of orchid taffeta. Each carried a Calla Lily.

Tiny Becky Lee of Saugatuck was attired in white satin fashioned like those of the junior bridesmaids, and carried the rings on a white prayer book.

Best man was Raynor Hardy, brother of the bride. Robert Kahrie of Cincinnati and Rust Gettius of Adrian served as ushers.

Mrs. Hardy chose a purple crepe, floor length gown trimmed with beads for her daughter's wedding with which she wore a pink flower hat and pink gloves. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for 80 relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hampton furnished music during the serving. The bride's table was beautifully decorated with a white linen cloth with crystal candle holders and iris and carnations surrounding the traditional four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Wanda Hardy, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Vera Driffill were in charge of the bride's table and Mrs. Evelyn Harrison served punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left on a ten day wedding trip to Oklahoma and Kansas during which time they will visit the groom's mother.

Mrs. Taylor wore a coffee beige suit with matching accessories, wearing the orchid from her bouquet. Mrs. Taylor is a graduate of Cottey Junior College of Women and has a B. S. degree from Kansas State College. Mr. Taylor attended Commerce High school and served 4½ years in the armed forces, 2½ years being spent overseas.

Friends were present from Kokomo, Indiana, Lansing, Pinckney, Plymouth and Detroit.

Science Tells Where Men Excell Women- And Vice Versa, Of Course

Are women superior to men or vice versa? That question has been hotly debated over the centuries, and for years leading psychologists, phychiatrists and sociologists have been making exhaustive studies to determine relative differences between the sexes, according to John E. Gibson. Writing in Redbook Magazine for February, he gives science's answer to some of the fundamental issues in the battle:

"The consensus of leading psychological studies is that men definitely excel when it comes to coldly logical thinking. They are also better at making quick decisions, can assess a situation more objectively, and are less likely to have their judgment affected by emotional drive and sentimental prejudices.

Woman does not possess man's objective aggressiveness, and her intellectual activity is directed inward to a far greater extent. She tends to live in her own personal world, where things and events must be highly personalized to have real meaning for her. Her intelligence is directed primarily toward the business of living itself, so that she is able to maintain her mental and emotional balance under conditions which would drive a man to the nearest psychiatrist, or perhaps to suicide. (Three times as many men commit suicide as women.) There is, in fact, evidence that women are able to 'take' the shocks and vicissitudes of life better than men.

"Studies show that although the average woman falls in love as many times as the average man does, she is much more likely to marry without love than he is. Chief reasons given for the loveless marriages: to gain economic security, to bear children, and dread of spinsterhood.

"Again, tests indicate that women find repetition much less monotonous than men—a great many actually enjoy it. A woman, for example, can sit contentedly knitting for hours on end—whereas the average male would be bored silly in no time at all.

"Authorities agree that women have greater physical and emotional vitality, and are more soundly constructed organically.

"The queston as to which sex is happier has been studied exhaustively by the well-known psychiatrist - Dr. David Harold Fink. His findings: Under conditions which are at all favorable to happiness, women have a definitely greater capacity for it than men do. Says Dr. Fink, 'A woman who is happily married and well established in her family and home is much happier and more content than a man who is similarly situated. Men tend to be restless and easily dissatisfied — even when they have everything they want.' On the other hand, Dr. Finks' studies show that when a woman is denied the things basically essential to her happiness, her capacity for unhappiness far exceeds a man's."

STITCH IN TIME—OPERATION PARADOG . . .When a real Arctic rescue must be made there is little time for planning, so the U. S. army is working out its rescue strategy—just in case—through practice maneuvers. Here, a simulated wrecked plane with "survivors" waving wildly in front of it and an "SOS" written in huge letters in the snow marks the objective of the rescue plane in "Operation Paradog" at Goose Bay, Labrador. Following the call for help, dogs are rushed by plane to the scene of the wreckage and there dropped with a parachute, together with a dog driver and a doctor.

Miss Gloria Meyer Weds Ronald Barret

Saturday evening in the Britton Methodist church Miss Gloria Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Davenport of Russell Road, Tecumseh, formerly of Baltimore, Maryland, exchanged vows with Ronald G. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Barrett of Britton. Burning tapers in candelabra formed the setting for the double ring ceremony, read by the Rev. F. B. Clifford at 8 o'clock in the presence of the immediate families.

Mrs. Clifford accompanied Mrs. Edward Kanous when she sang "O Perfect Love."

Mrs. Kanous, church pianist, played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered the church. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a street length dress of pink crepe accented by a corsage of white roses. Miss Mary Davenport of Tipton attended her niece, wearing a grey suit and a corsage of pink roses. Gordon Barrett served his brother as best man.

After the ceremony a reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride attended Tecumseh high school and the bridegroom graduated from Britton high school with the class of 1945. The couple will make their home in Tecumseh.

ONSTED

The Onsted Grange met in the hall Saturday evening for supper. Rev. B. O. Bashore of Tecumseh was the guest speaker. A shower was held for Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bailey, recently married.

Officers for the coming year were elected at the last meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association this year as follows: president, Mrs. James Goodrich; vice president, Mrs. Glen McCaughey; secretary, Mrs. Raynor Kerr; treasurer, Mrs. Freeman Slater. The annual birthday banquet will be held April 21 and tickets may be purchased from any member of the senior class.

We Expect Our Customers To Come Back
That's The Way We Build Our Business

Operating a service garage in a rural community is far different than operating a similar garage in a metropolitan area. In the rural areas, customers MUST come back, if the garage is to be successful.

We've operated our service garage for nearly 20 years and we're happy to say that we have scores and scores of customers whose cars we've serviced all of those years.

Just one thing kept them as our customers — they were satisfied with the work that we did, and they were satisfied with the prices we charged.

If you'd like to join our list of satisfied customers we'd be happy to have you. Come in and discuss your car's ailments with our service department. We'll help you out of your difficulty and, what is more, we'll do it economically, too.

Public Needs Cancer Facts

DOCTOR SAYS HALF OF CANCER DEATHS COULD BE AVOIDED BY EDUCATION

"Half the lives cancer takes in Michigan each year could be saved if facts regarding its diagnosis and treatment, known at this time, were put to full use," Dr. J. K. Altland, commissioner, Michigan Department of Health, said today in announcing an intensified cancer education campaign for April, National Cancer Month.

Dr. Altland said that the Michigan Department of Health, the Michigan State Medical Society, and the Michigan Cancer Society are cooperating in an effort to dispel the misinformation and the attitudes of hopeless fear and shame which have done much to hinder effective cancer control.

He called upon every community organization and club to avail itself of speakers, films, exhibits, and literature regarding cancer through the medical societies, health departments and the cancer societies in order to give true facts to Michigan's people.

"We know now that if it is found early enough, most cancer can be cured, but cancer remains the second cause of death in Michigan and in the nation, and no age, race or locality is free of the disease.

"We must educate our people to have annual physical examinations for the disease even though no symptom is apparent, and to have additional examinations if suspicious symptoms appear.

"Early diagnosis and treatment is the medical profession's major weapon. X-ray, radium and surgery are the accepted treatments," Dr. Altland said.

Cancer, the Commissioner pointed out, is one of the earliest diseases known to man. Its presence was recorded in heiroglyphics in rock three or four thousand years before Christ, and each medical writer of importance since that time has written of it in light of the knowledge, or lack of it, of his time. Much of the information the average person has today is the result of 5,000 years of fallacy and misinformation handed down from generation to generation. Each new scientific fact discovered refutes certain of the old beliefs. The misinformation must be corrected and the true facts given, if cancer control efforts are to succeed.

The Michigan Department of Health has prepared two new pamphlets, "What You Need to Know About Cancer" and "Cancer in Michigan" which are available in any quantity without charge upon request made to the local health department or the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

Non-Partisan News Letter

(Special to The Herald)

Lansing—Should the governor of Michigan have new and additional powers over departments, commissions and bureaus?

Is the governor, as has been recently charged, merely a "glorified clerk"?

Vernon J. Brown of Mason, former lieutenant governor, auditor general and state legislator, does not think so. During his 40 years of public service, half of which was as either a legislator or a state official, Mr. Brown served along with eight different governors in succession.

"There are two distinct theories of government," observes Mr. Brown. "They are in direct opposition one to the other, and one must choose between them.

"First, and the one on which the American way is founded, is government based on the theory that the closer it is kept to the people the better. This implies strong local units and a division of authority and responsibilities so that the manifold duties of administration may be divided among as many capable administrators as may be required. In a state so diversified as Michigan, no individual can hope to attend to everything and no person should be expected to undertake to do so. Neither should he be entrusted with so great responsibilities.

"The opposite theory in government is found at its highest development where Hitlers and Mussolini and Stalins are produced. Under such a government all authority is centered at the top where every decision is made. Everything below must bend either the knee or the neck. There are those in this country who evidently yearn for the power and the obeisance that go along with this last described type of government.

"It is noted that there are certain public officials in Michigan who do not like the Michigan way. They like neither the laws nor the restrictions imposed upon them.

"Most of the restrictions complained of have been imposed and put into effect since the days of Alex Groesbeck. There are some who will recall the primary campaign of 1926 when Groesbeck autocracy was the prime issue. Evidently the people of that day had become tired of Groesbeck bossing. In any event they chose Fred W. Green in preference. And beginning then and continuing until this day there has been a trend in Michigan resulting in sorting out first one function and then another for independent administration, free of interference by the governor and free from partisan politics.

"The first notable example was the establishment of the department of conservation which long had been a political football. The revenue department, the mental hospital group, veterans affairs and several others have followed. Even before this there was the independent highway, the colleges and the university and several lesser boards and commissions.

"It is true that in Michigan the governor has not the power and authority he once had nor has he as much as the governors of some of the other states now have. But this by no means is accidental. It has come about because of a public demand.

"Nevertheless from my observation over the years I have never known of an instance where any commission, bureau, board or other agency has snapped its fingers at the governor or ignored his wishes—except when to do so would have been against good public policy. I have known of instances where certain boards have refused to do the bidding of the governor but in every such instance I can recall, time proved they were correct and not the governor.

"There is a division of authority in Michigan. None will deny that. Making up the list of all the good citizens of Michigan now serving on some eighty-odd such boards appear the names of more than half a thousand good citizens. But let us remember that most of them are serving the people without reward or pay and that each is a man or woman of good repute in his own locality. Moreover each has been selected for his intimate knowledge in the special field served by his particular group. The public receives many thousands of dollars of free service from these board and commission members.

"No such system should be disturbed merely to satisfy the ego of one person or his demand for more power. Governors come and governors go, but government must carry on and that is why most of the boards and commissions of which the present governor now complains were created.

Local Firm to Offer Home Milk and Cream Pasteurizer

SAFGARD PASTEURIZER

Although the pasteurization process was developed many years ago, and is recognized by physicians and bacteriologists as the only absolutely reliable method of removing harmful, disease-carrying bacteria from milk, the benefits of this protection have not been available to a large percentage of our population.

Use of Raw Milk Increases Disease

Stringent health measures have made protection by pasteurization available in the big cities. But until recently, pasteurization equipment has been too expensive to be practical for use in homes. As a result, there has been a constantly increasing number of victims of undulant fever, septic sore throat, tuberculosis, and typhoid fever among families who use raw milk for drinking and cooking purposes.

Now, the introduction of a home pasteurizing unit which combines the scientific accuracy of the big commercial units with a price that will fit family budgets makes it possible for everyone to enjoy the same protection as people who live in large communities.

Safgard Unit Gives Protection

After extensive research and tests, the Guard-It Manufacturing Company of Chicago has developed a 2-gallon "family size" electric milk and cream pasteurizer. Known as the SAFGARD Home Milk and Cream Pasteurizer, it pasteurizes for about 1c a gallon.

The unit operates on an ordinary 110-volt, 50 cycle line, and provides automatic timing and temperature control, and uniform heating, agitation, and cooling features that are comparable to commercial units. Everywhere, it has received an enthusiastic response from health authorities and colleges after being submitted to exhaustive laboratory tests.

E. Chicago Blvd., Tecumseh

Increased employment and population in Tecumseh, in the years immediately following the war, has added a heavy burden on our already crowded schools.

In 1938 the Tecumseh schools were filled to capacity. In the past decade one and one half times as many pupils were crowded into the same school rooms. By 1952 and 1953 facilities will have to be double those now in use.

How Will The New Building Look?

How Will It Be Financed?

How Much Will The School District Save?

How Will The Present School Building Be Used?

How And Why Was The Site Chosen?

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS!

Why Build Now?

1. Tecumseh's rapid growth, in recent years, has overcrowded present facilities. The overflow classes are now housed in St. Peter's Parish House and The Public Library.

2. The Board of Education has received gifts totaling $145,000 but to take advantage of these gifts, construction must be started this year. These gifts provide between one third and one half of the cost of the building.

3. The several new housing projects, now under construction, will place an added burden on our school facilities. New families cannot live in Tecumseh unless schools are provided.

4. Whether building costs increase or decrease, Tecumseh will never build more economically, when the gifts are taken into consideration.

You Will Cast Your Ballot

LISTEN TO THE VOTERS!

The Tecumseh Board of Education has, for a number of years, been giving serious attention to the school plant problem in our community. The steady increase in population in recent years and the rapid expansion which has immediately ahead has remitted in a crisis in our school plant problem which demands an immediate solution. Children are already being housed in the public library building which can no longer be considered safe or adequate. Other, and possibly even less satisfactory facilities, may have to be used next year. Such a condition, it is clearly evident, will soon become intolerable.

The generous offer on the part of public spirited citizens to give $140,000.00 to the school district, provided the electors are willing to bond for the amount which is necessary, means that the estimation of your board, the only solution is the problem. School buildings are going to be needed. We cannot escape this fact. It is in the interest of all, therefore, that we urge favorable action on the issues which are to be presented to the voters at the election which will be held on March 30.

Motorists May Pay More Taxes

GOOD ROADS FEDERATION THINKS FUNDS ARE NEEDED TO IMPROVE HIGHWAYS

Lansing — The average motorist is scheduled to pay an additional two pennies a day in gasoline taxes, if the recommendations of the Michigan Good Roads Federation highway study committee are converted into state laws at the special session of the legislature.

Governor Sigler met with the committee and praised their work fully realizing that hitherto opposed road interests had agreed unanimously not only on methods to provide additional funds for improving roads, but in recommending reforms in administration and for a new, sorely needed classification of roads.

The financial recommendations call for an increase in the gasoline tax by one and three tenths cents to make a total of 4.3 cents. The national average is slightly under five cents. This increase would yield total of $18,200,000.

The committee recommended that passenger car weight tax rates be increased to 50 cents per hundred pounds. This levy was reduced from 55 cents to 35 cents in 1933. The increase would yield $7,800,000.

It was further recommended that commercial vehicle rates be increased by one third (33⅓). Rates on these vehicles were not reduced in 1933. It is estimated that this increase would yield an additional $3,100,000.

The committee is following the principle that purely local roads and streets should be supported in part by local revenues recommended the matching with local funds of the state collected funds offered for local road support. Municipalities are now raising a total of $10,000,000 for local street support which could be devoted to this purpose.

Townships will be offered half the cost of supporting local roads which the committee recommends should be matched by the townships before it becomes available for their local roads. It is estimated that this recommendation also will provide $10,000,000 for road support making a total of $39,100,000 from all sources.

The committee geared its recommendation to the requirements set forth in its recent report "Highway Needs in Michigan" which pointed out that 46 percent of Michigan's highways, roads and streets were unsafe, wasteful of the taxpayers money and obsolete. The report called for an average increase of $51,000,000 in highway revenues during the next 15 years to eliminate these deficiencies.

According to the estimates of future increases in motor car registration and vehicle mileage, an additional $40,800,000 raised in 1948 will grow to an average of 61 millions during the next 15 years.

The administrative recommendations call for improvement in many practices long overdue that relate to the expenditure of state collected road funds. These recommendations are considered vitally necessary by members of the highway study committee. The road classification calls for the establishment of a state trunkline system as now exists with whatever breakdowns the state highway commissioner wishes to make. It calls for primary county road systems made up of not more than 50 per cent of a given county's roads, the remaining to be considered as local roads; and major street systems within municipalities comprised of not more than 50 per cent of the streets, the remainder to be considered local streets.

Governor Sigler signified his intention to include the subject of highways in his message to the legislature.

New $400,000 School Approved

Bond Issue Is Favored By Nearly 10 To 1 Vote

By a vote of nearly 10 to 1, electors in the Tecumseh School District approved the building of a new $400,000 high school here, at a special election on Tuesday.

The program to build the school was "sparked" at the T-Day banquet at the high school, February 27, when Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Company, announced gifts to the District totaling $145,000 on these conditions: That school electors approve a bond issue of $180,000, payable in five years, and that actual construction of the new school be started this year.

The vote here Tuesday makes possible the acceptance of the gifts which will reduce the cost of the new school to the taxpayers to $255,000.

At Tuesday's election, voters received two ballots, one approving the issuance of the bonds, the other to increase the millage rate to make possible their retirement.

On the bond issue, on which issue only property owners could vote, 727 ballots were cast. Of that number, 658 voted yes, 66 voted no, and there were three spoiled ballots.

On the millage rate increase, which required a two-thirds majority for approval, 843 votes were cast. Of that number, 750 voted yes, 86 voted no, and there were seven spoiled ballots.

A total of 843 votes were cast and it was estimated that some 1,200 persons were registered to vote. The polls were open in the council building from 2 to 8 p.m., and ballots were cast at the rate of more than 100 an hour.

W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, said that he believed the overwhelming majority favoring the new school construction set a record in Michigan election history for bond approvals.

Mr. Berkhof said that the next step in the school program, following the board of education's canvass of the votes at a meeting tonight, will be the State Debt Commission's approval of the bond issue. As soon as this has been received the bonds will be prepared and advertised for sale. The next step will be the advertisement for bids for the construction of the school term in September of 1949.

"If everything goes as we have planned," Berkhof said, "the construction contract should be awarded the latter part of June with actual construction starting soon thereafter. The building should be ready for use at the opening of the school term in ptember of 1949."

The new high school, which will accommodate 500 students, will be built immediately east of Recreation Center. It will be paid for in this manner: About $80,000 will come from a sinking fund, already established and operative for two more years; $180,000 from bonds, authorized at Tuesday's election, and $145,000 in gifts from the Tecumseh Products Company, R. W. Herrick, president and his associates, Jens Touborg, Frank Smith and C. M. Brown.

Frost Snaps Water Mains

MILLION GALLONS OF WATER LOST IN VANBUREN-CHICAGO BOULEVARD BREAK

Extensive damage to the village water system, due to breaks in water mains, is being repaired this week by water department employees. The damage is due, according to engineers, to the settling of the frost in the ground, causing cast iron pipes to snap like glass. Thus far, five serious breaks have been reported.

The most serious damage was at the corner of Chicago boulevard and VanBuren street. A main at that intersection snapped last Thursday, causing a loss of about a million gallons of water. Repairs were made on Friday and Saturday and Tuesday night another break occurred at the some location. Water loss the second time, it was said, was not as serious.

Two breaks on South Ottawa street were repaired last week, as was another on East Logan street. Workmen are now repairing a break on North Evans street in the downtown district.

Wade L. Jones, village clerk, said that he still did not know what the cost of making the water main repairs would total. "It is mostly a labor item, but it is slow work," he said. "The pipe has to be cut and a sleeve inserted. There is a lot of digging and in the case of the VanBuren-Chicago break, some tunneling."

It has been several years since the village has experienced difficulty with frost breaks. Five or six years ago, a dozen or more such interruptions were reported.

Phone Company Speeds Service

AUTHORIZES EXPENDITURE OF SOME $50,000 TO STEP-UP ITS EXPANSION

The Michigan Associated Telephone Company has authorized plans for the expenditure of some $50,000 on its plant and equipment here stepping up its service to the community and adding facilities for at least 200 more phones in the southeast and west areas of the village, it was announced today. The first of the two projects will be completed next month and the other will be finished in August, according to Ray W. Herrick, a director of the company.

The first project, which will cost $19,000 includes additional office equipment and provides for the installation of another switchboard position and a chief operator's turret. This will provide an additional 100 local lines and 40 rural lines, as well as for trunking, additional multiple and installation of student training trunks. At the present time there are three positions on the switchboard, two of these being devoted to toll calls and a third to local traffic. When the new position is installed it will greatly speed up the handling of local calls.

The second project provides for the replacing of underground conduit and associated manholes from the central offices to Ottawa street and thence south on Ottawa to Kilbuck. It provides for new underground cables along this route. This underground cable is now in stock here and in Muskegon. Also included in the order is additional pole and aerial cable work.

It was explained at the offices here that when this work is completed some 200 telephones will become available in the southeast and west areas of the village.

Last Saturday, a new toll line to Detroit was set in operation, giving five toll lines between Tecumseh and the Motor City. At present there are two toll lines to Adrian, but it is hoped that this number, too, will be stepped up, probably doubled. Another toll line is scheduled to Ann Arbor and a third to Toledo.

At present there are about 1,200 telephones locally, an increase of 250 in the past three years.

Berkhof Resigns

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS ACCEPTS SIMILAR POSITION IN MT. CLEMENS

William L. Berkhof, superintendent of school here for the past 13 years, today announced his resignation, effective July 1, and his acceptance of a similar position with the public schools at Mt. Clemens. Mr. Berkhof will succeed Wade L. Fast, who is retiring after 28 years as the Mt. Clemens superintendent.

"It is with great regret that we announce our decision to leave the community which we have called home for a period of 13 years," Mr. Berkhof said in making the announcement. "It is our desire, in making this announcement, to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses which have been shown throughout the years, and for the loyal support which has been enjoyed in our work in the schools. Our best wishes, naturally, are extended to those who assume the burden of bringing to completion the building project which has just been approved."

The Mt. Clemens school is much larger than Tecumseh's, with about 3,000 pupils enrolled. There are some 135 teachers and, like Tecumseh, the community faces a school building problem.

"I did not seek the Mt. Clemens job, it was offered to me, and came as a complete surprise," Mr. Berkhof said. It is understood that the local superintendent was recommended for the position by both the University of Michigan and the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

The resignation will be accepted by the board of education here at a meeting this evening. Jens K. Touborg, president, said that he is in contact with the University regarding a successor to Mr. Berkhof but as yet, he said, the position has not been filled.

The Sunrise service at 6:30 was well attended by young people and others in the community. Doris Bilby, president of the Baptist Youth Fellowship, announced the program. SHARING THE WEALTH

Every radical attack on the American economic system is based on the old gag that, under capitalism, "the rich get richer and the poor get children." And every advocate of communism or any other totalitarian system argues that it offers the only road to a division of wealth and a higher standard of living for the masses of people.

One of the best answers to that all-important question was recently given by the Reverend Edward A. Keller, C.S.C., who is director of the bureau of Economic Research of the University of Notre Dame.

Father Keller's study is called, "The National Income and Its Distribution," and is written in language any layman can understand. Here are some facts he has correlated:

First of all, the rich are not getting richer. In 1917, Americans with a personal annual income of $25,000 or more got 7 per cent of the nation's entire income after taxes. By 1928 they were getting 11 per cent. But in the latest year for which complete figures are available, 1944, they got only 1 per cent. Their dollar income was almost $9,000,000,000 in 1928, while it was less than $2,000,000,000 in 1944.

If that is true, where is the money going to? Father Keller answers that also. Americans making under $5,000 a year, the group to which most families belong, have immensely improved their position. They received 87 per cent of our total personal income in 1917, 77 per cent in 1929 — and 90 per cent in 1944. The dollar figures are still more impressive. The under-$5,000 Americans received a total income of $47,000,000,000 in 1917, and $140,000,000,000 in 1944 — a gain if nearly a hundred billions in one generation!

Another catch-phrase is that the owners of industry — the stockholders — get an inordinate share of earnings, while workers don't get enough. Here too the figures tell a remarkable story. In the 17 years from 1929 to 1946, national income rose 93 per cent. But corporate dividends went down 14 per cent! As Father Keller puts it, "Taking our economy as a whole . . . the main item of cost of production of all goods and services is labor cost (90 per cent), while cost for the use of tools is a relatively minor cost (6 per cent)."

Capitalism gives more people benefits than any other system. Capitalism is the only system which makes possible maximum economic progress with the largest possible degree of personal liberty for all Americans can well be proud of their capitalistic system. Most of the "isms" seek to live off of it while working to destroy it—then what would they have to divide. Nothing but their own poverty until new capital could be saved.

ROLAND MOHR

"Let's Talk About

SMART FEEDING"

"It seems to me that there's been too much talk about SAVING FEED. Too much livestock has been liquidated on this account.

"Feed saving should not be just a matter of locking up the corn cribs and grain bins and living on corn bread and muffins.

"SMART FEEDING should replace mere feed saving. Making better use of the feed you have and stick more or less to your regular production program.

"With increased prices ahead for livestock and poultry, there are a lot of folks who'll wish they had 'stayed put' instead of concentrating so much on grain farming.

"Drop in, and let's discuss this matter of 'smart feeding'. Maybe we have some ideas that will show you some good profit."

HOWDY FOLKS: Other night when I went to the house for supper, the wife told me that she made a cake today, but the dog ate it.

And I nearly got killed when I told her not to worry, because we could get a new dog.

My helper told me his gal would be a wonderful dancer except for two things — her big feet!

Fellow at the station the other night told me he'd rather kiss his wife than eat — not because she was so beautiful, but because she was such a lousy cook.

My cousin in the city is always telling people where to get off — he's a conductor on the street car.

It's no joke, folks! We like to take care of your car for you, and see that it runs properly, and gives you best performance. Bring it in regularly for complete checkups and enjoy better and more motoring pleasure.

Plan July 4th Celebration

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO SPONSOR HOMECOMING WITH FIREWORKS DISPLAY

A homecoming and Fourth of July celebration, including such features as a balloon ascension, a $1,000 display of fireworks, a parade of 10 or 12 high school bands plus a baseball game, a carnival with rides and concessions, and dozens of other attractions, will be staged here on Monday, July 5, because the holiday this year falls on Sunday, it was announced today following a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Wade L. Jones was named as general chairman of the affair and he will be assisted by a committee made up of Leon Mix, Leon Williamson, Carl Baldwin, Harold Green and Clarence Gilman.

"It has been several years since Tecumseh staged a homecoming and Fourth of July party," Mr. Jones said, "and this year we plan to make our celebration outstanding. At previous homecoming we have attracted 10,000 people, and this year we hope to exceed previous records."

Jones said that it was a bit early to announce all of the plans for the affair but he said that committees will begin work immediately to assure the day's success.

The Chamber board held a busy session, Tuesday evening. It named W. J. Bruce, L. W. Larsen and Glen Kohler as members of a publicity committee; Fay Whelan, Wm. Beardsley and Don Martin as members of an agriculture committee; P. C. Satterthwaite, Robert French and Wiley McCann as members of a post office committee; B. G. Ousterhout, Gene Pangle and LeRoy Titley as members of a fire prevention committee, and Archie Porter, Jerry Spafford and Vic Kerby as members of a safety committee.

Authorization for a retail division of the Chamber was granted and Leon Mix, chairman of the retail committee, will sit with the board of directors. Earl L. Wickware was named as the Chamber's national councilor to the U. S. Chamber.

State Boasts Of Youth Camps

MICHIGAN IS SECOND IN THE UNION IN THE NUMBER OF PRIVATE CAMPS

Before many weeks the 1948 camping season in Michigan will be in full swing. Boys' and Girls' Camp Week in Michigan, sponsored by The American Camping Association, serves to remind parents and youngsters of that fact and urge them to make their camp reservations at an early date.

Michigan boasts the second largest number of camps for boys and girls of any state in the Union, with more than 350. A large percentage of these are affiliated with the Michigan Camping Association, a division of the national association. This organization stresses ten points and constantly strives to raise the standards of the camps which comprise its membership. The ten points are:

Health and safety, physical training, good citizenship training, broad opportunity for personal contacts, a strong program of outdoor activities, incentives for progressing in skill and knowledge, adequate nature and religious training, development of leadership, promoting a pleasing camp atmosphere, and memberships in the association.

"When parents are investigating camps and deciding where to send their youngsters, if they will satisfy themselves that the camp program which adequately emphasizes each of these ten points, they may be sure that their children will receive well-rounded training, and enjoy a safe, happy and busy time while at camp," said Stanley Michaels, public relations chairman of the Michigan Camping Association.

"Camping in Michigan has come to be quite a business," he continued, "with upwards of 200,000 boys and girls attending camps in Michigan each summer. Almost half of them come here from other states. These boys and girls are supervised by about 9,000 counselors and camp staff members, and they are visited by more than 100,000 parents. It costs about $4,000,000 a year to operate the more than 300 camps in Michigan."

Builders Plan 100 New Houses

VAN CAMP & RILEY SEE ACTIVE YEAR AHEAD IN LOCAL HOUSING PROGRAM

An active year in Tecumseh's effort to relieve the housing shortage was forecast today by Hubert VanCamp, a member of the firm of VanCamp & Riley, local builders, when he announced that his company planned the construction of from 100 to 125 new houses here this year. Most of the houses, he said, will be in the $7,000-$8,000 price range, and will represent a total investment of more than three quarters of a million dollars.

At the present time the VanCamp & Riley organizaion is building houses in Moores' First Addition to Indian Acres on West Brown street, west of Union street. Six houses are under construction there at the present time and plans call for the immediate building of 10 more. These are four and six room dwellings, frame construction and in the $7,200-$8,000 price range.

"Of course," Mr. VanCamp said, "if purchasers want a different type or style of house, we will be glad to build them for them. However, after a house once is started, it is difficult to change the plan. But where orders are received in advance of the building, that is different.

Four of the six houses in the area are now framed in and two more will be framed this week. Then the builders will start immediately on more of the new houses.

There are about 80 lots still remaining to be developed in the subdivision.

The VanCamp & Riley firm has been active in Tecumseh's building program since the end of the war and Mr. VanCamp sees 1948 as one of the most progressive years.

Asks Michener's Aid For School

CHELSEA PETITIONS URGE THAT HE VOTE FOR HELP FOR EDUCATION

Washington, D. C.—Two hundred and thirty citizens of Chelsea, Mich., today submitted to Congressman Earl C. Michener, of the Second District, Michigan, a petition urging his support of the pending house bill which provides federal aid for education. The bill has not yet been reported to the House by the Committee on Education and Labor.

The petition stated that "We are confident that the merits of this legislation are such that it will win the endorsement of all patriotic and conscientious legislators. The funds involved would be most meaningful to the schools, which are molding our future American citizenship, and therefore passage of the bill by the 80th Congress seems to us to be mandatory.

"One of our greatest problems today is the low educational standard in the poorer states and in the poorer districts of every state. These conditions retard our whole educational progress as a nation. If equalization on a national scale can be applied to highway building, to agricultural support, to defense, and to conservation, the same principle can be applied to education."

The house and senate federal aid bills vary slightly, but are identical in principle and purpose. They would apportion money among the individual states on the basis of their relative need, ability, and effort, while preserving every element of state control of the schools.

The school crisis in the nation has continued unabated. Because of the rise in cost of operation, the schools have less purchasing power than they had before the last war. All recent surveys indicate that a federal aid program is the only immediate means of meeting the nation's educational emergency and providing a minimum educational opportunity for every school-age child.

CAPITAL AND THE MASSES

In one of his Newsweek columns, Henry Hazlitt called attention to the "striking similarity" between one of the statements in the Communist Manifetso, which was published a century ago, and a sentence from the second annual report of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The Manifesto argues that accumulations of capital increase "the burden of labor" and "force wages down almost everywhere." The Economic Advisers, writing a hundred years later, say, "The accumulations of capital over the years have in fact involved deprivations of the rank-and-file worker."

Further quotations from the report also indicate that the Economic Advisers are definiely distrustful of the free enterprise system. They state that the cream of American industrial production has "in large measure gone o the relatively few," and that the rest of us have been "subsisting on skimmed milk." And they also observe that "the small number of well-to-do will not be able to absorb the possible output of consumers' goods."

If all that is true, it is obvious that the great masses of Americans are being cruelly exploited. But substantiating the doctrine with facts would prove to be an extremely difficult undertaking. As a number of objective surveys have shown, the percentage of our national income received by people of modest means—that is, in the under-$5,000 a year bracket—has been steadily increasing, while the percentage going to people of large means—$25,000 and up—has been steadily decreasing. Equally important, the expenditure of American business for the services of labor—for the people who use the tools—has tremendously increased. At the same time, the expenditure for dividends—to the people who own the tools—has actually decreased. As Mr. Hazlitt puts it, the effect of invested capital "has been enormously to increase the quantity and improve the quality of the tools at the disposal of the worker, enormously to increase his productivity, and hence enormously to increase his wages and the goods available for all of us as consumers."

How do workers fare in nations where accumulations of capital are not permitted, save in the name of the state? The Soviet Union, of course, is the principal example of that kind of economic system. It has vast resources—but the standard of living of its people is one of the lowest in the world. No other nation has carried ruthless exploitations of the masses to greater lengths. Capitalism, on the other hand has given the average American a standard of living unapproached on earth—and it has given him maximum freedom with it.

HOWDY FOLKS: Heard a new one the other day about the bridegroom who got nervous at the altar. He asked the preacher if it is time to "cuss" the bride yet.

She: "I maintain that sheep are stupidest creatures living."

He: "Yes, my lamb."

It's NO. 1 on the "It" Parade

It's much the same way with cars as with people.

Some "have it" – some don't.

Some you go for, all out – without quite being able to lay a finger on why. And those – well, they usually become your firmest friends.

What is it that makes so many good folks say this trim honey's "got it"? Good looks? One has to admit it's nice to ride in a car that is unmistakably itself and not just a slightly modified version of something else.

Size, weight? Well, the polls tell us it's a pretty important factor since, if you like an automobile that does things, there just is no substitute for brawn and solid substance.

Power? Naturally. You can't sit long behind this big Fireball straight-eight without falling for it plenty hard.

Handling? Ride? Room? They all have their avid fans among Buick owners. Especially now with a completely new kind of engine mounting ironing out vibration build-up as never before, and in this Convertible model, with automatic top, door-window and front-seat adjustment.

Is it the wonderful new Dynaflow Drive* that's causing so much talk?

In ROADMASTER models that is certainly a big factor. You'll never know how silky smooth a drive can be – what fluent new ease there is to all your going – till you drive the car where liquid replaces both the clutch and first, second and high gears.

But as nearly as we can find out – and we talk to a lot of people – it isn't any one thing that puts Buick at the top of the "it" parade. It's the over-all richness of this honey in all the things you've dreamed of finding wrapped in an automobile.

Ask any friend who drives a Buick – then see your dealer and get a firm order in, with or without a car to trade.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

The bride's mother wore a light gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Merritt, the bridegroom's mother, wore a suit of dusty rose with dark brown accessories. Her flowers were yellow roses.

The bride, a graduate of Clinton high school, is employed at the Clinton Machine Company. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Clinton, attended Iowa State College, Western Michigan College of Education and served in the navy. Mr. Merritt is now attending the University of Michigan.

Upon their return from a trip through the southern states, the couple will reside in Clinton.

MAPLE SAP FLOW LIKELY TO BE SLOW

Because of lack of freezing weather, the sap flow is slow and may result in a small maple syrup crop, according to reports coming to the State Department of Agriculture. This, according to Miles A. Nelson, Chief of the Bureau of Marketing & Enforcement, stimulates interest in having imitation syrups made from sugar, placed on the market. Already one party has been apprehended in Detroit who advertised for sale Vermont-flavoured maple syrup for $3.75 to $4.00 per gallon. Upon investigation by a department inspector, and according to testimony, the syrup was found to have been made from standard sugar and flavored with a maple syrup concentrate.

Go To Church On Sunday

Light For A Dark World

When the boundaries of nations change, and men talk of war and power and greed, there is one unshakable part of our lives which remains unchanged — our belief in a Greater Being who teaches us love of our fellow man. This week, we ask you to renew that belief by attending the Church of your choice — and rededicate yourself to a creed of love and truth on Earth.
